Ten-Minute Clubs

Three Ten-Minute Clubs have been organized at Lawrence this year, as compared to three of last year. The new clubs have been organized in Green Bay, Sheboygan, and Racine. Ten-Minute Clubs consist of a maximum of ten members meeting at the same time each week in the home of one of the members. The time of meeting is ten minutes before the regular school bell. Each member of the club must bring a picture to school and give a brief description of it to the other members. The clubs are sponsored by the Lawrencean, a student publication of Lawrence College, and are conducted by the Student Government Association. The purpose of the clubs is to bring together students who may not otherwise have an opportunity to meet and to provide an opportunity for the exchange of ideas and the development of personal relationships.

discussion of the topic "The Nature of Learning in the Modern University," Dr. Wright pointed out that the modern university is characterized by a focus on the development of individual students, rather than on the transmission of knowledge. He emphasized the importance of providing a supportive and stimulating environment for students, and the need for faculty members to be actively involved in the lives of their students. He concluded his talk by discussing the role of technology in the modern university, and the need to use it to enhance the learning experience.

The regular scheduled cross country meet between Lawrence College and Menasha College will be held on October 8th at 3:00 p.m. The meet will be held at the Menasha College campus. The regular scheduled cross country meet between Lawrence College and Oshkosh Normal will be held on October 15th at 3:00 p.m. The meet will be held at the Oshkosh Normal campus. Importance of Recognition

President Wriston's talk in chapel the other day was filled with recognition of the latest additions to Phi Beta Kappa, and congratulations were showered on the five seniors who are to affiliate with the national scholastic group and the oldest Greek letter organization in existence.

Those five names were read at convocation yesterday morning, another chapter was added to the pages of Lawrence's brilliant scholastic record book, and congratulations were opened by a few most successful seniors.

The 1929 fall group stands out as proof of the contention that a real and efficient part in college extra-curricular activities. The inclusion of a business manager, a journalist, the holder of the class speech, and two campus club presidents mark a wistful attempt at accomplishment. One is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, one of Theta Sigma Phi, and two have been honored by election to Mortar Board, national honorary sorority for seniors.

The Lawrence college chapter of Phi Beta Kappa can well be proud of the latest additions to its roll. Too often students who are heard from twice during the course of their college careers—once upon matriculation and the other upon graduation—are given high honors in scholastic work. Recognition of strong leadership characteristics is made by Phi Beta Kappa, and the so-called "bookworm," who attains a 95 scholastic average but who has made no other definite contribution to his college, is not always considered a leader.

Concerning Professors

President Wriston's talk in chapel the other day was filled with congratulations to his professors—under which term he includes all who assist in a university. "Study your professors—they will be glad to meet you."

He has taken an interest. A professor cannot attempt to register his presence in the life of a student because of its reputation as a bar to matrimony to reconsider.

Two professors at the University of California have completed a study of the comparative matrimonial advantages of the "dumb" and the bright girls, and their conclusions show the grades of the married students to be a shade higher than of the unmarried. Women in Phi Beta Kappa at the University, from 1874 to 1910, were found to be more religious at sight, says American Anti-Slave. Most of them have read the twelfth verse of chapter thirteen, II Corinthians: "Give me $5.00 if I passed in school this year?" "Give me $5.00 if I passed in school this year?"

H Lawrence Is Set For Game At Watertown

Blue and White Meets Northwestern at Illinois State City Tomorrow

Playing their first game of the season in the Wisconsin-Illinois conference, the Fighting Vikings will meet Northwestern college of Watertown Saturday afternoon at the northern city.

Northwestern, long the "football" of the Little Five, has already tasted defeat at the hands of two conference opponents, Ripon and Carroll, which makes the Blue and White the favorites. Aside from their record, little is known of the true strength of Northwestern. Lawrence on the other hand, has a deep and valuable defense against Marquette but fell down in its first Midwest City last Saturday.

Working Best

Coach Call has been driving the new line during the past week, as carefully to lay out the fruits shown in the previous encounters. When ruled to stop practices, the men, more and through long signal drill, practice with a wet ball, and light work on running track. Slight weather on Friday and Saturday will help materially to get up the pace of the team. Braden, Mosenloch and Washington high school star, were doing a good deal of ball-carrying during practice, and is almost certain to get into action on Saturday.

No major injuries for the Blue and White game have been reported, and CarrollLo, who was in full strength, several new men have been working out with the team, and none of them may be service tomorrow.

Last year Lawrence had no trouble in landing over Northwestern the turn of 26 to 7. Although the Vikings are not as strong as in 1926, they should, nevertheless, have no trouble Saturday. Mosenloch has been improving favorably. Barnes, who played halfback, is the game Saturday has been working out at quarterback during the week and may start in that position.

With Steinberg and Trenkle at halfbacks and Fischl at full, the Oshkosh line will have something to worry about. Whistman and Call are still the best men for end, with Buck and Fischl in the tackle berths. Albert and Ince, who have ever more abundant strength, are in the line to get into action on Saturday.

Important Games

On Tap For Week's Gridiron Schedule

With two games in the Wisconsin-Illinois conference, one in the Mid-West school and four in the Big Ten, besides several of the season's important conference battles, the Big Ten grid campaign swings into heavy work this weekend. Only one important international contest will be in tap, the Notre Dame-Navy game in the eastern section.

W-I Conference

In the W-I conference, Ripon meets its second league foe in Lake Forest. The game will be played Friday at Fond du Lac, and Ripon adherents hope to pick up two straight for the division. The other game will be played Saturday at Watertown where Lawrence opens its "Little Five" schedule against Northwestern, all

Mid-West Conference

The other game on tap, the Notre Dame-Navy game in the east, will meet conference opponents.

Big Ten Conference

Eyes of the football world are centered on the Notre Dame-Navy game is the east, while other important struggles on the Atlantic coast are the Brown-Temple and Yale-Boston-Harvard contests. On the Pacific coast Northern California plays at Stanford, and California meets affairs with Oregon.

BOOK TOPS

Robert Merrill is bringing out a new work by John Galsworthy with the promising name of "Adam and Eve". And James Branch Cabell has a novel that will appeal to many readers. "The Haunt of His Bridge" was published by the author.

JALNA

Miss Dora de la Roche is the story of a family—the Whiteoaks. Philip and Julia Jackson, her grandparents, have lived in the area for nearly a hundred years. The story is a study of the varied background of wildness and civilization, the eager search for meaning in life. Queer and strange and youthful women—of every type—are the main characters. The Whiteoaks are a family of reality. The book is an excellent example of poetry in the making and the psychology of genius.

A Day and Eve

It has been decided that the club would meet every second Sunday of the month. The first meeting of the club will be held at the home of Dr. Denyes on the evening of October 15.

Glow Tea Room

Mrs. Waterman entertained Xi chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota in the Glow tea room. A supper was held at the sorority house on Wednesday, October 12, at the Riverside Country Club. Patrons and alumnae of the sorority were present. Following the business Mrs. Waterman read "Adam and Eve". It is a study of poetry in the making and the psychology of genius.
