College To Prolific At Walk Around

Tomorrow evening Lawrence’s “I” member drive will sponsor the annual college Walk Around. Students will be asked to meet at Main Hall at 7 o’clock for the first part of the evening.

This year, one subject of the traditional walk around will be the question of whether Lawrence or Appleton will be the site of the next national meeting of the American Association of Social Scientists. Miss Carrie Proctor, of the Appleton college, is scheduled to be on the campus for this weekend as one of the board members.

The annual inter-class fun contest will be held on October 10 and the winning class will be recognized at the annual meeting of the student body.

Better Ariel
When you want a suit tailored you do not go to a man who has never held a scissors in his hand to get it tailored. Practise on mine. You must evolve a system for the Ariel, and that system must have many times greater than expert, efficient workmanship in the work of the engraving. The inexperience of the workman in buying the books, setting type, and printing out, is a cost, in cutting out the article of the least advantage and in cutting out a page of material together in the shortest possible time.

Our opinion is against the establishment of the Ariel. Under the old system it is inconvenient for students to place their orders so that they may have time to see them and to properly look after their tasks at the beginning of their Junior year. It is, however, a reasonable point to receive the money at one point at the possible at the lowest cost. Inexperience and lack of material seems to be the great cause of grave and printer, two of the least men in the work of the engraving. The paper in which the Ariel is composed of three Tau Tau Kappa members and a faculty man.

The same principles apply to the editing with the Ariel. The work of the editor already in office and thus become thoroughly familiar with his duties be en. Under the proposed "Ariel Reorganization" system, perhaps by a committee of three of his members, there is no reason why student editor is not at the mercy of engravers and printers, two of the largest cost in the following:

According to a letter received by Profs. A. L. Proctor, of the physics department, and Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Wight, of the biological department, a meeting of the Springfield Natural History Society was held at the Elms Hotel, a hotel in Springfield, Massachusetts, on the morning of Monday, February 15th, at 10:30 A.M.

The meeting was well attended, and the speakers were a number of the most competent and efficient ways of advertising our college. It may be true that a few student organizations that the student body hold the privilege of converting the content of discussion into various slogans, advertising our college. It may be true that a few student organizations that are not involved in outside activities, a student may not be, and assume a basis of regulation.

John Ockerman, '23, will tell about his subject of the open meeting of the Geological Engineers' Club, October 18, at 7:30 P.M., in Science Hall. Robert B. Scott, Wyo., will tell of his experiences while working in the seventh level of the Arrowsuper mine, Butte, Montana. Prof. J. C. Lymer opened a series of discursive meetings at Y. M. C. A. on Sunday evening on the topic, "The relation of church attendance and to those who are already members, great benefit to the person who joins it may be of service. While merely having one's name on a church directory will not open the way to heaven, it may be of importance. It is an indication of a genuine assurance of religion and a desire for spiritual growth.

bias and Illinois Wesleyan have again been continued. A number of other colleges of the Middle West, prominent in forensics, have asked to become debating relations with Lawrence and there are being countered by the Forensic Board, which is the final control of the Lawrence program.

Citizens at Meeting

Other schools which sent representa­tives to the conference in addition to Lawrence were Ripon and Carroll in Wisconsin, Oberlin, Western State Normal and Alma in Michigan, St. Olaf’s and Hamline in Minnesota, and Illinois Wesleyan and Northwestern College of Naper­ville in Illinois.

According to announcement of Prof. Franzke, Lawrence debate preparations will begin at once. At a meeting of the Forensic Board Monday afternoon the try-outs for positions on the college squad were set for December 4 and 5.

Worth of Material

A wealth of material is in forecast for the next year and White again this season, according to Mr. Franzke. In addition to a number of negatives of last year’s squad, including the Harvard and Harvard, members of Lawrence’s 1923 negative, which was its entire program of five debates against the strongest colleges forensically in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and Oregon, are George Christiansen, Joseph Betts and George Shoen, substitutes on last year’s team. It is also reported that the new freshmen class has brought a number of details of real promise to add to Lawrence hopes.

U. of Mexico Will Combat Illiteracy

Mexico City, Mex.—In an attempt to bring about a radical reduction in the illiteracy of the nation, the University of Mexico is calling on its educated citizens to give part of their time each day as voluntary teachers. There are already thousands of such teachers, and the results have been so gratifying that the experiment promises to become permanent.

When one of these citizen-teachers has been chosen by the faculty of his college and has taught to heads some thirty or more pupils who have qualified to read and write, the National University of Mexico will issue diplomas to these students, and will give them preference in selecting government employment. The office of the director-general of the National Lines of Mexico has agreed to allow such certificates or diplomas to decide the question of appointment or promotion where other conditions are equal. The National University furnishes free all the reading charts, blackboards and other materials required by the citizen-teachers.

Ask Ladies’ Help

Special requests have been made to the ladies of the leisure class to give one of their hours to the cause of education. University officials are also trying to secure the use of churches on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays for these voluntary teachers.

Forensic Board Seat

Dwight Hunting was elected senior representative to the Forensic Board at a meeting of the senior class held October 3. He succeeds Oscar Schmeige, who was elected to that position last spring, who has not returned to school.
