Debaters In Finals of Season

Lawrence Affirmative Meets Albion Negative Negatives; Negatives: 30

Vigorous night at 3:30 o'clock in the concert hall of the Memorial Union of the University of Wisconsin, Lawrence affirmative debaters, led by Professor E. W. Cotham of the University of Wisconsin, defeated the Lawrence negative debaters, led by Professor B. B. Peckham of the University of Wisconsin, by a score of 5 to 3.

The affirmative team consisted of Lawrence students, John W. Scott, Lawrence, and Robert B. Peckham, Milwaukee. The negative team consisted of Albion students, William A. Halsey, Chicago, and Robert B. Peckham, Milwaukee.

The debate was on the resolution that the United States should not enter into a treaty with China.

Several Cancellations

Several cancellations have been announced since the last edition was published. The Lawrence debate has been cancelled for this week due to illness of some of the members. The negative debate has been cancelled for next week due to the absence of one of the members.

Second Tour For Men Singers to Begin on March 22

Lawrence College's Men's Choir, which one week ago returned from its recent trip of the seasons, northern Wisconsin, will start again on Monday, March 17, at Superior and continue until Easter. The choir will perform at Superior on that day, appearing again on Sunday in a recent concert in the Superior auditorium.

The tour will include stops in several towns throughout northern Wisconsin, including Rhinelander, Wausau, and Menasha.

More Literature, Work of Students

More literature will be published in the next edition. The work of students has been given over to publication of the literature of the students.

Competition in the Tournament is on the Increase

The competition in the tournament is on the increase. This is due to the fact that the tournament is becoming more popular and the number of students entering is increasing.

The winner of the tournament will be announced in the next edition.

Letters of a Lawrence Co-Ed

Dear Jane,

As soon as I got your letter I went down to Greeen's and looked at sweaters for you, only my dear, you can't call them sweaters this season — they're man dairies coats!

One of the best-looking being a beige wool trimmed in gold silk, for 45. Oh, if you feel that you must be black and white to be in style this spring, you can get that style in black silk for 95. They have the same thing in a suit color which would be particularly becoming to your bonneted beauty. One of the chief joys of the season style is that you can stay out of the public and wear a full ball of wine instead of wine, when it gets warm and so on.

An interesting jacket are from being completely out, however, and Greeen's have a striking model in Chinese blue wool for 125. If you want me to get one for you, she want to write immediately, for their sweaters are so far...as large as they will al be sold very soon.

I'll be home two weeks, Jane, and I'll surely want a man dairies coat when I arrive.

"Play Production" Class
To Present Three Dramas

The third group of plays under the direction of members of Miss Margaret Sherman's class in Dramatic production will be presented in the Phoenix room, March 14.

Kath Loomis will produce "The Medicine Show"; Pauline MeMarten, "The King of God"; and Esther Johnson, "The Flight of the Heron." Each member of the class is to direct a one-act play. The second group of plays presented February 29 and showed a marked improvement over the first group, according to Miss Sherman. Opposite types were cast in order to enlarge the repertoire of the students.

Talks On Australia

Australia and America are much alike in landscape and custom, according to Prof. James Murlin of the Educational department, who spoke in chapel Wednesday morning. The professor said that Australia is a small, unexplored country is far better, and Prof. Murlin, who was for several years a resident of Australia, said there is great opportunity to stand ahead for the growing country.

“Antiques”

Annie Lottie Cable set her fancy jewelry box on the table before her, and the shadowy figures lit up the room. The clock ticked in the corner, and the hall was empty. She turned on the lamp, and the light spilled over the table, illuminating the jewelry box and the surrounding room.

Day’s End

The streets were quiet, and the moon shone brightly in the sky. The stars twinkled above, and the air was cool. Annie Lottie sat in her rocking chair, lost in thought.

The sight that brings the twilight’s end To watch in Heaven’s glory. Bringing joy to memories of time To make sweet memories last forever and ever.

And thus far all is a peace For which the weary longs. A guide to guide us all, And light us on the road to glory.

We find a chance for solemn prayer God of our God! A chance to show our thankfulness To Him who reigns above.

On wings of night that envelop, The world in darkest beauty, And bring to weary eyes A time to think of sky.

First place in the books of interfraternity bowling, next to the Theta Chi last week was awarded to the Kappa Sigma. This team won the game three times, while the Theta Chi had to retire to the Betsas. Theta Chi received second place.

By virtue of winning first place, the Theta Chi team has now the privilege of having a film, "Les Misérables," which was shown at the Theta Chi house. The film has been brought here as a service to the student body, particularly French students.

Students Must Fill Out Questionnaires, Dean Says

Allenger Lawrentians are being warned by the faculty that all intangible tests and personal questionnaires provided by the college are not optional but are required. The faculty are attempting by these methods, and through frequent interviews with students, to provide a more helpful and effective atmosphere of Lawrence college. The intangible tests are not only characteristic of Lawrence college students but are being accepted all over the United States. The intangible tests in all colleges in the United States are being accepted by the faculty for Freshman and upper classmen, but in five colleges still ignore the matter, according to Dean Seale.

Two Hundred See Film

About two hundred people saw the film, "Les Misérables," which was shown at the Vergennes school in Tuesday evening. March 11, under auspices of the French club. The picture was brought here in a service to the student body, particularly French students.
