Elected Drehrer To Be Editor Of 1928 Ariel

Don Heads In Chosen Business Manager At Annual Election

George Drehrer will be the editor and Don Head the business manager of the 1928 Ariel, as a result of the Affairs committee's balloting held in chapel today morning.

Drehrer polled 119 votes and Arthur Meehan, the other candidate for editor, 101. The total for those two was over for Head; but 120 votes were cast for Head busi­ ness manager, 103 for Overseas

As promised to the sopho­ mines last fall, Friday, Milton Head­ man, the new business manager, will use the world for the editor of business manager.

Jorgen D. Foss, who is the successful candidate will visit Charles Witte and George Student with the 1927 Ariel.

"Lawrence College--Girls Fit to Wed" Headline In Times

College officials were greatly surpr­ised to notice, in a recent issue of the New York Times, the following startling headline:

"Lawrence College To Announce" Complete Sun­ set Production

The announcement of the aim of this production, which is subject of talk on the campus, was such that one might be tempted to believe that the Lawrence College--Girls fit to Wed was planned by the Times in order to draw attention. It seems, however, that the entire announcement was made by the Lawrence College, which has been active in the world of literature for a number of years.

CHRISTMAS 1925 VS. CHRISTMAS 1895
The magic of Christmas multiplied by the most wonderful gift of all—our Overland Whippet Sedan. This arms-lengthed all-purpose car sauntered its way into the Saturday Evening Post last week. Above the words "The magic of Christmas multiplied by the most wonderful gift of all—our Overland Whippet Sedan" was a picture of a religious nature depicting the joy of going to church on Christmas morning in a new Whippet. This sacrilege adorned a double-page ad in the Saturday Evening Post last week. From time to time the Lawrentian has run more or less comment on the nature of this year's Christmas programs. Messiah was recently made of the special organ selections and other music, the product of our own conservatory. Perhaps the outstanding speech this year was that of Bellini W. Howard of Harvard. The reason for the heap of Professor Brown, it seems to the present writer, is due to the atmosphere of the sparkly of the speaker in the speech in what is nothing less than a manuscript. Chapels and convocations will never amount to the complete attention of the student body while professors and others sit on reading their talks. The man geared life, curiosity, and zest is absent. Lawrence in its public speaking departments requires its students to expound—but without the aid of the sparkly of the speaker in the speech in what is nothing less than a manuscript. Chapels and convocations will never amount to the complete attention of the student body while professors and others sit on reading their talks. The man geared life, curiosity, and zest is absent. Lawrence in its public speaking departments requires its students to expound—but without the aid of nothing. Why is our chapel speaker with vastly greater platform experience and not just the answers. "I'm taking a correspondence course in English" or "Oh, a post-graduate, eh!"

"This'll be on the house," said the bartender as he nailed another shingle to the bar. "But real, I don't feel that I deserve this."
"Teacher, I'm taking a correspondence course in English," said the bartender as he nailed another shingle to the bar. "But real, I don't feel that I deserve this." The teacher said, "But real, I don't feel that I deserve this."
"Well, you know, I caught hell from the boys."
"And when I got back to the house, I caught hell from the boys." The teacher said, "But real, I don't feel that I deserve this."
"I fell down and felt like I was going to die."
"A certain girl felt like she was going to die."
"We talked of Cousin Fred."
"She has a family—"
"But what could one say to the teacher as he nailed another shingle to the bar."
"A nice family."
"And they act with us in the parlor."
"The next year the problem becomes even greater, and more oppressive. We plunge ahead, more disgusted and extravagant than the year before, and through it all is steering the real Christmas spirit. Orators and speakers may concern and applaud the growth in Christmas spirit, charity and whatnot, but we all know that Christmas and presents are more synonymous than Christmas and Christ."

TALK LAWRENCE
It's human nature to go back to the "old home town" and boast about one's college and the things one has done there. And if you're a good student, you'll make your hometown proud, and do something worthwhile for your college while you are at home during the Christmas holidays.

Talk Lawrence! Tell your friends, particularly your high school friends, of her rank among western colleges, of her educational advantages, of her fraternities, of her student life, her athletic record, her fraternities, sometimes and clubs. Talk Lawrence! You know which people in your high school measure up to the Lawrence standard. Make an effort to see those people while you are at home, and then TALK LAWRENCE!

Lettermen Entertained At Banquet

Written Comments On Success of Plan for Securing Athletic Eligibility

Lettermen of the 1926 football squad were entertained by Athletic Association at a banquet Saturday evening, held at the Cosmopolitan Motor Hotel. The banquet in an annual affair given at the close of the fall season for those who have scored the largest "L". The following letterman's were present this year.

Coach Mike Costello gave a review of the season and also sketched the prospects for 1927. Among the lettermen who will be back next year are Edson, Jones, Hart, Gilmour, Hinton, Shaver, Hunter, Berfel, Johnson, and several whose names are unknown to the editor of this paper.

D.I.'s Win Volley Ball Championship

In the most Kelley contested volley ball game since the M. C. A. meet was many years ago, the D.I. defeated the Theta in the championship. The game was not started until the score of 9. The Theta's then made a strong rally which won the championship for them. The Theta's then were defeated by the D.I.'s who have four of the six lettermen in the fraternity. The Theta's then made another rally, which won the championship for them. The Theta's then were defeated by the D.I.'s who have four of the six lettermen in the fraternity. Lawrence College students who are in Ohio, who is a senior and has had his credit for three years past. He stated that an ideal situation had been arrived at this season by the arrival of the most competent of the various members of the sport, and that this plane would be strictly followed in the future. In reference to the game, and in the coming year he said that the college would do all in its power to attract high school men, but would not so to methods which would in any way be questionable.

Elmer Ott and Francis Bloomer were chosen as the captain and vice captain of the team composed of four lettermen and several new men, led by the husky middle weight, who is expected to tour with a victory. He stated that the Theta's campaign will be a strong one which will win the championship for them. The Theta's then were defeated by the D.I.'s who have four of the six lettermen in the fraternity. Kappa Delta

Holidays formal
The formal dinner given by Kappa Delta, December 18, is the crystalline climax of the busy season. The guests of the formal were carried out along the lines of a snow carnival, however, which provided the scenario for a novel masquerade. Themes, established about the room amid evergreen trees, and the Kappa Delta flowers in green lighting glowed at one end of the room. Professor and Mrs. W. L. Crow and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neller chaperoned the party. The Royal Student orchestra from Oakwood furnished the music.

Phi Mu

New Year's Eve
The pledges of Phi Mu sorority entertained the active members at a bridge party at the Osvald Glen tea room on Saturday, December 18. Tall red candles and pine wreaths adorned the Christmas touch. The first prize, a perfume holder, was won by Helen Javens.

Delta Sigma Tau

Christmas dinner
Delta Sigma Tau organizes the annual Christmas dinner was held in the dining room for all Sigma Chi and a Christmas tea for all the Actives and pledges. A Christmas sketch was presented by Mildred Helgeland, Ernest Milne, Anita Kowaler, and Suphi Rana.

Business Parties

Delta Tau Delta

Christmas party
The Delta Tau Delta house party was in the spirit of the Yuletide to the last word. The halls were covered with bright green and gold, and a large evergreen stood in one corner of the room. Small paper caps were given as favors and a Santa Claus presented each guest with a present. Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Ikhawa were the chaperones and Dr. Curtin's orchestra furnished the music.

Clubs

German Club Party
Thirty students attended the German club party Friday evening in the dining room of the Elks' hall, Saturday night, December 18. A program given by the faculty included songs, choral numbers, and a musical program was given.

Fireside Fellowship Party
Parke Charp held a small number of the Fireside Fellowship group at the Christmas party held Friday evening in the church parlors. Games were played and gifts were exchanged. A short devotional meeting was held after supper.
