Cultural of Borneo Is Discussed by Denyes

"People are what they are, and what they do, because they belong, said Mr. J. L. Denyes, in his talk on "Borneo", at a meeting at the Exchange Wednesday morning. The country and the people of Borneo, Dr. Denyes explained, are a very rich mixture of influences. Borneo was divided among the Dutch, the British and the French twenty years among the average of this wild native.

"Arangas are not here, they are made," said Mr. Denyes.

Miss More Ovanna First Public Concert

In her first public appearance in Appleton, Miss Frances Moore, on leave of the conservatory faculty, delighted a large audience at the Pabst hall last night.

Miss Moore presented a varied program, in which she displayed a refined and phonetic style. In each key and heavy moment, her interpretation was charming, exhibiting great musicianship. Through careful shading of expression, and giving, her selection were made interesting. She gained applause.

Perhaps the best number of her program was the Allegro Agitato movement of the String sonata, a breezy Norwegian melody, in which she showed her ability in assimilation, modulating interpretation, and technique. The "Hungarian Rhapsody" by Popper was well interpreted. The program concluded with a brilliant performance of "The Waltz" by Stein.

A DREAM REALIZED

Ambitions and dreams of more than a generation ago will be realized next spring when ground is broken for the new Lawrence college gymnasium and plans indicate that the structure will be one of the best of its kind in the country. Every modern improvement and equipment will be included, including a swimming pool, hand ball and squash courts, three basketball floors with seating arrangements for 2,500, classroom and accessory features.

The new building will adequately allow for any expansion of the institution as new programs are made. As the enrollment of plans made by Lawrence for years, the gymnasium will stand as tribute to the spirit and loyalty which men and women years out of college are able to maintain towards their institution.

Determined to accommodate 2,500 people, cinder track, and other features.

President—What did the Revival of Learning begin?

Student—(chattering)—The night before the exam.

President—Over a time there was a man known to write for this column.

Student—Well, you know what happened then?

President—Yes, but you're the男生 doing it.

The loving cup lately presented to a certain fraternity must not be taken too seriously.

Lawrence and Carroll Meet At Waukesha

Vikings Will Clash With Team of Veterans; Land

Mark Cullen's Vikings will ride down the curtain on the 1927 gridiron season with a win in their last game if they meet the Carroll college Pioneers at Waukesha. They have had a hard go of it all week, and it is evident that their victory will get a big boost against the Aqua downs.

Carroll, which has won the championship of the WI conference for the past two years, is represented by a veteran team this season. Coach Armstrong has violated a precedent this year in preparing for the Lawrence game by having the team work with regular scrimmage Monday night, and is determined to get the strongest lineup on the field Saturday.

"Bad" Smith's Yeaglings Look For Better Battle With Down State Team

Prized for a hard battle, Coach "Bad" Smith's freshman football squad will meet the class men on the gridiron this afternoon in a battle for the high school honors of the city. Although setting definite in favor of the strength of the southern team, the record of the down-state team is a creditable one and a stiff fight is expected by the spectators.

With both teams possessing fast backsides and reliable forward passes, open formations and places will be the feature of the game. The Kenoshans, with Captain 1on, Facilit, and Archibald in the fray, will present a varied attack which has been successful so far this season. Franko, St. James forwards, and an exclusive block, round out the backfield. Coach W. C. Miller has an entirely green team, but according to all reports, what is lacking in experience is made up in speed.

The game promises to make the trip are: Backs—Vier- sten, Barnes, Fischl, Trankle, Ved- der, Jarrett, Steinberg, and Kirch; Bickel, Laird, Gifford, Aldrich, Mor-

Armistice Day Should Be Celebrated: Trever

Although I am opposed to making Armistice Day a day of war spirit, I believe that it should be celebrated. It should be celebrated in a peace way, a day to accentuate America’s citizenship, to remind us of sacrifices of those who died in war, to develop international-mindedness and patriotism. The students should be made to realize that all further meetings of the club should be open to all who are interested.
