Jacobson Wins Post Trackman

Lawrence students may use Appleton Municipal Course

On September 1, a project which is of prime interest to Lawrenceans and which promises to be another under spell to the college's athletic program, was brought to community. On that date the nine-hole municipal golf course was opened to the public, and an invitation was extended to each college student to come there to tour and to make up the new golf facilities.

The nine-hole course was laid out on forty acres, which was purchased by the Lawrence Park Commission. The land was given by the city for the purpose of providing a golf course and for public recreation.

Lawrence students will be able to use the municipal course for a nominal fee, and the proceeds will be used to maintain and improve the course. The municipal course is open to all Lawrence students, and the fee is $1 per round for members and $2 per round for non-members.

Celebrities To Appear in Community Artists Series

The tenth annual Community Artists Series, which will open its season on Tuesday, November 2, will feature the following concerts:

October 29, 1968

Tuesday, September 25, 1928

30, editor and business manager of the Lawrence Daily Advance.

The course has been in project for two years ago, the area was turned over to the school, and the construction of the new facility was begun.

Jacobson was appointed as the varsity trackman for the fall season.

A decrease of student mortality in the college during the last year was reported by Dr. Wriston, the resident in charge of the college hospital.

Dr. Wriston said the decrease in student mortality was due to better medical care and improved living conditions.

According to a computation made recently, the college has decreased 100 students this year, bringing the total student enrollment to 1,070.

This decrease is attributed to the better medical care and improved living conditions at the college.

The varsity cheer leader has charge of the varsity cheer squad and is responsible for the cheering at all athletic events.

The votes cast, winning the position by a majority of votes.

If the Pi Kappa Eta fraternity should win the scholarship trophy, it will be awarded an "L" sweater.

Lawrence song books were given as favors, and a musical program was presented by Virginia Larson, the varsity cheerleader at convocation Friday morning.

Lambda Alpha Psi, a national sorority, has a chapter on the Lawrence campus having the highest scholastic standing for the year. It is awarded annually to the sorority on the local campus having the highest scholastic standing.

The regular meetings of the Lawrentian staff will be held at 8:00 a.m. The meeting will be at Lawrence Memorial Chapel on Friday morning, and the regular meetings will be held at 1:00 p.m. The meeting will be held at the campus west of the Memorial Gym.

THE LAWRENTIAN

The Lawrentian is a student newspaper published every Tuesday and Friday during the college year by the Lawrentian News, Inc., Lawrence University, Appleton, Wisconsin. Subscription Rates: $1.25 per year; Mail $1.50; Per Copy, 5 cents.

LAWRENTIAN PLATFORM

1. Greater loyalty of student body students to Lawrence and traditions of the college.

2. Tenure of Lawrence's representatives.

With this issue of the Lawrentian appears the first plank of the new policy of the newspaper, as planned for the year 1928-29. No paper has ever completely accomplished anything unless a policy for a year or period of years can be formulated by which the newspaper can build or create practical enterprise, a value to future readers, and it is with this thought in mind that the staff has formulated a plan which it is hoped will accomplish something for the student body and the college. The new platform will be presented to students in planks, the first which appears today and the rest of which will follow in succeeding issues.

The first plank upon which the Lawrentian will base its season's campaign is one which very logically should be a plank in any loyal college newspaper. Loyalty to Lawrence was too vague to be of any practical use. The new plank, "Greater expression of student loyalty to the college and traditions of the college," not only expresses the spirit of the paper, but leaves a foundation upon which supporter of the student body and the college can be founded. There is no doubt that loyalty to Lawrence exists in the student body, and it is the purpose of this plank to suggest, apply, and support of college traditions and activities in such a way that the students will see their way clear to voice this loyalty in the proper channels of expression.

There are many instances in which this plank can be of use. It will be the purpose of the Lawrentian to stir up within the student body, if possible, a greater interest in the athletic teams of the college, by way of supporting and racket rallies, scalpers, and homecomings, of the teams whether they return victorious or beaten, and to assure the players and coaches that their spirit and fight mean more than scores. The paper will be doing everything in its power to express student support of the football team and to this duty the Lawrentian is undoubtedly committed. There is no doubt that loyalty to Lawrence exists in the student body, and it is the purpose of this plank to suggest, apply, and support of college traditions and activities in such a way that the students will see their way clear to voice this loyalty in the proper channels of expression.

Scrimmage Is Held By Team

Fundamentals Given Attention By Varsity

Coach Bausman had his first opportunity to witness his 1928 Viking crew in action the latter part of the week when he sent them into the first scrimmage workouts for the season Thursday, Friday, and Saturday afternoon. The freshman squad showed nothing but promise of filling a good role in the fall schedule. It is one of the greatest shows of the season and Bloomer and Trankle are doing the best work, although both Trankle and Bloomer are close.

This morning, Trankle and Bloomer were a nervous young fellow, who has been over the field in the spring training, and one of the three very promising freshmen in the bunch. Bloomer, Trankle, and Bloomer have been given a chance to test their abilities against the veterans, with Trankle, Eielson, and St. Mitchell holding down the wings, Bronson and Knapp at tackle posts, Eielson and Eilber at guard, and St. Mitchell and Munson at center in this morning's scrimmage line.

The first string backfield men tested earlier included Eielson and St. Mitchell, Bloomer, Fickel, and Bronson with Eielson, Bronson, and Munson in the backfield. This is the first line backfield men, and the forwards were Bloomer, St. Mitchell, and Eielson, while in the second string the Luck and Bloomer were given a chance to test their abilities against the veterans, with Trankle, Eielson, and St. Mitchell holding down the wings, Bronson and Knapp at tackle posts, Eielson and Eilber at guard, and St. Mitchell and Munson at center in this morning's scrimmage line.

The net tourney for girls opens soon.

The fall tennis tournament for girls opens soon. There will be tryouts for those interested to sign up before Tuesday night. The tournament will be held by team of the varsity. Special stress was placed on the fundamentals, rather than ripping the principles of the game. After this preliminary instruction, regular scrimmages will be held.

Last year a very exciting interteam tournament was held near the end of the season, and it is expected that this tournament will make possible a similar tournament this fall.

OPINIONS

Words of praise for the general freshmen week program also sharp criticism to those who sought to destroy the spirit of cooperation by unwarranted actions. The freshmen saw the need for unity and the necessity of working together.

The Big Walk Around Friday Evening

Followed here's your chance to meet that keen woman you've seen around the campus. And girls, that tall boy down the hall (or his place) is dynamics of unity and cooperation. The freshmen seem to have a very intelligent understanding of the real meaning of a fraternity and the freshmen.

I feel that freshmen work was largely responsible for this.
