Rec Center Opens Soon

by Rebecca Shareika

After a year of continuous activity on Union Hill, the construction work on the new recreation center is finally winding down. This huge new addition to Lawrence’s campus certainly looks impressive from the outside, but the interior will be even more so. The recreation center, scheduled to open second term, is an amazingly well-designed and well-equipped facility which will offer numerous convenient opportunities for student recreation.

The new recreation center, built into the side of Union Hill, consists of five levels. The bottom-most level, a swimming observation pool in Wisconsin. This deep diving pool is equipped with the latest computerized Colorado timing system which will be used for timing workouts. Separated from this level is the basement which houses the open second term, is the basement which houses the new recreation center is a swimming observation pool. Packer - Bear Rivalry Divides Campus

by Beau Brady

Last Monday night the Lawrence University campus was rocked by rioting, beer throwing, and other bad stuff. The likes of which hasn’t been seen at L.U. in the history of Lawrence football. What started out as just another football game, ended with violent acts pitting brother against brother, friend against friend, and boyfriend against girlfriend. But then again, when the Bears and the Packers play, one knows no friends or brothers, only gridiron compatriots.

Packer supporters were promising an upset and most of the great polyester from the early 1970s was out of its cage. The gravity of such an act can only be understood when one considers the fact that a true Wisconsin football fan would sooner give up his firstborn than surrender twelve bottles of such a fine ale. In contrast, Bear fans wisely pointed to their perfect 10-0 record and expected an upset. If anything, this game was a letdown for the Bears as they couldn’t carry their recent success over into their most anticipated game of the season.

Drunks Held Accountable

by Steve Siegel

Many students have the idea that Lawrence isn’t interested in the lives of its students outside the classroom. Dean of Students Cervant, Reed emphatically insists that this is not true. Lawrence’s avowed alcohol/drug policy may be found on page 10 of the 1985-86 student handbook. The policy states in its first paragraph, “The choice to drink carries with it the obligation to drink responsibly. People under the influence of alcohol will be held responsible for their actions.”

If an individual sees an injustice occur, or is unhappy about the way alcohol use on campus is handled, it is his right and responsibility to bring it to the attention of the authorities. Lawrence, says Reed, takes its policy “absolutely seriously...” and while an individual’s action is the primary tool at hand, the university also wants people to realize that “enforcement is collaborative..." Oftentimes, Reed reminds us, “...people will have to take action themselves to help others..." The university must take responsibility for itself.

Fast for a World Harvest

(Boston, MA)—This year, in the wake of graphic media reports on the famine in Africa, an estimated one million supporters of Oxfam America will give up one or more meals before Thanksgiving, and donate the money they save to Oxfam America.

Buoyed by increased national awareness of hunger, thousands of schools, churches, community groups and individuals in all fifty states have pledged their support for Oxfam America’s twelfth annual Fast for a World Harvest, while at least fifteen states have officially declared Nov. 21 “Fast for a World Harvest Day.”

The U.S. Congress cleared a major roadblock to the Fast for a World Harvest by unanimously passing a resolution, designating Nov. 21 the “National Day of Fasting to Raise Funds to Combat Hunger.”

Oxfam America’s Betsy Ringle has coordinated the Fast, begun in 1974, for the past three years. Last year’s Fast was the biggest ever, raising more than $1.5 million. Oxfam America will use the Fast as “a chance to make a personal commitment to help those who are hungry, to share some of our resources.”

As Mike Farrell, star of the M*A*S*H television series, notes, “We Americans love our food. And yet while we eat the food and the many things that are so hungry all around the world.”

He is urging people to skip a meal, and to “save the money you save and send it to Oxfam America.”

Since it was founded in 1976, Oxfam America has earned a reputation on both Fronts of its efforts to relieve hunger.

Overseas, Oxfam America works in partnership with local groups to design innovative programs, small-scale projects based on the idea of people helping themselves. Most Oxfam America-supported projects are run by local people, not by American or European staff.

In the U.S., the Fast for a World Harvest is one of many creative educational and fundraising efforts coordinated out of their Boston, MA, headquarters. Oxfam America provides speakers, films, songs, and games for both church and school groups to educate Americans about the worldwide hunger crisis.

Both the overseas projects and the Fast for a World Harvest have been successful. Since 1976, Oxfam America has raised more than $7 million.

For details of events happening in your area, or for information on Oxfam America’s hunger relief projects, write, call, or visit www.oxfam.org.

ej Board Results

LUC legislation provides that the Judicial Board report the results of hearings for publication. As the current adviser to the Judicial Board, I am reporting the cases that the Board heard during Term III, 1984-85. Please note that some complaints were filed as violations of more than one article of LUCC, and therefore the number of violations will exceed the total number of complaints heard.

The Judicial Board heard several cases involving the following alleged violations:

One alleged violation of the Bill of Rights #6, 9, and 10 concerning privacy.

One alleged violation of the Honor Code Articles of Residence Hall Bill of Rights #3 concerning respect for the personal belongings of another.

Three alleged violations of LUCC IV.E concerning theft.

Ten alleged violations of LUCC IV.D concerning disruptive behavior.

One alleged violation of LUCC IV.E concerning vandalism.

One alleged violation of Residence Hall Bill of Rights #6, 9, and 10 concerning respect for another's privacy; the right to be free from harassment, intimidation, and excessive noise; and the right to privacy, the right to be free from excessive noise.

One alleged violation of Appaloosa ordinances concerning throwing of missiles.

One alleged violation of Appaloosa ordinances concerning fighting.

One alleged violation of LUCC III.A concerning the serving of alcoholic beverages to minors.

At two of the hearings, the Board decided for the imbecence of the respondent and issued no sanction.

At three of the hearings, the Board issued an official warning; at two hearings, the Board imposed disciplinary probation. In one case the Board imposed formal suspension.

Two cases were appealed to the President of the University, who has taken no action on any case currently on appeal.

If you have a case that you feel should be appealed, please call/write to the President.

Honor Council Hearings

University legislation provides that the Honor Council report the results of hearings for publication. As the current adviser to Honor Council, I am reporting the cases that the Honor Council heard during Term III, 1984-85. Please note that some hearings involved more than one article of the honor code, and therefore the number of violations will exceed the total number of cases heard.

The Honor Council heard nine cases involving the following alleged violations:

Six alleged violations of stealing.

Three alleged violations of plagiarism.

One alleged violation of failure to comply with the rules of an exam.

At three of the hearings, the Honor Council imposed the sanction of F in the course.

At two hearings, the Council imposed the sanction of a grade of O on the assignment.

At two hearings, the Council imposed the sanction of F in the course and the additional sanction of suspension for one term. In one case, the Honor Council imposed the sanction of F in the course and the additional sanction of suspension for one term, but since the appeal was made by a respondent who was currently on campus in another case, the sanctions were suspended by the Honor Council.

The Honor Council proposed the imposition of official warnings, but in one case the sanctions were suspended by the Honor Council.

It's the middle of the term—papers to write, exams to cram for, lab reports to submit, and inevitably, all-nighters to pull. "Not this term," you say? No, I'm sorry, that's not how it works. And just in case anyone has forgotten exactly what he or she is in for, here are some impressions from a reformed vegetarian perspective.

As 3:00 AM time becomes meaningless, consciousness is measured by the intensity of a hypnotic stare. Music travels unheard through your head then, unnoticed, stops. A thought finds its way into your drain, is repeated and restated, recapitulated before it. The thought explodes, unable to overlook the blank sheet of paper before it. The thought escapes. Panic strikes. You crush the paper into a tiny ball and cast it into the amorphous pile of similar wads that stares at you until you read it. It doesn't say what it is supposed to say. You forget it again but when you read it, it doesn't say what it is supposed to say, you crush the paper into a tiny ball and cast it into the amorphous pile of similar wads that stares at you.
Coffeehouse concert. Dennis Warner!

Thanks also go to all who turned out—about 150 Lawrentians and coming terms. More Open 'Mikes' during.

The Coffeehouse will offer two this year. Open 'Mike' drew the best Open Mike in recent years. Thanks!

With confidence, the Coffeehouse will offer two more Open 'Mikes' during the coming term. Audience turnout at the concerts has been very high this year. Open 'Mike' drew about 130 Lawrentians and Appletonians, while the first two jazz concerts averaged 250 people in the audience. Thanks also go to all who turned out.

Dennis Warner, a contemporary folk artist from Minnesota, will give this Sunday's concert. Be sure to be there!

Ensemble and Band to Perform

by Peter Marsh

The music of Johann Sebastian Bach has defied the storm of time, and sounds as alive today as when it was written. The year's first concert of the Lawrence Wind Ensemble and Symphonic Band will feature the music of J.S. Bach. Albert Schweitzer wrote, 'It is not Bach who lives—it is the spirit of the times that lives with him.' (J.S. Bach, L.) This spirit will live in the hearts of listeners this November 3rd, at 3 p.m. in the Chapel.

The program includes the striking Contrapunctus IX, from 'The Art of Fugue,' transcribed for brass ensemble by Charles O'Sullivan. The lively 'Jig' fugue, arranged by Charles O'Sullivan, features a variety of colorful and creative folk singers. The concert is sure to be as much fun as the past three Coffeehouse concerts. Be sure to be there!

THIS SUNDAY AT THE COFFEEHOUSE

9:30 p.m. 50°

Want to move up quickly?

Then get on the ground floor in our undergraduate officer commissioning program. You could start planning on a career like the men in this ad have. And also have some great advantages like:

■ Earning $100 a month during the school year
■ As a freshman or sophomore, you could complete your basic training during two six-week summer sessions and earn more than $1100 during each session

If you're looking to move up quickly, look into the Marine Corps undergraduate officer commissioning program. You could start off making more than $75,000 a year. We're looking for a few good men.

Ceaseless, Tireless, Relentless Ruggers

by Haji Ahmad

What is the Appleton Rugby Club? To borrow a term of one or more of the campus fraternities, the A.R.C. is diverse. It is a city club comprised of Lawrentians and all walks of life from Appleton and the surrounding Fox Valley area. If the sociological benefits alone are not enough to induce one to look into the club, then what is left of Appleton's impressive statistics.

The A.R.C. is diverse and has a 5-0 for the season and has a 21-3 record. Hey, it's just plain fun to win. But Appleton also has a reputation for sports-man-like conduct that is non-parallelized in the state. Win or lose, visiting teams have never been hesitant to pay their respects and tip some post-game brew with the ol' blue and white.

There are two remaining games in the season, more than enough time to get a taste of the game before Appleton continues its domination. The boys are on I.P.C. field one week from Sunday, and on campus loyal fans will return to their dorm, frat, or science lab.

record and relished the opportunity to avenge last year's humiliating defeat at the hands of the men in Green and Gold. Kurt Becker, a Bear lineman, summed up the Chicago position by saying, "The Green Bay Packers, I hate them!"

The campus fraternities, and even the campus itself, turned out in droves to witness the match. Bear fans outnumbered Packer fans a hundred to one.

On the field, the Bears were many and varied — the Vikings, fraternities, and even remote science labs. Packer fans turned out in droves wearing their hearts on the sleeves of their blaze orange uniforms, the Viking room, the Pack jumped to an early 7-0 lead, enthusiastic fans filled the air with popcorn. Runners Prepare for Conference Championship

"We're going to let everybody run! We're not only going to let everybody run, but the offense is going to be used as well," said Coach Eric Johnson. "We're not going to let everybody run just for fun, but we're going to use it to our advantage."

The team was preparing for their first conference meet of the season, which was scheduled for next weekend.

"I think we can do well in the conference meet," said senior runner John Smith. "We've been practicing hard and we're ready to go."

Grand-sissy-poo-poo— I wish I could be here to see you this weekend! Have fun and come back soon, I miss you!

Love,

Your Grand-Little-sissy-poo-poo.

I'm looking for a SAFERHOUSE!!!
Big Sale! Sat. night at Imports Ltd. Behind the Green Doors.
Janey— I hope you feel better soon.

Love, Your Grand-sissy-poo-poo

TIM PAHEL— Happy Birthday!!
On the behalf of the W.B., the gorilla, J.D., and the D.R.??, I want to use this opportunity to tell you how great a friend you are to me. I hope you have had a wonderful birthday, and to this day, I hope that the next years as friends will be as awesome as the first. (Keep away from the Kosher pickles, ok?)

Mike

25¢ PERSONALS

Wednesday at V-R, Hallowe­en light beer deal!

To Upperclass Women:
Perhaps if you weren't too busy in your little cliques (DG, Kappa, Theta), were half as social as the freshman class, or weren't too busy "scoping on" the pre-18 year old boys yourselves, you might (only might) notice when an upperclass man was interested!

WARNING: Mike Gretch (alias: The Big "L") welches on his debts.

Lush or Tofer:
How's your love life lately, or lack thereof?
—The Morality Squad

P.S. Heard any good stories lately?
