Letters Of a Lawrence Co-ed

Dear Janet:

The evening machine is the revolution room at St. John's residence hall. We were unable to get the old evening machine, but we were able to fix up the new one. We used it to make a new one, which was quite badly needed by us. The Phoebe Store has just received a nice little material that must have been made to simplify dressmaking. The price is about $1.50 per yard. The material is about 37 inches wide, is divided in two colors. One of the colors is black, the other half is a pretty shade of brown. Using the width of the material, the length of year you order the material for will make the popular wearing effect without the trouble of buying two different colors of material. A narrow roll of the brown at the edge of the blackish one gives you a trimming effect on the sleeves, corresponding to the skirt. All our sleeves are cut two pieces or one piece, depending on how much material you have a good-looking blank. Other shirts that the Phoebe Store have been of some interest.

The well-dressed girl, who would follow Foster's, will dress the dress lines of a fine-turning mill and dress our suits. The materials are so varied that one can hardly believe the varieties we have in store for them. Dresses, jumpsuits, velvets, velveteens and only a few of the kinds (that Queenie) are showing. In fact, there is almost no limit to the materials, the styles, the fabric, the patterns, the needlework, the embroidery, the tailoring, the fashion, the fashion, the fashion. A new way of applying for is shown in the modern woman, which ties the classic and urban. The materials change as quickly as the weather.

An interesting style is the "ensemble," coat. A paid coat extending the length of the coat, boned-tailored, forms an ornament front. Over the waist the coat is made; one was of Kaffer-brown trimmed in Joy Mink. When the coat is worn open, an ee-ed suit usually wear their coats, the coat add an attractive note to the whole. Another cout of Denver, a new material, had a collar of dyed saddle fur; another was a possum brown with Joy Mink fur-trim.

There are so many modes that one cannot enumerate them all but a trip to Queenie's ready-to-wear department should prove helpful in choosing your winter wear.

When all is completed and the new wood assorted, we have no doubt the effort that was put upon it will be very satisfactory. The Library is constantly increasing in size and we hope the time may come when the committee will be able to give the library and reading room an extension." (William A. Bliss)

Loss Of Linemen Hits ’25 Prospects

Shawano is preparing for a great Athletic day. The feature of which will come in the afternoon when the high school gives battle to the Lawrence Fresh football team. All the stores will be closed and the streets will be decorated for the occasion. There will be an elaborate program beginning with a parade in the morning ending with a dance in the evening.

This game has been hanging fire for some time. Postponed several times and cloud cancelled ever, it has been finally set for November 11. It is going to be a big day in Shawano and they are going to work hard to win the game. Shawano has an excellent record so far this season, but the Fresh are going to spoil this holiday for them.

Mrs. Blackwood’s squad played Carroll last week and put in a heavy week of scrimmaging with the Varsity. They showed up well against the Varsity and are in good condition for the Shawano game. There has been a big change in the squad since the St. John’s game and they expect to give a good account of themselves at Shawano next week.

Carroll Gets Zero
End of 20-0 Score

Lawrence's ball was on the Carroll 46-yard line. Kotal made 7. Black of Carroll made a pass. Another pass to Landsverk was blocked. Hippie of Carroll then passed to Sterr on the Carroll 35-yard line. Sterr made 8 and on the next play Zussman on the Lawrence 35-yard line, Hoherr returned 5 yards. Cooke punted to the Carroll 35-yard line. Heidemann then put the block on the ball. Heidemann then went out. Heidemann then went in for the balance of the season against their opponents.

Should Carroll in turn defeat Car, and Lawrence defeat Hamline and Bos, Lawrence would be acknowledged as the "super team" leading the list with two wins and one game to go. Even although unbeaten, is not regarded as a leader since definite that-defeaties have weakened their teams considerably since their defeat against Bethel. Alliance, Columbus, Caucas and Monmouth have each but one game and consequently cannot be considered in the race thus far for this season.

Two Leagues Fear
Blue Title Seekers

Sport writers in the Midwest confer concerning Lawrence the edge in the race for the Midwest title with Car on their most season each container. Although Car and Carroll are expected as powerful teams still in the running, the amazing brand of football displayed against the Iowa U. team would seem to give Lawrence a position in a league by itself. Carroll is next in line for observation. Carroll with two Midwest upsets tucked under its belt has cleansing readily for title honors. Bethel is whipping its machine into tip-top form to meet the Carroll intruders Saturday. A win over Carroll by Bethel will lodge the M. V. conference inside-fourth place with the field, leaving Lawrence and Car as the leading entities.
