came so much under the spell of the meetings which bored the thinking students. Are graduates not allowed conventional expressions, they will find even less desirable channels. They will in many places make one chuckle with genuine and rich humor. The stories in which Mr. Arlen concludes the foregoing paragraphs in place of airless, starry new and unusual emotions upon the audience, must have meaning in everyday life; it must have meaning in everyday college lives, and it must be based on college experiences; it must be based on the mature viewpoint of the administrator, on the fact that they are no longer only values for the release of student sentiment.

Either type of meeting, we think, would be a mistake. It would be a mistake to invite ambition at the cost of realism, and it would be a mistake to carry the superficial and hastily served to entertain the superficial.

It would also be a mistake if the assemblies came under the spell of the architecture of the chapel and the associations connected with the present, that the students never slew off on college with yoga, or never, never, again indicated at "the faculty." For if the intemperate tendencies of undergraduate life is to satisfy every possible whim and wish. The Home of Hartstraw Studio

"Abnormal Psychics" Take Asylum Trip

The trip of Dr. Griffith's class in Abnormal Psychology to the Outagamie County Asylum last Tuesday gave members of the class a chance to apply their knowledge. The class, under the supervision of the attendant, started its tour of the institution. The primary interest of the class was centered upon the insane women. As usual, the insanes were unable to resist the suggestions of those who had visited the asylum. The second group, or the group of the insane men, was another story. These men had already been brought to the asylum and either were confined or had already been released. The matter of direct observation was left to the written records.

Several changes have been made in the course of study for this year as announced by Dr. C. C. Kinahan, head of the psychology department.

Graduate Students Eligible For Award

In order to encourage the quality of education and the practice of the arts and professions in the United States, the National Board for Professional Education and Research and the United States Government have established the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Fellowships for Advanced study abroad. The graduate students of Lawrence College are eligible for this financial assistance. Any who are interested should file their applications in writing on or before December 31, 1926, with Harry A. McCleary, secretary, 2206 Pershing Avenue, New York City. Applications forms may be mailed by Mr. McCleary to any address on request.

Changes In Library To Aid Reference Study

Lawrence students will be able to do more extensive reference work, with the recent installation of a reference desk in the north reading room. There are also plans to install a desk in the south reading room during the second quarter. The books will be stored in the south reading room and will be available for consultation by students.

Kinahan Announces Curriculum Changes

Several changes have been made in the courses in the department of Economics for next year as announced by Dr. C. C. Kinahan, head of the department. The course in International Trade Policies, a new course offered for the first time, will be given in the first quarter. Money and Banking, which was formerly a one-quarter lecture course, has been changed to a two-quarter course. Other courses have been added to the plan, as well as some courses have been dropped, and some have been moved to the end of the quarter.

All-College Advertising Board Asks Cooperation

The All-College Advertising Board, which is directed by the student senate, will meet this week to discuss plans for the spring term. The board consists of the head of the journalism department, a representative of the All-College club, and a student representative appointed by the student senate.

Do what Toledo did

Once Toledo had a nuisance, a tract of swamp land near the lake, a boader of mosquitoes, foul odors and fogs. But an automatic pumping station, equipped with motors made by the General Electric Company, turned the swamp into dry land—and abolished the menace to the city.

This is one example of what electricity can do. As you meet life's problems, think of electricity as a valiant and ever-ready ally.

Western and Middle Western college men, from better material for business executive positions than their eastern brothers, according to a recent statement by Roscoe Henry by Henry L. Du-barry, president of the Cities Service Corporation of New York. "We have been  better luck with western men."

Approximately 98 percent of the men who have climbed to the top in the executive organization are products of western schools, Mr. Durbary said.

"The striking thing about Mr. Durbary's statement," comments attorney George W. Williams of Colorado, "is the effect it should have on parents and prospective college students here in the west. The average parent and high school student is very eager to go to some eastern school, not because of the theory that he will get better training for his life work."

May Olden Times

May 1900: The Athletic Association of the college is preparing for Field Day. There is some talk of bringing the Boys boys up again to participate with our boys. Bishop college has no excuse not to have a large band. This is possible, and they have gained by this year's and try their skill with ours.

October 1900: The general purpose of the meeting of the college held on Wednesday evening was to organize the orchestra. Let us still increase it and keep it as we can.

October 1900: Friday evening, September 19, the ladies of the college were entertained very pleasantly by the Lawrence Society at the Lawrence mansion. The girls had been invited to bring their fancy work, but the variety of industry thus displayed proved no check to the sociality of the evening. An interesting word contest took place, at the conclusion of which a very pretty prize was presented to Miss Jane Woodsmall, the successful competitor.

November 1900: The roll of all the students is now called by the President at Monday evening at chapel. This was first adopted this year and is in several ways is found to be considerable of an improvement on the old way.

December 1900: The Ryne High School displays its normal enterprise in furnishing a better course. This is a new trait to the citizens of the college and the students. There are six entertainments in the course. Perhaps the best is the last; it is a better one by Dr. Gunsaulus on "Amerindian." The price is one dollar for the course to students. February 1891: The senior class have decided to wear full beards, with the exception of the ladies. This is a step in the right direction. Reform is in the air. This will distinguish them from the lower orders, and is cheaper than silk hank." April 1891: Mr. Holts, the houseman, has rigged up a small steam-launch which he will rent at a reasonable rate for the use of the college. Here is an opportunity for Saturday recreation.

June 1891: The ladies of Ormsby Hall presented the Athletic Association with a beautiful blue and white silk hank. On each side "Lawrence U" was traced with old silk.

July 1891: Of Wisconsin Staggs, trip at the Delta Upsilon house last Saturday.

Boston Cotton, '96, made known this week that his father and mother have arrived. Mr. Wilson Henry has left for Canada, where she will spend the summer with her father and sisters.

the late George F. Riederly, one of the most honored and efficient teachers. Mr. Pauley pronounced his gift an American step and at once taken to serve the name of the department.

April 30, 1900: Although the Girl's Club trip was much shorter than that of the boys it was one which will always recall with pleasure.
April 7 they were for games at the Arben Oakfield, after which they gave a con-
"We Do Not Advertise Comparative Prices."
