To Open New Museum

Debaters In Last Program

Tuesday Set For Date Of Opening, Says Dr. J. B. Macdougal

The new American history museum, on the fourth floor of Main hall, will be opened next Tuesday, according to Dr. J. B. Macdougal. Although not nearly all of the exhibits will have been transferred from the museum in Boston hall by that time, Dr. Macdougal said, the opening will be held next week so that the students may see the start which has been made.

Students are expected to bring their play suits with them when they come, since, apart from the opening ceremony and the march, all of the other events will be held in the museum. The series of lectures and debates will be given in the museum, and the museum will also be the residence of the museum director, Dr. Macdougal.

To Cover Tuscaloosa

Museum Governing Owners of Autobiography

All students who have been commissioned as automobile owners are expected to cover Tuscaloosa, and students who have not been commissioned will be expected to cover the city. The purpose of the trip is to give the students an opportunity to see the museum and the town, and to give them a chance to learn about the museum and the town.

Announce Itinerary For Eleven Glee Club To Begin Tour

The University Glee Club is to give a concert at the University of Wisconsin on Monday afternoon, according to Dr. H. H. Mcleod, the music director. The glee club will then go to Milwaukee, where they will give a concert at the concert club who will not be able to have the students as guests. The students will then return to the University of Wisconsin, where they will give another concert.

Rules Governing Ownership Of Automobiles

All students who have been commissioned as automobile owners are permitted to operate vehicles:

1. Those out of town students who are permitted to operate vehicles:
   a) have a valid driver's license
   b) are members of Tau Kappa Alpha.

2. Those students who are physically incapacitated from otherwise attending classes.

3. Those students who require an automobile for an academic or research purpose.

Promotion to cars is given to students who are taking automobile courses, and the students who are taking these courses are given a parking permit. The purpose of this is to give the students an opportunity to learn about the cars and the driving rules.

Exhibit Of Rope Knots Placed On Display

An exhibit of rope knots made by Walker Glenn, '30, under the direction of Dr. B. M. Biggs, last semester, will be on display in the science hall. Forty-four ornamental and useful knots tied from pieces of rope are arranged and labeled on a large state-of-the-art bulletin board. Students who have been observing the exhibit are expected to come and learn about the knots.

Dr. Louis C. Baker, Professor Fred W. Tostevin, and Elise Turner, the first Lawrence European "Good Will" representa­ tives and at present college personnel, were chosen at a meeting of the student members of the social committee, and in receiving, as the faculty members of the committee.

The first meeting of the fully con­ sidered project, which has been made by the idea of having seniors with a B average or above, was held Wednesday evening, and several problems which hereafter to con­ sultations of the student representatives and the deter­ mining of what obligations shall and shall not be a part of the committee.

History Museum To Be Opened Tuesday

The Lawrence University Museum of American History will be opened for the first time to the inspection of the student body. This is an event of no little importance, as this museum, while it is small as present, has possibilities of assuming exceptional proportions in the future. Plans of Dr. J. B. MacHarg, museum curator, materialize. In line with the possibilities of the museum Dr. MacHarg asks all students who have relatives of American history at their homes, and especially of worth in permanent records to present it for the Lawrence collection. The curators believes that the place for such relics in a museum where they can be available to many. It affords students excellent opportunity to do something worth while for Lawrence and posture, without any notice to themselves, and for such notices they are considered a great collection of the relics. The museum has already received many valuable donations, but there is always room for more, especially in a catalogue as young as the Lawrence historical collection.

Classical Club Hears

Talks; Votes Donation

Miss Nina Wing, assistant pro­ fessor of Latin, talked on her trip to Italy, at a meeting of the Classical Club held Tuesday evening at Shank house. Many of her interest­ ing narratives brought to a typical Italian basket suitcase of third class travelers traveling in Italy, were exhibited dur­ ing the meeting.

Members of the club voted to donate five dollars as their organization's contribution in the student to Europe fund. Plans were made for a large flower bountiful in April, and a rev­ elation was carried through to make next year's Classical club a great boon in Roman life and customs.

The Coast Debate Squad
In Final Appearance

The Coast Debate Squad, a group of six students from Appleton high school, was called upon by Mayor Charles S. Schenek to make a special appearance. The group, composed of six members, is under the direction of Mrs. A. P. Schenek, principal of the school.

The program consisted of a variety of subjects, ranging from history and economics to current events. The members of the squad were seated at a long table in front of the audience, each holding a large sheet of paper that contained their arguments. The moderator, Mr. Schenek, introduced each member of the squad and explained the topic they would be discussing.

The first speaker, Mr. Schenek, opened the discussion by presenting his own argument. He was followed by Mr. A. P. Schenek, who responded to Mr. Schenek's points. Mr. B. P. Schenek then presented his own argument, which was met with a response from Mr. C. P. Schenek. The discussion continued in this manner, with each member of the squad taking turns to present their arguments and to respond to the arguments of their opponents.

The debate ended with a总结 of the main points and a summary of the conclusions that had been reached. The moderator, Mr. Schenek, thanked the members of the Coast Debate Squad for their participation and for their excellent arguments. He also expressed his appreciation for the opportunity to hold such a debate and to hear the views of these young people on such important topics.

The members of the Coast Debate Squad were all highly praised for their knowledge of the subject and for their ability to present their arguments in a clear and concise manner. The debate was a great success and was enjoyed by all who attended.
