Greeks Groups Pledge Total Of Sixty Men

Ban On Automobiles Continues This Year

The success of the new policy regarding the use of automobiles by seniors has been such that the community has continued to encourage it. The need for this policy is obvious in light of the fact that many seniors have pledged to use their cars exclusively for business purposes. The policy has been effective in preventing the misuse of automobiles by seniors.

Marion Talley Will Make Appearance At Chapel Oct. 7

The community artist series for this year has been announced, and it is expected that the appearance of Marion Talley, the twenty-year-old pianist maestro, will be of great interest to the community. Miss Talley, whose concert is to be announced on a future date, has already appeared in a number of concerts, and it is hoped that the community will have the opportunity to hear her perform.

Don Gebhardt Proclaimed In-—

The Wisconsin Telephone Company announced today that Don Gebhardt, the Wisconsin Republican columnist, has been appointed the new director of the company's Wisconsin Department. Gebhardt, who has been with the company for ten years, will assume his new duties on November 1st.

Annual Lawrence Walk Around To Be Held Friday Night

Get acquainted with that Frank Gifford you've been admiring so long. Meet that handsome, tall fellow, standing in the center of the crowd. Tall, small man, small, brown-haired, brown eyes, black mustache. Let me have an opportunity to get to know each other better. We're all Cadets and Cadettes, and we all know that Cadets have a high status.

Blues Tackle Marquette In Season Debut

Goodell promised in—

Although lacking in material and experience, yet determined to close up to the Cadets, the 1927 Viking football machine, opens its season tonight against Marquette University, and with a new team that has been more powerful than any team at the Milwaukee school in recent years, and the Marquette men are out to set up their own records against Lawrence last year.

On Artists' Series This Year

Fullinwider Plays

Professor Percy Fullinwider, professor of music, will conduct all the student bands during the regular season. It is expected that Fullinwider will also conduct the student orchestra at the annual fall concert.

Student Body Makes Only Slight Shift

Conservatory Enrollment Is Almost to 200 Mark; All Classes Full

A slight increase in enrollment is reported in the conservatory of music, and a slight decrease in the student body of the college of liberal arts is reported. This decrease is expected to continue, and the college of liberal arts has 200 students enrolled, ten fewer than last year.

Library Hours

Much indignation and concern has been evident the past week over the rumored change in library hours, but as usual there is little foundation to the rumor. For a short time the library administration entertained a plan to shorten the evening library period, but after thorough investigation decided to make only one alteration in the present schedule. The library will henceforth be closed during the hour from 5:45 to 6:45 in the evening.

If the outburst of enthusiasm for evening work at the library, and the general concern over the shortening of the library period, can be credited to studiousness, Lawrence scholars are to be complimented. However, we are tempted to believe that in many cases it was the result of the usual prejudice against change of any kind. Whichever it is, the proposed change has incited a keen appreciation of the library.

In an interview with our paper today, Miss Tarr, the head librarian, expressed a wish that the library could be a real center on the Lawrence campus. She also said that she had noticed, within the past two years, a greater tendency toward intellectual reading, a greater desire on the part of the students to cultivate an acquaintance with both modern and ancient literature.

This is as it should be. We have a remarkably fine library, but because it is one of the things we always have with us we are sometimes prone to abuse the privilege. One of the greatest results a college education can bring about is a sincere desire to live with good books. Cultivate it while you are here; your next residence may not have a library like this.

Conservatory Students!

We believe an explanation is due the Conservatory students. About two hundred music students who do not hold subscriptions to the Lawrentian have been making a regular habit of taking issues of the paper which are delivered to the dormitories, and when two hundred people who do not hold subscriptions take copies, two hundred students who pay for the Lawrentian lose out. This is decidedly unfair, and so we must ask the cooperation of the Conservatory students in this matter.

People have been appointed at each dormitory to whom conservatory students may deliver their subscriptions. Within the next two weeks the subscription price will be that recorded members of the All-college club, $2.75; after that the regular price, $3.00, will be asked. If this plan fails, a system of surveillance or of presenting an All-college club ticket will have to be instituted.

The management of Fischers’ Appleton theatre has registered a complaint against the apparent “mob action” of student thespians. The theatre manager, expressing a wish that the library could be a real center on the Lawrence campus. He also said that he had noticed, within the past two years, a greater tendency toward intellectual reading, a greater desire on the part of the students to cultivate an acquaintance with both modern and ancient literature.

Tennis Tourney To Start October 7

Please for the annual fall tennis tournament have been completed in the gymnasium, and on October 7, the matches will get under way. This tournament is a yearly event organized by Lawrence and is to be followed a line on site. From Lawrence news service.

Although "L" men are allowed to compete in the tournament, the freshmen are expected to give them plenty of opposition. Some of the most promising tennis in the tourney are Lee Evans, last year champion of Wisconsin academy, and Mark Cullin, champion of Appleton high school.

Entries must be made on October 3 and 4. Medals will be awarded for first place in both the singles and doubles.

Girls' Tennis Meet To Start Next Monday

The playing of the girls' tennis tournament, which officially opens the year for the spring game, will begin next Monday.

Girls will be allowed to sign up for the fall tennis tournament until November 10. October 1, according to a announcement made by Miss Katherine Winger, women's physical education instructor. There are slips in each of the varsity offices and Main Hall on which all those wishing to enter the tournament may sign.

Saturday afternoon Helen Zehns, of the W.A.A. tennis manager, will draw for places, and the resultant matches will be posted in Main hall.

The winner of the tournament will get the W.A.A. tennis trophy for herself and for her class while the runner-up will receive five dollars. This is a new ruling, as last fall only individual points were given.
