President Curtis W. Tarr welcomed Lawrence's new freshman class to campus. In his speech, Tarr emphasized the challenges and rewards of university life. He told the freshmen that "no one here wants you to fail," and "if a student can't learn to think for himself, he can't become an independent person."

"The college exists," Tarr said, "to provide an environment in which the student can learn to become a thoughtful, responsible, independent person.

In order to become self-sufficient, a student must be given the opportunity to make his own decisions," Tarr said.

Opportunity to Decide

"Too often students think that because we don't tell them what to do, we are not concerned," Tarr observed. He noted, however, "because of our concern, we leave them the opportunity to decide."

"If a student can't learn to think for himself, he can't become an independent thinker. His education must be an extension of his own convictions and his own beliefs."

"What should your resolve be?" he asked the freshmen. "High. Accept standards appropriate to yourself. Why limit yourself by shallow goals?"

Convention to Hear Tarr and Governor

President Curtis W. Tarr will join Chief Justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court Harold Hal­lois and Governor Warren P. Knowles in addressing the convention of the Wisconsin County Bar Association to be head­quarted at the Coway Hotel Monday through Wednesday. The Appleton Post-Crescent reported this week.

Tarr, who heads the gov­ernor's powerful and prestigious "blue ribbon committee" currently studying local government and distribution of state tax rebates, will address the group after a banquet Tuesday evening.

Knowles, a Republican senator reelected against Democratic At­torney General Breon LaFol­lette in the November election, will address the convention ear­lier Tuesday.

The largest freshman class in Lawrence's entire 121-year history arrived on the Lawrence campus, even though the enrollmentConvocation will be held at 11:10 on Tuesday, September 20, in the chapel.

Class of '72 is L.U.'s Largest; Canterbury New Admission Head

The largest freshman class in Lawrence's entire 121-year history arrived on the campus Wednesday as a result of a two-day orientation period before classes begin next Monday. The 423 members of the Class of 1972 plus 22 transfer student bring the total new enrollment to 445.

Several factors contribute to the increase. This full more dormitory accommodations are available as a result of the gradu­ation last June of a large sen­ior class and 40 students are participating in the recently institut­ed off-campus living program. Off-campus living program students have attracted approximately 40 students to the Lawrence study center at Bemidji, Germany, and a class are participating in Associated Colleges of the Mid­west program.

Tarr told the freshmen that the increase in enrollment is based on the fact that every student accepted can graduate, "of a different character, to appear in ability and of a different character, to appear in ability and character, appear to be in ability much like those at Western Reserve University."

The dean explained that the freshmen students, while of a different character, appear in ability much like those at Western Reserve University. Lawrence compared to the post of Dean of Lawrence and Dower. Colleges. Lawrence may also expect a new Publicity Director to replace Miss Margarette Schuman.

DEAN CANTERBURY TALUS

Dean Canterbury Talus was formerly associate director of admissions at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio. That univer­sity was formed last year by fed­eral action and the administration of Case Institute of Tech­nology and Western Reserve Uni­versity.

A graduate of Hoben Academy in Maine, he holds the B.A. from Western Reserve.

His new faculty members and their respective departments in­clude: John C. Palmisano and Joseph J. Kukla, geology; John A. Hildand and John R. Brandesberger, physics; Mark L. Dintenfass and Glending R. Olson, English; Marc M. Graetsch, Frob. Ternes, German; Leonard L. Thompson, religion; Stanley G. Gerber, psychology. Joe H. Marshel, philosophy; Leslie Wear, Sager, biology; Freda Mac Huf­fler, reference librarian. Capt. William D. Hicks, USAF and Capt. Marc Bradford Levey, USAF, joint chiefs of staff. Joining the teaching staff in the Conservatory of Music will be: Caroline Mahon Brandesberger, lecturer; Ruth F. Ackerman, lecturer in music; and Kathleen Harris, who joined the faculty on October 1, 1968. The dean wishes to announce that at­tendance at Tuesday's Music Convocation on September 24 will be required. The convocation will be at 11:10 on Tuesday, September 14, in the chapel.

Theatre Announces Fall, Winter Plays

Tennessee Williams' "Camino Real," produced on Broadway in 1953, will be the theatre's first term production announced so far. Directed by F. Theodore Chock, professor of the arts and drama, the play will stage the production. Featured in Williams' play will be professional actors including Bill Munchow, who will stage the role of Gutman.

Joining the theatre department staff in January will be Monpc Keelaklian, New York director and designer, who will stage the second term production of "Camino Real". Keelaklian, currently devoting a show at Baltimore's Arena Theatre, has directed for many professional and university theatres including the Theatre Guild American Repertory Company, Cincinnati's Playhouse in the Park, and the Princeton University Players.

The new demonstration policy formulated by an LUCC committee, headed by John Dreher, associate professor of philosophy, and passed by the governing group in May was vetoed by president Curtis W. Tarr. The Lawrentian learned this week.

LUCC plans to take up the issue again this fall, and informed sources are optimistic that a compromise will be the key card doors in women's dormitories which would make possible implementation of the plan possible.

Although neither Tarr nor the frat council can exercise their veto power over LUCC passage of the no hours for upper-class women proposal, a letter from Dean of Women Mary Morton sent in Lawrence women this summer in hopes of making a compromise between the Council's position and Tarr's can be worked out.

Some Lawrentians will be viewing this tranquil scene for the last time this year. Others still have the adventure of discovering the magic mile ahead of them. In either case, College Avenue promises to be as exciting and entertaining as ever.

Competition For Fulbrights To Be Tougher This Year

The competition for United States government grants for graduate study or research, or for study and professional training in the creative and performing arts abroad in 1969-70, is nearing its close. Congressional funding for Department of State grants in Fiscal Year 1969—July 1, 1968—June 30, 1969—is substantially below last year’s total. It is not possible, therefore, to assure candidates of the availability for all countries of the grants shown in the printed announcements already issued. Reductions must be applied most heavily in the categories of grants for Americans to go overseas because of the desire of the government to reduce travel overseas at this time. Competition for such grants will, therefore, be all the keener. The number of 1968-70 grants for Americans may, on the average, be reduced as much as two-thirds from the preceding year.

The awards are available as part of the educational and cultural exchange program of the U.S. Department of State. The general purpose of the program, administered by the Institute of International Education, is to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and those of other countries. Application forms and detailed information for students currently enrolled at Lawrence may be obtained from campus Fulbright Program Advisor, Marshall R. Hulbert, Deans' Office. The deadline for filing applications on this campus is October 30, 1968.

With competition greatly increased, only candidates who fully meet eligibility requirements and other selection criteria will be considered. Applicants must be U.S. citizens at the time of application, must generally be proficient in the language of the host country, and, except where noted below, must have a bachelor’s degree or its equivalent by the beginning day of the grant. Students who already hold the doctoral degree are not eligible to apply. Preference will be given to candidates who have had no previous extended study or residence abroad and who are under 35 years of age. Selections will be made on the basis of academic and/or professional record, the feasibility of the applicant’s proposed study plan, his personal qualifications, and evidence that his selection for a grant would help to advance the aims of the program.

Two 1968 Lawrence graduates, Sally Dicker and Sandra Storer, were awarded Fulbright scholarships last year. The awards brought Lawrence’s total list of winners to 45 since the inception of the plan in the late 1940’s.

Marshall Grants

In addition to administering the Fulbright program on campus, Hulbert’s office also has information concerning Britain’s Marshall Scholarships, 25 grants of about 10,000 pounds to enable Americans to study at British universities. The Marshall Scholarships were established by the British Government in 1953 as a gesture of thanks for Marshall Aid. The grants are awarded for two year periods for study in either sciences or humanities.

To New Students

This is a week of official welcomes, and to those of President Tarr and the New Student Week Committee, we of THE LAWRENTIAN staff add ours. You will discover in the succeeding months that the real welcome occurs after strangers around you, and after those strangers become individuals to you. It is in anticipation of future acquaintances and accomplishments that the official welcome is extended.

We realize that in addition to your academic pursuits, much of your time is spent enjoying your free experiences at Lawrence by joining one or more of the student organizations on campus, and we hope that a large number of you will join us in our efforts to report what is happening here, and to be Broderick's audience.

Broderick to Head New University

FORMER DEAN of Lawrence and Downer Colleges, Francis J. Broderick, will assume the chancellorship of the University of Massachusetts-Boston on October 1. Broderick, who came to the Lawrence campus in 1966, was instrumental in developing and implementing many of the current administrative policies.

Broderick was Broderick's absence. Perhaps the best thing that can be said about his career here is that he helped to reshape an old one.

Top Performers to Appear
In Chamber, Artist Series

Several of the concert world's top ranked artists are among the performers announced this week on Lawrence's two music series for 1968-69.

Heading the list is soprano Elisabeth Schwarzkopf, whose dual careers in opera and recital have brought her prominence in the world of music. Miss Schwarzkopf will appear in recital on Thursday, Oct. 3; and classical guitarist Michael Ixór, who was featured in the New York Pro Musica, founded by the late Noah Greenberg, is unexcelled in its mastery of music from the age of Shakespeare. Leonardo da Vinci, Dante and van Eyck. A flexible combination of voices and instruments is the group's hallmark. Direction is by John White. Former Lawrence student Edward Smith is the ensemble's keyboard artist.

Season Tickets on Sale

Tickets for both series are now on sale at the university box office located in the Music-Drama Center.

PIANIST

John Browning will be one of the featured musicians in this year's Artist Series. Tickets for the series are now on sale at the university box office located in the Music-Drama Center.

CROSS COUNTRY COACH Eugene B. Davis will put a team which includes four returning lettermen on the 4 mile Whiting Field course against the Coe harriers at 12:30 tomorrow. Davis, who also coaches swimming and track rates the Kohawks one of the tougher teams in the Midwest Conference cross country circuit.

Davis, a graduate of Buena Vista College in 1950, expects to return his master's degree this summer from Northeast Missouri State Teachers College.

In 18 years of coaching, he has finished in the first division 14 times and has won six conference championships. His overall win-loss record in basketball is 226 wins and 166 losses. In 1966 he was picked Coach of the Year by the Iowa Basketball Coaches Association.

Many of Poulsen's former Clinton players have distinguished themselves in college athletics; during the past year one of them was chosen to the all-American basketball team at the University of Wyoming and another was all-conference at Cornell College.

Lawrence athletic director, Benno Hendel, commented, "We are very pleased to have Coach Poulsen join the Lawrence staff because of his background in small colleges. He graduated from a small college himself, and has seen many of his players on to small college ball. He has been quite close to the Midwest Conference in recent years, and understands its philosophy. He has officiated at Midwest Conference games and has coached several boys who have played in the conference. From everything I have learned, I judge him to be exceptional in handling athletes and in getting the most out of them."

TAILBACK Paul Rechner, a Fox Valley resident, will be sparking the Vike gridders to a hoped-for victory over Coe tomorrow at 1:30. The Lawrence eleven is expected to extend its 12-game winning streak this season under the mentorship of head football coach Ron Roberts.

Heselton Announces Vike '68-'69 Basketball Calendar

A 20-game basketball schedule for 1968-69 has been announced by Lawrence University Athletic Director Bernard E. Heselton.

Heselton noted that the schedule contains two fewer games than last season, and that an overall revision in the Midwest Conference schedule gives the Vikes their earliest start in history, late in November, without any preliminary games.

The squad will play under a new coach, John E. Poulsen, who has been at Clinton, Ia., for the past five years. In 18 years of coaching, Poulsen has finished in the first division 14 times and won six conference championships.

Viking 11 To Challenge Kohawks; Defend MWC Crown Tomorrow

Coach Ron Roberts tapered off the Lawrence football drills as the Vikings completed heavy preparations for the Midwest Conference opener against Coe College at the Lawrence Bowl Saturday.

Roberts, who has been working the Vikes on two-a-day sessions for two weeks, announced that the squad was fit and healthy, ready to open defense of its conference championship.

"We're ready," Roberts observed "what we need now is some outside competition so these boys can pull out all the stops."

Lawrence, which wrapped up the MC title with a perfect 8-0-0 record last season, will be meeting a team which has been rated as a contender for the 1968 crown.

Despite the loss of Chuck McKee, the starting guard for the Vikes, and teammates Gary Hietpas, little all-American quarterback; Mike Andrews at tackles, and Bob Cock, the other co-captain and McKee used while on the team.
