American College Awakes To Its Own Failings, Says Trever

"Both the students and the teachers were faced with the problem, and the situation was complicated by a feeling of insecurity among the students. A number of them were afraid to make any move toward self-improvement, and many others were simply content with their mediocre performance. The situation was further complicated by the fact that the college administration was not very effective in dealing with the problem. The students were not satisfied with the courses offered, and the faculty was not very interested in the students' needs. The administration was also criticized for its lack of flexibility and responsiveness to the students' problems."

This was the statement made by Dr. A. A. Trever, professor of history, in the addresses he delivered before the student body at commencement Wednesday morn-

"It is a question of fact," the speaker said, "that the conditions in the college and universities of the country are not such as to encourage the student reports made at Harvard, Dartmouth, and Yale. These institutions, in effect, reveal infantile thought, lack of ambition, and indifference. They are in the main the same as those which have prevailed in the past, faith in the future, hopelessness for the present, skepticism toward the future. It is a question of faith, but there is no faith in the future, there is no hope for the present, and there is no confidence in the future."

Dr. Trever continued, "I am not asking you to adopt any particular plan of action. I am simply pointing out the facts as I see them."

Dr. Trever said that there were a number of problems that had to be solved in order to improve the educational system. He said that the problems were not new and that they had been present throughout the history of education. He said that the problems were "the same as those which have prevailed in the past, faith in the future, hopelessness for the present, skepticism toward the future." He said that the problems were "not new and that they have been present throughout the history of education."

Torrie, and Dr. Arthur Weston as the speakers. Student records show that the various forms of extra-curricular activity were also conducted on these two days by members of the junior and senior classes. Friday evening was a gala night for both the freshmen and the upper-classes when the members of the upper classes entertained the fresh-ments in the Alexander gymnasium. The early part of the evening was given to games and music, and the latter half was devoted to dancing. The Brokaw Hall band furnished the music. Punch and snacks were served for refreshment.

On Saturday evening the temporary classes of the class were elected, the result of the vote being announced in student chapel on Friday, September 25. Convocation was held each day during Freshman week, with Dr. Wilt-

Summer Vacations of Faculty Are Varied

Dr. O. P. Fairfield toured in the Southern States, with the exception of New Mexico, which he did not visit. Dr. E. B. O'Flaherty, assistant professor of music, spent two weeks in New York City and returned to Appleton shortly before college opened. In the summer Dr. MacMurray drove across the country in his Chevrolet and spent some time in Europe, visiting France, Spain, Italy, and Germany. Miss F. F. Findlay, wife of the professor of art, spent the summer in England, France, and Switzerland. Miss M. L. Field, assistant professor of music, spent two weeks in southern Ohio, making some of the difficult mountain passes, and covering the best 2,000 miles with as few troubles as possible.

Professor C. S. Field traveled in Europe for the Bureau of University Travel. Professor H. J. Lowne was in England, France, and Germany. Miss M. Field, who had spent the winter in Florida, spent some time in New York, and before returning to Appleton went to Washington, D. C., where they visited Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Kline, at their home near the university.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Denny also spent the summer abroad. She travelled with a party composed of students and instructors of the university who not only making a sight-seeing tour, but also helped with the agricultural work. The party went from England through France, Belgium, Austria, Germany, Hungary, Jugoslavia, and Russia.

Dr. John E. Breyer was in Appleton most of the time, working on his lectures on geology and geology.

Contributors' Column

After leaving the viewpoint of the faculty and upper classes on Preb, the freshmen, it is proper that the freshmen should have an opportunity to express themselves. The English teachers gave them the opportunity in assigning them to be writers for that section. The results were extremely interesting.

The response of most freshmen was highly commendatory to the week. It was generally conceded that such an experience is not to be had by the average college year. A few of the groups had benefited the entire institution—it removed the veneer of ignorance that made the freshmen "dumb" or "ignorant"; for the upper classes and faculty. At the same time it made a more salutary thing and made complex work more possible.

In the case of one or more of the faculty members the freshmen were always two sides to everything, the freshener gave a free-thinking attitude. One group of freshmen "free-thinker" felt an improved bunch of deep ignorance in the primary methods used in most of the lectures. A few of the all lecturers was given to all freshmen and these papers contained a complete outline of most of the lectures given, and in the process explained an outline which was patiently and彬彬有礼地 listened to. In one class it would seem to be a casual observer that most freshmen do not appreciate the subjects and that some of the others were treated like the others as to omissions from the outline. With all the lectures outlined it seemed that the best of them was drawn-out and faltering to maintain the interests of the audience. When an outline was understood and understood in twenty-five minutes, it was a pleasant state of things to spend sixty minutes on the same thing.

Another difficulty that may arise for the freshmen is the sudden change from high school life, and the freshman also made the Freshmen "bad" or "common". The results were highly commendatory to the week. It is not always to be expected that the officials of many of the big cities, and the advantage start given this year's freshmen by the innovation that some of the officials and individuals or groups, as a means to be used by the administration for disciplining the student body and as a laboratory for students in their field.

Our Faculty

Lawrentian College has a faculty it is a worthwhile thing to know. It is discouraging to find that even some members of the faculty itself lack the training and responsibility to be in touch with the news in the history of Lawrence, and, if it lies within each of us to think upon both sides of the issues of the college year and present them without bias or prejudice.

A Who's Who of the Lawrence faculty has been published with the information of one or more of the faculty members. We refer not only to the personnel part but also to the college life, the faculty would be of interest to the student body. Too few of us know that the Lawrence faculty is a body of men and women who have been honored by awards and recognition of their work. This list, we are told, is a Who's Who of the Lawrence faculty and faculty and in company with a group of students and teachers, this group was brought about by the efforts of many of the big cities, giving rise, where they met Madison.

Join the City and College Y

From home life, and the freshmen must undergo a series of adjustments in order to fit into the new atmosphere. The process is not simplified by the presence of several hundred opportunities, too isolated from the city以至于 rendering, to consider the plight of the newcomer. The process is made more possible by being the aggregate of the experiences and the higher order of the class was permitted to participate in Lawrence. An uninformal report given by the highest degree, therefore low school grades, forty students were refused admission to Lawrence. Because of this it is anticipated that there will be fewer cases of weak eyes low high school grades, for the physical examination will be made more possible by being the aggregate of the experiences of the various accommodations.

The combined advantage of being a part of the Lawrence faculty and the advantage of being the Lawrence faculty and the advantage of being a part of the Lawrence faculty and the advantage of being the Lawrence faculty and the advantage of being the Lawrence faculty and the advantage of being the Lawrence faculty was given to all freshmen.

Greetings, everyone, and many greet­ings. What did you do this summer besides your regular studies? We are such fresh women—how many classes have you missed. Do you think you've been planning your new good such that a small change—there are many good uses—position and class week, and so on.

After which we make the banal re­mark that we're all back, and for some peculiar reason, proud of it.

By way of official announcement the Dampkin wishes to inform the public at large that this column is contemplating a change in circumstances. To put it more mildly, we are trying to think of a new name. It is removed in official circles (as they say in the newspapers) that "Dampkin", although clever, is much too indicative of the general nature of the column. A change in the title of the column, it is felt, would always be a salutatory measure.

Further some time, there was a little bit on the drawing of many of the states bearing the label "Lawrentian Jake and Dampkin." Because have published the box and thrown away the key (probably some harmless idea of a fancy joke). However we have not last at present to make any choice contributes. The first is:

dresses and minor injury, will be seen for. The infirmary is completely equipped for the use of electrical hospital equipment, and a small laboratory is being fitted up and will be used for blood examinations and analyses.

Dr. R. Y. Landis, who has been an assistant physician, will diagnose and attend all cases reported to the infirmary. He is a graduate of New Medical College, and is now in the office of Dr. J. B. Brandes and Dr. McCombs in Oshkosh.

Miss Irene McCombs, of St. Croix Falls, who is acting in the capacity of college nurse, will be in charge of the infirmary. Before entering her professional training at the University of Minnesota Hospital, Miss McCombs graduated from Lawrence. While in college, she was very active in Y. W. C. A. work and a member of Mortar Board.

A definite schedule of hours, during which Dr. Landis will see students at the infirmary, and during which Miss McCombs will be on duty, has been made out, and students are asked to conform with these hours as far as possible.

Several students were treated for minor injuries and dressing at the infirmary during the first week of work. All physical examinations have been made in the building, most of the students being of the freshman class. The infirmary will be used for the examinations of the apprehension, for which arrangements are now being made.

A Year's Leave

George Christoph, Freshman Coach

Most important cog in the Blue front wall, Coach Christoph has been acting as manager during the 1924 football season. For the past two years he has been working hard in the athletic department, and his football team in the fall of 1924 was one of the most shifting. Combination after combination has been tried out in an effort to get an even smooth-moving team. Brain, Blumert, and Heidtman have all been missing signals. But, fall, snows, Drake, Foerta, Hungarian, and Siegelhaven, have alternated in full and half back positions.

Lawrence faces one of the hardest schedules in years with one of the most difficult games at the very start of the season. Coach Callin and Davidson are not working daily with a squad of thirty men who all show promise of real fight. All the games this year will be hard battles, as all the conference teams hope to man up very strong in early season training.

Dorothy Baker, '26 of Clintonville, spent several days with Kappel, Delva sisters last week.

George Christoph, Freshman Coach, will assume the duties of all Lawrence athletics and varsity basketball coach while A. C. Denney, who now holds those two offices, attends Columbia University the coming year.

Lawrence opens the 1926 football season with Marquette University Saturday at Waltham Field. At present the Blues are still in the season stage with but a few days to adjust into a well rounded team. Rumors from Milwaukee have it that Coach Morrey has a light but exceptionally fast team with which to meet Marquette Saturday.

The latest practices have seen an entirely new combination working together. Captain Counsell is back in his old tackle position stronger and mightier than ever. The way he has been teeing up the fresh line is reassuring promises nothing good for the Hilltoppers. The other tackle positions are being filled by new men. Right, the regular center for the past two years, is more than filling the bill at one end, while Jessup, last year's fresh, is being groomed for the other. Both boys are tall and rangy. Baur, last years end, and has been down with an injured leg, but looks like a likely fighter and a few more days should see him back fighting for the old place at end. George, another fast end, is coming to the scene. The guards have been shifted back and forth as is no effort to find a combination that is well balanced. Homer had, Arts and Weinkauf have been filling these places, and Weinkauf is also being tried at center. Johnson, a big end-stuffer, who was injured at the opening of last season, is also coming over at the center post. The backfield has probably suffered the most shifting. Combination after combination has been tried out in an effort to get an even smooth-moving team. Brain, Blumert, and Heidtman have all been missing signals. But, fall, snows, Drake, Foerta, Hungarian, and Siegalhaven, have alternated in full and half back positions.

Social ringing parties are now popular as a social function, was Miss Wilcox's special, which took the number one to the small store, thus through the valley clipe to the Jack Rabbit at Warner's, and finally to the Candle Glow Tea Room, where the tea was found and supper served.

Upcoming's Summer

Amusement of the marriage of Miss Moore, ex'25, Muriel, in Richmond, and Miss Alix, ex'25, Apples, was made early in August. The wedding occurred June 29, 1926 at Washington, Illinois, but was not announced until later in the summer. At present Mr. and Mrs. Moore are living in Richmond, where Miss Alix will continue her study of music. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will soon announce the marriage of Miss Alix.

Good Summer

Miss Padrick, a former Lawrence student, has been given the position of director of athletics this year. A. C. Denney is taking a leave of absence in order that he may study at Columbia University.
