Campus Property Adjoining Whiting Field

The purchase of thirteen acres of land adjoining the Whiting
Athletic Field was completed this week, according to an announce ment made today by the college office. The land was purchased from F. M. Jenkins, a former student at Lawrence, at present on detached service plans concerning the future disposal of the new property, as the acquisition was made mainly to provide room for possible future expansion or needs.

Girls Urged To Join Y.W.C.A. Next Week

During the coming week every Lawrence girl will give an oppor tu nity to affiliate with the only all campus organization for women by becoming a member of the Y.W.C.A. A special meeting will be taken Monday evening for the election of new officers. Those who have been members will find that the new organization will meet their needs.

College Plans For Special Edition of The Billboard require 200 Boosters For Special Edition

If enough students of the college desire to attend the Lawrence Athletic events, plans are definitely set for November 13, plans start in earnest. Of course, there are certain conditions which must be met along these lines, every effort will be made to interest all the students, and plans will be enacted in Lawrence's history. Commit ture of the students, the large task and involves a great number of students. There will be no failure, so that plans will be the best in Lawrence's history. In conclusion, Dr. Peabody said, "I feel in point of fact that the men and women who have made possible the works of physics and chemistry, here, were people of far simpler lives and were far less obtuse than we are. They received the wealth of privileges we enjoy today, but they did not have the billions of people that have been founded on the fault line of the education system for the past twenty years. They were educated to take what they had and were trained in the arts of Eve."

Meetings of the club will follow the same gate. Human life should not be exposed to possible negligence of a driver or the menace of a defective car.

Dr. H. N. Delbridge, chairman of the Lawrence athletic board: “I think we have needed a band for a long time. It means a lot to the football team: ‘It means a lot to the interest and make students practice regularly, some definite inducement for them. I believe Lawrence can and should have a band. The financial support should come from the trustees and not from the students, but it is the responsibility of the students to be made directly responsible for the financial support of such an organization, for they are already overburdened with expenses. I think that the trustees should appropriate a definite sum of money each year in order to help the band. It is an indication of fraternity growth and, in our opinion, a very profitable thing for the evening or for a few dances.

The north gate at the George A. Hendricks field is the only claim to be made on this article. There is no doubt that Lawrence campus can and should have a band. The best advertisements a college can have are those that are given by the band, and the students will be able to afford such advertisements if they are given by the band. In order to stimulate conversation and fill up an afternoon to be spent lazily fooling around, the big green-cap rule.

The newspapers report that the ‘Grand Band’ planned, valued at $45,000, has been struck from the Concordian. It is probable that some member of the ‘predominant fraternity’ wishes to make his fraternity’s own, but prefers to keep his pin. I think that the fraternity should appropriate a definite sum of money each year in order to help the band. It is an indication of fraternity growth and, in our opinion, a very profitable thing for the evening or for a few dances.

“A houseparty was given by the Theta Phi fraternity at their house on Monday night. The house is on the north side of the street, and was filled with smoke and the noise of people talking. It is not a good idea to have a houseparty in the middle of the city, especially when the weather is cold and it is dark outside. Now that the intramural cross country event is safely past, work on the regular cross country meets is progressing rapidly. A small squad is working out daily for the team, but there are not as many for girls as there are for boys. Every man would like to go, and every man who does will run with a back unit and get his first look at the team he has been practicing on. With other institutions coming from the West, it is expected that Lawrence will make a good showing.
