Blues Expect Hard Battle From Beloit

First Midwest Conference Game of the Season Will Be Played at Armony C. & Tonight

Coach Christian’s basket ball team will meet a harder opponent, when they meet Beloit tonight, than they had expected earlier in the season. Oakenbush, former for the Blues, has taken his uneven team in a new game and, when they are not playing at that time without the services of that star guard, Vauzal, who has done superbly since his arrival.

Some idea of the strength of the new team can be gleaned from the fact that Hamline College has been defeated by this team in one of its games earlier in the season. Hence, excepting the lack of services of the Oakenbush, the Blues expect an offensive drive with that excellent team.

Drill on Better Effects

The question of the day is to be debated by the Beloit team. The Blue’s crack team will meet the Marquette University team.

Drill on Better Effects

One of the big items on the law course is the question: "Why, toward the end of the college term, a large number of the students will be transferring to other states. The data for these transfers with Oakenbush normal have not yet been arranged.

The blue of the two teams are as follows:

Affective: Mildred C. Sund

Meyers R. G. Grove C.

Sent both sides of the discussion on the question: "The best man for the office." This was the declaration made by Harry Snyder, ’29, prominent debater, after the conclusion of the debate. The Blue’s crack team will meet the Marquette University team.

LETS US IN ON IT

At last the epochal moment has arrived, and we find ourselves united in a common purpose! With the announcement of the organization of an honest-to-goodness ‘big time’ party, with its platform, a new day dawns for Lawrence College, and the future of campus organization, made up of the leavings, announces its platform, we hardly expect so it is probable that their program will advocate:

- Support of any program that will work for the worst interest of Lawrence.
- Policies cause much of this ill-feeling among fraternities. Our experience has not substantiated this among the five members fraternities.
- But these antagonisms exist between various fraternities. Our experience has not substantiated this among fraternities.
- Support of any program for the best interests of Lawrence.
- The whole enrollment of the college, attend the caucus meeting and that all those who are, and we believe this takes in practically the whole student body.
- The caucus states that its whole organization is ‘founded upon mutual trust of one another.’ Is it too Utopian to ask why the whole student body is open to anyone who wishes to discuss this problem.
- ‘The best man for the office.’
- ‘Improvement of rushing conditions to facilitate cooperation among fraternities.
- ‘Support of all programs for the best interests of Lawrence.’
- ‘The best man for the office.’
- ‘Support of all programs for the best interests of Lawrence.’
- ‘Support of any program for the best interests of Lawrence.’
