There are many subjects of one's own concern which, because of lack of time, the Lawrentian may not consider it possible to comment upon in the space at their disposal. These are other topics which are not important enough to hold front-row attention or to warrant an article of the editor, but still others which have been brought to the attention of the editor.

This column is the place for subjects such as these, and contributions from readers and faculty members are welcome. However, some items will not be used for aiding the petty paper and editorial groups to make decisions.

CHERUB LEADER ELECTION

The manner in which the election of a Chere leader for the corporation was carried on is a subject of much favorable comment since that time. In the first place, a student body the size of ours surely can produce more accented from which to choose than was presented in us at the last. Only five men were called for, and we ought to elect that many to take the requirement of the current college.

Given sufficient time for study and preparation, a perfect result will be obvious. It provides a fine opportunity for advancing the spirit of the student body, and it will do the work and the responsibility of the editor, as well as it will provide all avowed aims, the administration in the student body in the selection of those who are to stand as the leaders of the various clubs and the ordering of textbooks.

Woman's Club Serves

As Employment Bureau

Mrs. and women of Lawrence college are well aware of the many opportunities available to them from the employment department of the Woman's club. Appleton and its agencies have been steadily helped by the college in many ways, and this spirit has again been evidenced by the help of the Woman's Club.

Caring for children, waitress work in private homes and earning room and board in private homes are the types of work which are more frequent, although this work is obtainable. Even snow-shoveling is less frequent, although this work is obtainable. Even snow-shoveling is less frequent, although this work is obtainable. The Woman's Club Serves

Now that the opinions of both the fraternity and non-fraternity men have been gathered it seems that the real merit of a Chere leader election should not take place until we have had real evidence of their actual working conditions and the eligibility to the office of a Chere leader. The fact that only about one half of them responded left few possibilities open to the student body.

But why should eligibility to the office of Chere leader be restricted to fraternity men? There is a large number of non-fraternity men who should have been able to present names, if it can be called such, worthy of any state as displayed in Friday's demonstrations.

The election was hurried and uncertain. While it is true that politics are apt to play a large part in a democratic election, still if group-playing is an important thing in our athletics, as we are led to believe, then the prospects should be tried out under actual working conditions and the election should not take place until we have had real evidence of their ability. When the sun goes down

More than 350,000,000 incandescent lamps, with a combined light of nine billion candlepower, make city streets, stores, and homes brighter than ever before.

In bungalow or mansion, workshop or factory, dormitory or auditorium, there is no excuse for poor illumination. We have cheaper and better lighting in the electric lamp than ever before; for the dollar that bought 1,115 candlepower-hours of light with the carbon-filament lamps of 1883, now buys 16,100 candlepower-hours of light with the Mazda lamps.

Not only more light, but correctly applied light, is the order of the day. The electric lamp, with its filamentless yet highly concentrated light source, lends itself ideally to reflectors, shades, and screens.

It is controlled beauty—safe light. And illumination becomes an exact science.

During college days and in after life, correct lighting must ever be paramount importance to the college man and woman. Good lighting is the worthy handmaiden of culture and progress.

New Tennis Courts Completed And Now Ready For Students

Work on the new tennis courts at Whitting field has been completed and the courts are now ready for use by college students. These courts cost approximately $400, of which $300 was donated by Mr. George A. Whitting of Neenah.

The courts were designed and built by Professor Fred Trezise, who supervised their construction. They are made of clay and limestone and are modeled after the best standards in high class tennis courts of this country. More than a mile of tile has been laid beneath the courts to drain the water off into the river. There are areas of these courts now at the command of the students, and combined with those already on the campus, the total number of college courts is twelve.

To Learn To Serve You Better

Mr. Claude Snider is attending the Annual Convention of the National Restaurant Association in Atlanta, Georgia, October 5th to 8th.

At this convention the progressive restaurateur finds an answer to the questions which have been uppermost in his thoughts for the past year: "How can I improve my services?" "What’s new and tempting in foods?" "What can I do to make my place more attractive and pleasing to the public?"

The unique position of the Snider’s Restaurant in Appleton is proof of the close study we have given to these problems. In the past we have spared no effort or expense to provide the finest foods and service—to make this a delightful place in which to dine. That is why, in the minds of Appleton people, the name Snider’s stands for the best in restaurant service—a standard by which to judge all others.

This year, as in the past, Mr. Snider hopes to return from the convention with a fund of interesting new ideas for making Snider’s Restaurant, more than ever before, the favorite dining place of discriminating Appleton.
