

Majority of 'Frosh' Are 'A' Students

Made Two and Three Times as Many "Points" as "Hours," Report Shows

A large number of students of the present Freshman class at Lawrence are "A" students, making two and three times as many "points" as hours of credit in their courses, according to a report of R. C. Mullenix, dean of Freshman, made public this week. The report shows beyond question the value of the Freshman commission with respect to first-year students and their work.

The report, a copy of which has been sent to all parents of members of the Class of '27, follows in full detail:

"Lawrence some years ago adopted the 'point system' which is in vogue in an increasing number of colleges and universities of the better grade, as a method of indicating quality of work done by students. By this system a course in which a student gains a grade of C gives him a number of 'grade points' equal to the number of hours carried by the course. A grade of B gives twice as many points as hours, and a grade of A gives three times as many points as hours. A grade of D gives no grade points. In order to graduate, a student must gain 192 hours of credit, and an equal number of grade points. This means that a student must maintain at least a C average, and that courses in which a grade of D was gained do not count toward graduation unless offset by courses with a grade of B or A.

"A study has been made of the hours and points gained by the members of the freshman class during the first and second quarters. It has been found that several gained considerably more than twice as many points as hours, indicating that they attained an A standard in one or more subjects. The following is the list of those who carried full work and gained 70 or more grade points: Minnie Beggs, Leona Palmbach, Alden Behnke, Gertrude Parker, Joseph Chandler, Albert Peterson, Bertha Fuminger, Naomi Roy, Harlan Hackbert, Rose Springer, Dorothy Kinsey, Nellie Stowe, Josephine Kruka, James Vincent, Palmer McConnell, Herbert Webster.

"The following is the list of those who carried full work and made at least twice as many points as hours:

Arvilla Austin	Norma Kitch
Marjorie Brown	Louise Lutz
James Buckmaster	Lois Manchester
Sara Jean Bullwinkel	Stewart Mills
Margaret Busse	Agnes Norem
Gordon Clapp	Bernice Orchard
Eunice Davis	Myrtle Parker
Hazel Demmer	Katharine Pratt
Ruth Dickinson	Dorothy Ralph
Helen Diderich	Percy Ritten
Tillie Eggert	Alaquo Slattry
Beda Hand	Harry Snyder
Grace Hannagan	Gertrude Sterken
Edgar Horneck	Wilma Thiede
Sylvia Hunt

"The following students have maintained a similar standard of excellence but for one reason or another have carried less than full work in the College of Liberal Arts. In most cases the persons in the following list are taking work in the conservatory.

Beatrice Brantz	Dorothy Murphy
Helen Haertle	Lala Rosenzweig
Mayme Halford	Lorraine Tees
Bernice Kitzelman	Marjorie Vivian
Margaret Morris	Dorothy VonBerg

"The Faculty Council for Freshmen has instructed me to extend congratulations to the parents of these students on the excellent record that they have made. We trust that nothing may occur to interfere with their completing the college course, and that they will continue to make faithful use of their opportunities."

R. C. Mullenix,
Dean of Freshmen

All-College Elections Put Off Several Days

Because of the sudden death of Miss Zelia Ann Smith, librarian at Lawrence for nearly half a century, the annual All-College club elections, scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday of this week, according to announcement of Norton Masterson, '24, president, have been postponed several days. Primary elections were to take place at chapel hour today, while final elections will be held Monday, June 3, at chapel time. Seniors will vote in Professor Denyes' room, Juniors in Professor Farley's room, Sophomores in Dr. Foster's room, all in Main Hall. Freshmen will vote in the chapel.

A meeting of the nominating committee was held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night, on call of President Masterson, and in accordance with All-College club election rules.

Five Are Elected to Mortarboard Group

Election of Mary Bennett, Florence Hector, Dorothy Rohrer, Margaret Lahr, and Jean Jamison, all coeds of the Junior class, to Mortarboard, national senior women's honorary society, was announced by Dr. Frances Foster in chapel on Monday. The election of Dean Mary Louise Brown to honorary membership in the society was also announced.

Membership to Mortarboard is based on scholarship, leadership, and service. Only junior girls who have maintained at least an average scholarship, have been active in at least two extra-curricular activities and prominent in one, and who have shown a marked degree of leadership, are eligible to election.

The annual scholarship of $25 was awarded to Bernice Porterfield. This is always given to a sophomore girl who shows a marked quality of leadership.

Present Members

The present members of Mortarboard are Evelyn Jarrett, Frances Meserole, Margery Nichol, and Hilda Eiler. Dr. Foster is an honorary member and Miss Hazel Moren is sectional director of the fraternity.

Hilker to Go Back to Oakfield High School

Ralph Hilker, '23, Sigma Phi Epsilon, will return to Oakfield high school as principal again next year, according to announcement. Miss Irma Roemer, '23, who has been instructor in mathematics at the same high school, will not return next year. She plans to teach elsewhere.

May Day, Postponed, Successfully Held Saturday As Indoor Program

Rain falling steadily all day Friday caused the annual college May fete scheduled for that date to be postponed to the following day, May 24. The fete Saturday was staged in Memorial chapel and in Alexander gymnasium because of cold weather and the wet condition of the campus. This marks the first time in the past six years that inclement weather has interfered with the annual spring festival.

Six hundred dollars of rain insurance was collected Saturday by the committee in charge of the event, who had taken the precaution of insuring against bad weather.

The day's program was opened at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Memorial chapel with the elaborate ceremony of the crowning of Marjory Nichol, '24, of Green Bay, as Queen of May. Her attendants, Ina Dunbar, '24, of Fond du Lac, and Dorothy Lymer, '24, of Appleton, sat on either side of her throne.

A program of folk dances followed the coronation ceremony. Spanish, Russian, Irish, Scotch, and Gypsy dances played a prominent and pretty part in

Bigger Athletic Fund Proposal Meets Favor

By a vote of 355 to 107 Lawrence students at chapel Tuesday morning adopted the bigger athletic fund proposal of the Athletic board, whereby students, beginning next Fall, will pay an increase of $1.50 per quarter on their All-College club ticket, the increase to go to the board for use in athletic activities. Instead of the $3.15 per year of the past, Lawrentians will now pay $7 per year towards the athletic program.

At the same time, the proposal that an Athletic board for women be set up to be in full charge of women's athletics was adopted, 433 to 29. The board will include three student and four faculty members, "the student members to be elected by the college and the faculty members to be appointed by the president of the college."

Elect All-Round Senior On June 3

Because May Day was postponed Friday, May 23, it was decided not to hold the preliminary elections for the most all-round member of the senior class, who is to be awarded the Spector cup, recently donated by the Appleton jeweler whose name it bears, on that day. Instead the voting will take place Tuesday of next week, June 3, when the polls in Main Hall will be open from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

At this election the three seniors receiving the greatest number of votes will become candidates for the finals, which will take place on Thursday, June 5. The cup, which has been presented by Morris Spector, Appleton jeweler, will be awarded to the successful candidate at the Class Day exercises during Commencement week.

The Qualifications

The qualifications which are to be considered for the awarding of the cup are the physical, mental, and moral qualities of the candidate, prominence in campus activities, loyalty to Lawrence ideals, and an average grade higher than the average grade of the college.

Service, Keynote of Talk by Kaukaunan at Chapel

Service was the keynote of the talk given in chapel, Thursday, May 22, by Rev. W. B. Woodward, pastor of the Congregational church at Kaukauna. Rev. Woodward stressed the importance of having the Christ spirit, which was so evident in His great and inspiring address on Service, in the garden of Gethsemane.

The speaker urged the audience to sanctify themselves, to consecrate themselves to others, and to "keep fit." Christ's spirit, he said, involves a great love of Man, and an appreciation of his needs.

Librarian's Death Shock To Lawrence

Zelia Ann Smith, Librarian for Half-Century, Suddenly Stricken With Apoplexy

One of the most beloved of Lawrence characters was lost to the campus suddenly on Monday, May 26, in the death of Miss Zelia Ann Smith, head librarian at Lawrence for the past 41 years. Miss Smith's death was the result of an apoplectic stroke, which occurred while she was crossing the campus about 4:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. George Thom of Appleton, who was passing at the time, saw Miss Smith fall and hurried to her assistance. She was rushed to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where she remained unconscious to the time of her death.

It is believed that Miss Smith was stricken suddenly for the bruised condition of her face showed that she did not try to protect herself from the fall. Two students, who saw her fall, say she did not trip, but rather fell across wire fencing erected for May Day, which was lying across the sidewalk.

Born at Waupaca

Miss Smith was born at Waupaca, Wisconsin, in 1860. She was educated at the Waupaca public schools, at a private school at Galesburg, Ill., and at Lawrence university from 1878 to 1882. She came to the library in 1883, and has been librarian since then to the present time. On the twenty-fifth anniversary of Miss Smith's stay here as librarian a dinner was given in her honor at Hotel Appleton, and several prominent alumni returned to speak.

In 1913 a number of alumni made up a purse and sent Miss Smith abroad.

The only survivors are Mrs. Mame Strickland Langley of Merrill, Mr. Hiram Simcox of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Edward Van Henkion, all cousins of the deceased.

Funeral Wednesday

The body of Miss Smith was to lie in state in Memorial chapel from 8 to 8:45 o'clock Wednesday morning, with funeral services arranged to take place at the chapel at 9 o'clock. Dean Wilson S. Naylor was to have charge of the services, with Dr. J. A. Holmes of First Methodist church, Appleton, as speaker. Following the services, the body was to be taken to Waupaca for burial there on Thursday.

Dr. Samuel Plantz, who was a classmate of Miss Smith's during college days at Lawrence, and who was immediately notified of her fall and subsequent death, was unable to get back from Springfield, Mass., where he is attending the general conference of the Methodist church, to Lawrence in time for the funeral.

Rotary Delegates Laud Hospitality

The recent sectional Rotary convention of Wisconsin and Northern Michigan at Appleton, sessions of which were held at Lawrence Memorial chapel, has been greatly praised by many of the delegates who were in attendance.

In the many letters received by George R. Wettengel, conference secretary, much fine comment is made concerning the hospitable spirit in which the delegates were entertained and the cooperation rendered by the college in entertaining the city's guests.

The men's glee club and Schola Cantorum, which sang on several occasions for the delegates, also came in for their share of commendation.

Analyses Neenah Sand

Bruce Guild, '25, is performing an unusual experiment in a laboratory analysis of sand which Dr. R. M. Bagge took from a well at Neenah. The individual sand grains had to be picked out under a microscope with a camel's hair brush.

Daniel Ibsen of Union Grove was the week-end guest of his sister, Ansine Ibsen, '25, at Lawrence, Saturday and Sunday.

College Actors In Play By Jerome

By Dr. Frances Foster

Last Thursday in the Chapel "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" was presented by Lawrence students under the direction of Miss Margaret Sherman.

The play, which Manly calls a miracle play, strikes the inexperienced theatre-goer as artificial, especially in the series of interviews that make up most of the second act; and anyone who has seen the Forbes-Robertson production is inevitably led to comparisons that are odious and unfair. Yet, whether one likes the play or not, one recognizes two strong points: it teaches the fundamental Christian lesson of kindness, and it gives opportunity for varied character acting.

The suggestion of a miracle play was carried out by the unconventional form of the program, from which the names of the actors were omitted, and by the carefully planned lighting, which though spoiled in the early part of the play by an accident to the mechanism, could be judged from the third act. Both setting and costumes suggested a past far enough from us to admit of a near-miracle. The furniture did not literally correspond to what I know of a Bloomsbury boarding house, but the pieces were quaint, and some delightful for themselves. And the costumes, though not all the vogue in 1907, brought memories of what our mothers have told us of other days.

The casting the play was happy. The crucial part of the Stranger was acted by Mr. Gerald Holdridge with dignity and reserve. Miss Cora Belle Iste, assisted by Miss Isabel Wilcox, will be presented. Miss Jarrett and Miss Wilcox are from the studio of Mrs. Arens. Miss Enid Jarrett is from the studio of Mr. Arens. The program follows:

- 1—"Mary Rose"
Scenes from act one and act two - Barrie
- Miss Jarrett
- 2—Sonata, C Major - Mozart
- Miss Enid Jarrett
- Second piano accompaniment
by Grieg played by Mr. Arens
- 3—(a) "The Boy that was Scared of Dying" - Slosson
- (b) "In College Days" - Barbee
- Miss Jarrett
- 4—Trilby - Godard
- Miss Enid Jarrett
- 5—Scene from act one
"Two Gentlemen of Verona" - Shakespeare
- Julia—In love with
Proteus - Miss Jarrett
- Lucetta, her
companion - Miss Wilcox

Schola Cantorum were annually good in the two numbers they sang in chapel

Wandrey showed us a Stacia charming in her moments of tenderness or fierceness, though not the "bad un" she pretended. Mr. Harold Jens as the fatuous Major convinced me in both stages of his character, and Miss Iva Hutchinson had just the right air for Mrs. De Hoolsey; while Miss Marjorie Stanley set some of us to thinking of the difference between an old maid's destiny in 1907 and now. Miss Vivian Viel as the landlady was almost too "Sharp" at first, but the quality of her voice in the last speech of Act 1 quite suggested the elaborate grand dame of Act III. A word should also be added for the gusto with which the wickedness of Samuels and Lareom were presented by Ben Kennitz and Grant Verhulst respectively.

If the final estimate of a play consists in its effect on the audience, the evaluation of this play would differ depending on whether one sat in the balcony, where some of the actors could not be heard, or nearer the front. Occasionally a normal college group could not restrain its hilarity at the supposedly humorous situation of one actor kissing another. But Stacia and the stranger were able to rise above, both in the "You knew my father?" of the second act and at the end of the play. Certainly any director who knows the putting-on-things-in-the-last-five-minutes habit of an Appleton audience, might be proud of the hush at the end of the play, when with an empty stage and Dr. Webber's music, the audience waited without motion till the drawing of the curtain.

Wednesday. They were "Bless the Lord, O My Soul," written for the Russian Church by Mikhail M. Ippolitoff-Ivanoff, and the Sanctus from Gounod's Mass.

Friday afternoon students from the studio of Miss Irma Sherman of Lawrence conservatory will give a public recital in Peabody hall.

Wednesday evening Lawrence chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon presented an enjoyable program at Peabody hall.

Students from studio of Miss Gladys Ives Brainard, of the Lawrence conservatory of music faculty presented a very pleasing program in a recital given last Tuesday evening at Peabody hall. The following were included: Violet Older, Mable Look, Gertrude Boyce, Katherine Kern, La Vahn Maesch, Hudson Bacon, and Grace Church.

Florence Roosen, '26, had her mother of Ontario, Mich., as her guest for May Day.

Idelle Hulsether, '24, entertained her mother from Stoughton for May Day last week-end.

Letters Of a Lawrence Co-ed

Russell Sage
May 29, 1924

Dear Jane:

Only a couple of weeks before Commencement!

I've found something absolutely unique for gifts for my graduating pals. BEATRICE is showing "Midsummer Night's Dream" scarfs, in sheer white or black georgette, with gathered clusters of flower petals on the ends. There are imported, and BEATRICE has the exclusive right to handle them in Appleton.

Exquisite undies which will match anything worn by "Nellie, the beautiful cloak model" are also being shown in this shop, in a line which has never before been sold outside of New York. French voiles, crepes, linens, hand-embroidered, lace, and appliqued, will delight any coed, and are very reasonably priced.

Beatrice is a fairyland for the Commencement shopper,—bags, beads, bracelets, and feminine frills of every description, to say nothing of stunning cigarette sets for masculine graduates!

IN MEMORIAM

No one person was better known to so many Lawrence students than Miss Zelia Ann Smith. For forty-one years she performed her duties as college librarian, always ready to serve its students. Through her careful and orderly custody of the college library for that length of time, she has assisted in molding the lives of more Lawrence graduates than any other member of the administration.

In recognition of such faithful service in the interests of higher education, it is only proper that a lasting memorial be established to the honor of Miss Smith. This might be in the form of an annual scholarship to be awarded to the most capable and efficient student in library methods. A fund subscribed to by alumni and friends could easily provide for such a memorial.

CASTING YOUR VOTE

We are all wont to argue for the investment of more student authority in the student self-governing associations. Yet, until we can place in the executive offices of those organizations the students who are most capable of carrying out the duties of those offices, regardless of fraternal affiliations, faculty domination of student activities will continue.

For this reason spring at Lawrence brings with it one of your greatest responsibilities. Next week you will be called upon to cast your vote for the officers of your class, the officers of the all-college club, and the representatives to the various student activity boards.

Too often we students in casting our votes overlook the qualifications of the candidate for office and tend to regard only his organization affiliation. We are prone to vote for a man only because he is a fraternity brother and not because he is the man best fitted to execute the duties of an office.

Such action is deplorable in a school the size of Lawrence. The enrollment here is not so large but what every student knows every other student. Acquaintanceship may not be intimate, but it is enough to know whether or not a person possesses the executive ability to function efficiently in the office for which he or she is a candidate. Consequently, there is no excuse for you voting only according to your fraternal ties.

The efficiency of an organization or class depends almost wholly upon its executives. The responsibility of getting efficient executives into office lies wholly with you. In the coming elections, don't see how many all-college offices you can "cop" for your fraternity or sorority. Instead, remember that the interests of Lawrence are above those of any one organization, and vote for the person whom you sincerely believe is best qualified to hold the office.

MAY DAY COOPERATION

That the weather man played havoc with this year's May Day, we are well aware. What might have taken place had the sun shone and the thermometer registered seventy in the shade, we can only gamble on. But that school spirit was lacking in the carrying out of the postponed May Day festivities, we are more than certain of.

Only one-half of the student body witnessed the activities. Many used the extra day off as a holiday in which to run home over the week-end. Fellows, especially, were few at the festivities.

May Day is an all-college day, and as such should be supported by every Lawrentian. Were it not for the traditional festivities, we would not get the extra day off, and consequently, those who take advantage of the day to go home would not be able to leave the campus. As an all-college day it should be made a truly representative one, regardless of weather conditions. A little forethought next spring will accomplish the desired end.

The campus is no dumping ground, not even for rolls of new wire. Since May Day is past, let's return the wire to its proper place and thereby guard against any accidents that might befall.

Murmuring of The Elms

By AMOS

"And the Elms on the campus murmured softly."

On Time

To be on time always is to be ahead of time now and then.

This means simply that the punctual man or woman often gets there a little bit before the minute.

This is the kind of minute-man we take off our hats to.

Not the one who is packed up and ready to leave on the minute—but the one who arrives before the minute to begin.

One would think, observing some people, that they made up for coming in late by leaving early!

One of the marks of interest is eagerness. The man who is eager to start will not be denied in the race. He has the will to win it.

Great business organizations are built of such men and women.

They are alive! They are going somewhere—and they know where that somewhere is, and what it means to get there.

The unpunctual man or woman is a man or woman that has never grown up.

What in the schoolboy or schoolgirl has been punished for ages has no excuse whatever in a business man or woman.

There is no such thing as an habitually late business man.

For business depends on punctuality, in getting off, in getting on, in getting there—on time.

Soul-Stirring, Action Fiction Going Out of Date, Wails Lover of 'Frontier'

By "Kube"

In making the rounds of our great libraries at the present time one is struck by the entire absence of the so-called "soul-stirring action fiction," which graced the shelves of our libraries in such numbers a decade ago. The reason can probably be found in the attitude of present day book reviewers, who have cheerfully taken it upon themselves to discourage the "powder-puff" type of action as vulgar. The psycho-analysis element has been fostered much to the disgust of present day readers.

In all such discussion we are reminded that the real progress of the world, which alone the writer should depict, is really achieved by folks who never hammer, much less shoot, their opponents. These real doers of the work, whom Fannie Hurst aptly called "the world's little people," always call a policeman to settle the point at issue. Then the rascal leaves us via the "Black Maria," the hero returns to his pinocchio game, and Virtue is triumphant with no more than a slight lift of voice and never so much gore as a business-like nose-bleed would supply.

Many of the present novels are made up of a detailed cross-section of the soul-calisthenics of several characters which the reviewer had vowed to constitute as an epochal advance in fiction.

Cunningham at Arms

In his article on Action Fiction, in a recent writers' magazine, Eugene Cunningham takes issue with these self-styled reviewers and gives his views on the subject. He says, "powder-smoke is vulgar; those who depend upon a certain dexterity of wrist plus a properly-hung Colt for their continuance in life are crude beings; killing men is deplorable. So much so that the reviewers and critics assure us that if the Sullivans of this world triumph no powder will be burned except daily when some grinning thug shoots down a de-armed citizen. But still—

"After a time in the—well, distinctive atmosphere of some fictional atmosphere of some fictional bourgeois scenes, to an elemental man a blast of powder-gas is a positive fumigant. After pages of libidinous description where one's imagination may be parked at the door, it is a relief to an old-fashioned man to read of some single-minded ruffian who meets the hero's double-handed knockout with no more complicated thought than: 'Lord! What a punch!'"

"It comes to me to wonder, sometimes, if these reviewers and critics who advocate exclusive rights for this denatured armchair-action in fiction have ever really considered history. They overlook the brave frontiersman who merely won a continent." LONG LAST THE LAST FRONTIER, is the hope of Mr. Cunningham.

Students provided their own wash bowls, towels, brooms, lights, (not electric light bulbs), and fuel. It is plain these conveniences were not forced on them. The steward, however, was a most obliging fellow, and would furnish wood prepared for use at cost.

Tuition was paid quarterly, as follows:

Study Relations Of Nations, Plan

New College To Be In Connection With John Hopkins University;
Study Bases

A decisive step has been taken toward giving this country the first complete school of international relations. Recognizing the importance of directing national thought along lines tending to promote "greater understanding and knowledge of all the branches of international life in the midst of a world relationship where scientific and economic facts are bringing nations to many forms of interdependency," a large group of distinguished educators, publicists, business men and men who have held high public office, joined in a recent conference at the Banker's club, New York, to give their hearty approval and endorsement of a proposal to establish a graduate school of international relations in connection with John Hopkins university. This will probably be the first of its kind in the world.

Behind the project, which has been characterized as "infinitely more than a school of diplomacy," are Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is chairman of the committee appointed to bring about its realization, Edward Bok, John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain; Admiral William S. Sims, George W. Wickersham, Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of Review of Reviews; Dr. John H. Finley, of the New York Times; Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of William and Mary College.

Julius H. Barnes, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce; Colonel E. M. House, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college; Dr. Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth; Dr. Kenneth C. M. Sills, president of Bowdoin; Dr. W. H. P. Faunce, president of Brown university; Dr. Charles F. Twine, president of Western Reserve university; Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia; Rescoe Pound, dean of Harvard Law School; T. I. Parkinson, acting dean, Columbia Law school;

Dr. Archibald C. Coolidge, of Harvard; Dr. Wm. H. Welch of John Hopkins; French Strother, of World's Work; Robert S. Brookings, president of the Institute of Economics, and a score of equally prominent men and women.

Five Basic Subjects

Pending approval by the authorities of Johns Hopkins, the scope of the school is planned to include the five basic subjects of fundamental bases of international relations, history of international relations, international law, diplomatic practice and procedure and international organizations. It has been suggested that the course embrace a three-year period of graduate instruction, at least one year of which would be spent abroad in the study of racial and ethnological peculiarities, political and social undercurrents, and other pertinent factors that have direct bearing on the relations of nations with each other.

Annual Summer Session At Mexican "U" Opens July 9

The fourth session of the summer school of the National University of Mexico, organized especially for students of Spanish, will begin this year on July 9, continuing for a period of six weeks. In addition to the regular courses, excursions to points of artistic and historical interest in the city and suburbs, as well as short trips to Vera Cruz, Orizaba, Puebla, Cuernavaca, Queretaro, and Guadalajara will be offered to those interested, at reduced rates.

The national Railways of Mexico have offered half rates to students, from the border and from the coast to Mexico City and back. On excursions planned by the University, students will obtain half rate tickets for traveling to all points in Mexico during the months of July, August, and September. The Ward Line has likewise granted special rates from New York to Mexico City and return, to groups of twenty or more students. Railway companies are cooperating by offering considerable discounts to American students.

Beloit Trackmen Cop First Place In State Classic

Ripon Finishes Second, Lawrence Third;
Several State Records
Are Shattered

Bad weather in the form of a heavy wind and a drizzling rain had a damaging effect of the state track and field meet of the Little Five conference under Ripon college auspices at Ripon Saturday. The competition, according to advance indications, was to have been very keen, but the chilly atmosphere functioned as a handicap to all the entrants. Beloit, by taking eight firsts out of fourteen events, led Ripon quite handily for first place with 83½ points as total. Ripon took second with 61½ points, Lawrence third with 17, and Carroll fourth with 2 points.

Beloit scored heavily in the short dashes and in the field events. Elleson of Ripon was high man with three firsts in his three long-distance events.

In spite of the unfavorable weather several state records went by the board. Vondolah of Beloit broke the shot-put mark, formerly held by Abrahamson of Lawrence, made in 1912. The Beloit man put the shot 37 feet 9 inches, breaking the old mark by three inches. Hipke, who threw the shot 39 feet 7 inches in the dual meet with Ripon last Saturday was not able to repeat in the state meet. He took second place in the event.

Trantow of Ripon shattered the high jump, formerly held jointly by Collins of Beloit, '14, Trantow, Ripon, '21, and Lee, Beloit, '23. The old mark was 5 feet 8 inches, the Ripon man adding an inch to this figure. Christofferson, Ripon, truly a wonder track athlete, made 23 feet 6 inches in the broad jump, bettering the state record of 21 feet 8½ inches, held jointly by himself and Addie of Beloit.

Rehbein Second

Rehbein scored a second in the 440-yd. dash, the result of being boxed in at the curve on the home stretch. Cooke took third in the 220-yd. low hurdles. Kingsbury took a third in the two-mile. Courtney, Kotal, and Gribble took fourths in the pole-vault, 220, and 880-yd. dashes respectively. Hipke took second in the shot put and fourth in the discus.

Coach A. C. Denny will probably take the above men to the Midwest meet at Beloit on Saturday. Great hope is placed on Hipke, who, it is hoped, will recover his form in the shotput. Should he be up to form he is certain to take first in this event. The other entrants are expected to show improvement, because the weather Saturday was not exactly conducive to high achievement, particularly in the dashes, which were slowed up by the strong wind.

Eligible for Olympic

Special significance is attached to the coming Midwest meet because of the understanding from Olympic officials that winners in the various events will be eligible for the Olympic try-outs at Boston early in June.

Following are the results of the state meet of Saturday:

120-yd. high hurdles—Christofferson, Ripon, first; H. Thompson, Beloit, second; McAuliffe, Beloit, third; Cooke, Lawrence, fourth; time, 16 1-5 seconds.

Nesbit Wins 100-yard

100-yd. dash—Nesbit, Beloit, first; Addie, Beloit, second; W. Miller, Ripon, third; Murray, Ripon, fourth; time 10 seconds.

One-mile run—Elleson, Ripon, first;

Lawrentians To Be At Midwest Loop Session

Prof. J. H. Farley and Coach A. C. Denny will represent Lawrence at a meeting of the Midwest conference at Beloit on Friday evening. The conference includes the following colleges: Cornell and Coe of Iowa; Knox, Monmouth, and Milliken university of Illinois; Carleton and Hamline of Minnesota; and Beloit, Ripon, and Lawrence of Wisconsin.

The Lawrence representatives will be present for a business meeting and banquet on Friday, and for the Midwest track meet on Saturday.

Would Postpone Freshman Ruling

Prof. J. H. Farley, as president of the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic association, will attend a meeting of the organization at Milwaukee on Friday morning, to consider what shall be the attitude of the association toward the proposal that Carroll college be permitted to postpone the application of the state conference freshmen rule until the second quarter of next year.

The rule prohibits the participation of freshmen in intercollegiate athletics for the first four and a half months of the college year. This rule is the same as that which applies in Midwest conference colleges and all the bigger colleges and universities of the country. Beloit college will not play football against Carroll next year, it is said, unless the freshman rule is applied.

The Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic association includes Beloit, Ripon, Carroll, Northwestern of Watertown, and Lawrence colleges.

Wilhoit, Beloit, second; M. Miller, Ripon, third; Diedrich, Ripon, fourth; time 4:35 1-5.

Shotput—Vondolah, Beloit, first; Hipke, Lawrence, second; Gauthier, Ripon, third; Trantow, Ripon, fourth. Distance 37 feet 9 inches.

440-Yard Dash—Dupke, Beloit, first; Rehbein, Lawrence, second; Jones, Beloit, third; Eckert, Ripon, fourth. Time :53 2-5.

Pole vault—McAuliffe, Beloit; J. Thompson, Beloit; O'Brien, Beloit, tied for first; Courtney, Lawrence, fourth. Height, 11 feet.

880-Yard Run—Elleson, Ripon, first; Moore, Beloit, second; Wilhoit, Beloit, third; Gribble, Lawrence, fourth. Time, 2:0 3-10.

Betas 13, Phi Taus 3
D. I. 's 6, Thetas 3

Led by their effective pitcher, Gene Pierce, the Betas won their second game of the season when they defeated the Phi Taus last Tuesday afternoon, 13-3. Pierce had an easy time retiring the Phi Taus who were able to put over but one run in five innings. Then Boettcher took the mound and allowed two runs in the sixth and seventh innings. Errors were numerous on both sides. The batteries: Betas, Pierce, Boettcher, Gault, Marsh; Phi Taus, Pahl, and Coates.

Delta Sigs Forfeit

Because several members of their team were out for track, the Delta Sigs were forced to forfeit their game to the D. I. 's which was scheduled for last Wednesday afternoon.

Monday afternoon the D. I. 's and the Thetas staged their annual "battle of the ages" with the result that the D. I. 's, after trailing for six innings, came from behind in the seventh inning and scored four runs and a 6 to 3 victory. As was to be expected, the game was hotly contested throughout with the Thetas having a decided edge in the playing during the first six innings, when they were leading 3-2. Racquet Stars to Tackle Marquette Here Friday Morn

Were to Meet Oshkosh Normal Wednesday; Singles Tourney On Campus This Week

What promises to be some of the hardest fought tennis matches ever played in the annual Lawrence tournament are in prospect this week when the men's singles tennis tournament for the championship of the college takes place. Sixteen of the best tennis players in college are entered in the tourney and pairings for the first round have been made. They are: Burpee, Anderson; R. Hunting, Stair; Heideman, Seftenberg; Gomers, Nesbit; Neuman, Zingler; D. Hunting, Lee; John Barnett, Aderhold; Shawvan, Hollis.

The winner of the championship will receive a gold medal and will hold the honor until next year. Men's doubles matches will be played as soon as the singles matches have been staged.

Lawrence racquetstars will be actively engaged this week and next week. Wednesday the Blue and White team was to play Oshkosh Normal in three singles and one doubles match here. Nesbit, Anderson, R. Hunting, Hollis, and Lee were to represent Lawrence while Hogle, McKeom, Liner, and Coolien were to play for Oshkosh Normal.

Tomorrow morning the strong Marquette university team of Milwaukee, which has defeated Lawrence this season, will play the Blue and White at the Y. M. C. A. courts here if it is possible to use them. Three singles and one doubles match will be played. Horshak, Leichtfus, Frank, and another Marquette man will represent the Hilltops.

The postponed match with Ripon which was supposed to have been played last Saturday will be played off next Wednesday at Ripon. The Blue and White are confidently expecting to win this match due to their decisive defeat over the Crimson men two weeks ago when Ripon played at Lawrence.

"I can't insure until I get out of debt."

Sometimes a debt is for an education. The honest man wants to pay it as soon as possible. If he continues to live he will pay it. But maybe the end will come too soon and then the creditor is never paid. Debt means obligation—the obligation to carry insurance until the debt is paid.

Attended National Gathering,
Speaks at Meeting

Miss Florence Hector, '25, president of Lawrence Y. W. C. A. who recently returned from attending the national Y. W. C. A. convention, held at New York City, gave an interesting report of her trip at Y. W. C. A. meeting Sunday evening, May 26. The national conference was opened by the Misses Louise Holmquist and Leslie Blanchard at a meeting for the students of the assembly, held at the Commodore Hotel.

The following problems were discussed, according to Miss Hector: The relation of Y. M. C. A. to Y. W. C. A. on the college campus; finance, which emphasized student responsibility. Contributions to foreign movements, especially the Student Friendship fund and Union Christian colleges, was further urged.

An amendment was proposed and adopted by which any college or university could may become a member if she is in favor of the purpose of the organization.

In an inspirational discussion of internationalism and war, students, business, industrial and city association women took part. A service was held at which students took a pledge to the following:

"Break down barriers
Deepen thinking

Widen the reach of our love."

Many Nations Represented

Another service was held at the Cathedral of St. John The Divine at which representatives from many foreign nations and all forty-eight states of the Union were present.

At the close of the convention the students made the following pledge:

"We unite in the determination to live unreservedly Jesus' law of love in every relationship and so to know God."

Hears Dr. Fosdick
