FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Pi Delta Epsilon, national collegiate journalism fraternity, in its recent convention at Lawrence University, adopted a resolution which put the honor society on record as viewing with disfavor any policy of a college administration to restrict the freedom of the college press through any censorship. The motion, after a discussion which was carried on without delegations in the gallery, was passed unanimously by the convention and placed upon the minutes.

In the mind of the fraternity believes that such a statement, backed by the prestige of the organization, will be conducive to the advancement of collegiate journalism. Furthermore, it is hoped that it may make clear its stand on the point. It was believed that such an action on the part of Pi Delta Epsilon, which is held to be the sentiment of a large majority of college authorities throughout the country, and no spirit of antagonism was intended. H. G. Doyle, Grand Vice President of the fraternity and a member of the association of deans of men, stated during the discussion that while exceptions found in the freedom felt that college editors could be trusted to keep within the bounds of truth and accuracy.

Such a resolution as this does not mean that the fraternity countenances any instances where the college press is in danger of treading on the bounds of decency; it merely means that more editors can be trusted to keep within bounds. Any departure from discretion, any saucy, journal-

THE EPIDEMIC

With the mild epidemic sweeping the nation, with approximately 100,000 students ill at approximately 100, with about eighty of these belonging to the Delta Sigma Phi delta chapter, it is time to calmly check up on existing conditions, to analyze them for what they are worth, and devise the possible conclusions from the confused welter of half formed opinions. In regard to the situation at the college, it was believed that such an action on the part of Pi Delta has been wise in medical opinion to have the epidemic in its early stages. As was stated in convocation Thursday, when the men in the fraternity on record as viewing with disfavor any policy of a college administration to restrict the freedom of the college press through any censorship. The motion, after a discussion which was carried on without delegations in the gallery, was passed unanimously by the convention and placed upon the minutes.

Junior Jack Says:

"Theodore Roosevelt once made the statement—"

...what's a man given if he has no chance to talk.

In my four years here at Lawrence I have found that to be true.

A man whose appearance is favorable is practically certain evidence that he is a gentleman and is deserving of the respect of others.

Keep your best foot forward by keeping up appearances. The easiest way to do it is to get the "Valeriea Habit."

The high caliber of the later interfraternity volleyball league, which culminates the picking of representative players for all-fraternity teams, these players have been picked according to their value to their teams as well as to their competitive play.

Schneller, picked as captain of the first team, is probably one of the best center halfbacks ever seen in Green chen competition. His spiking, passing and serving are perfect. Trinkle and Rasmussen, members of the championship Phi Kappa team, are superior in this line. Trinkle is a good receiver and his passing is consistent. Schneller was only chosen for many of the center halfbacks of the Phi Kapp, and the spiking of Schneller was somewhat dodged. Both of these men have been consistent performers. Hill of the Phi Kapp gang, played quite well, but is somewhat of a handicap in the league. He has broken some of the best defensive plays and has been successful in the back line with his hand. Hill is a strong offensive player of his team, and while his lack of passers on his team was somewhat handicapped by his lack of height, Hillman is perhaps the only man picked on these teams who did not combine spiking with his other accomplishments. In spite of the fact that he had for the most part, had the ball back toward the floor in any quick, he seemed to be quite as valuable a man as anyone in the line. Hill was at times considered a strong offensive player of his team, but with forces enough to make any team assemble to stop him. He was moved up to a forward berth by Denney, as an experiment. Denney's cage squad.

Jerry Slavik, who played steadily and guard all last season, has been moved up to a forward berth by Don- ney, so as an experiment. Denney will be quite satisfied if he can speak with more than average skill when called upon to do so. Parker was the all around man of the Sig Eps. He worked consistently from the game from all positions and could play any phase of the game in a faultless manner. Parker was a passer and a spiker, although his latter half of the game was somewhat handicapped by his lack of height. Froelich is perhaps the only man picked on these teams who did not combine spiking with his other accomplishments. In spite of the fact that he had for the most part, had the ball back toward the floor in any quick, he seemed to be quite as valuable a man as anyone in the line. Hill was at times considered a strong offensive player of his team, but with forces enough to make any team assemble to stop him. Froelich and Flinn were strong offensive players of their team, neither of whom have yet been able to win any phase of the game in a faultless manner. Froelich and Flinn have been getting heavy play in practice games with industrial leagues.

The "48" epidemic which has caused so much discussion in student circles during the past few days has caused many students to believe that "something ought to be done about it." It's taking its toll from Coach A. Denney's cage squad.

Jacobk, Krick, Rowe and Blank-ke—members of the Phi Kapp—have been laid up with the specially termed "influenza berth" during the past few days, putting Denney under a great handicap, since it is considered that the final awards will be announced on the 14th, 1928.

Short Sport Spasms

What—with the "48" and six weeks gone past, there are the 14th, 1928?

The late games during the Christmas holidays in some foreign schools. And the answer may not be scheduling practices to he and besides all that there is a chance that another player might be out entirely until February.

If some of these rumors spreaders know how Coach Denney feels they might not worry as much. What asked about the eligibility of certain players he says, "I have enough worries with those who are eligible without worrying about some follow-ups who might not be in the game at all."

And what's more the list has been sent out from the office yet giving the final law down on the squads as there is still a chance that everyone will be eligible.

Denney named Jerry Slavik up to a forward berth this week. You know how well Jerry held down the guard position last year? Well we do, and for some reasons or another we can't get used to thinking of Jerry as a forward. But don't blame him for his reasons or he wouldn't be keeping any such maneuver.

Overall is getting off to a start of the night against Chicago "V" college. Beloit is seeded to meet University of Chicago at Chicago Dec. 27 and Ripon has announced for the second place in the league games during the Christmas holidays.

With these other schools all scheduling practice games before embarking on the league play, students have begun to ask why the Vikings don't get any games with some foreign schools. And the answer is pretty and simple. Money, fashion, children, money, Coach Denney makes it very simple. Basketball and football are the only two games that can afford to be scheduling practice games with other schools. Any preliminary tournaments which Denney might wish to have for his boys will be with industrial league teams in and around Appleton.

So instead of playing Chicago university the Vikings will work out with a Central Paper, or Kimberly-Clark teams.
