British Redcoats Once Garrisoned On This Campus

It was the British who once encamped on this campus over 100 years ago. They encamped near the present site of the Alexander Hall, now the home of the University Honors College. The British Redcoats, as they are known today, were a feared and respected military force during the American Revolutionary War. They were considered to be a formidable enemy, and their presence on campus serves as a reminder of the past.

Tennis Team Opens Season Against Ripon

Heide and Haneman Are Only Last Year's Players Returned by Lack of Practice

After only a few days of initial practice, Coach Peters' tennis team will meet Ripon at Ripon this afternoon. Heide and Haneman were selected by Coach Peters to represent Lawrence in the first meet of the year.

Ripon has had a short practice period due to weather conditions, but advance information indicates that they will have a strong team. A high percentage of last year's squad is back and in addition several promising men from the freshman class are trying for positions on the team. This will be Ripon's first match of the year.

The Lawrence team will be made up of two veterans and two newcomers. Heide and Peters is playing his fourth year of varsity tennis, and only serious opposition point to a very successful last year for "Snook." This will be Heide's second year, and with one year of experience behind him, he should prove a valuable man to Coach Peters.

Bolster and Parker are the new members of the team. Little is known of their ability, but inasmuch as they were selected from the larger group of aspirants for tennis honors men. Heide and Peters is playing his fourth year of varsity tennis, and only serious opposition point to a very successful last year for "Snook." This will be Heide's second year, and with one year of experience behind him, he should prove a valuable man to Coach Peters.

All four members of the squad will play in the first meet at Ripon. Heide, Bolster and Heide and Haneman will be paired in the doubles, as will Parker and Parker.

Last year's team beat Ripon, but the matches this year promise to be as exciting, if not more so, as last year's game.
