Denney Gives Cagers First Action Taste

Two "White" Squad Pitted Against New Candidate; Record Timers Established

The varsity had its first taste of scrimmage last Saturday afternoon, when it was just a matter of conjecturing what its members could do when the game was over. The boys from what was the big shots' hill of the competition were sterling members of the refereeing panel of judges, who observed the first period of competition. According to the coach, the idea of the scrimmage was to get the men into condition for the first game. The game was played under normal regulation conditions, with the exception of one minor regulation which made up the opposition was also bested in a roll-up as the attempt in the defense of the white squad. The line-up of the scrimmage was: The second period consisted of a consistent pattern of power and time, and the boys of the white squad put up the finest defense of the year, and the offense of the white squad was uniformly outstanding. The third and final period was a stir of skill and speed, with three teams fought with the long and short shots of the boys' side. The white squad finished the game with a score of 65 to 50. Whether St. Catherines will be able to meet the challenge of the white squad, or if they will be able to beat the boys' side, remains to be seen.

Art Quartet's New York Debut Is Highly Praised

Probably no ensemble organization ever had such a successful debut as did the Musical Art Quartet, which will appear here Friday, Dec. 11, at Lawrence Memorial chapel. Sponsored by a distinguished committee of the social and musical world, the critics hailed it as the most highly acclaimed concert of the year's first quarter. Due Wolters wrote in the New York Post, "This quartet's success was a significant occurrence last night with the first public appearance of the Musical Art Quartet. Many older quartets than this and the same quartets could not be able to track the fine balance and co-ordination of parts, the solo playing, the organization of the players. The players are varied, others more serious, more finished organizations of this age than the others, but this quartet is the most interesting and handsome, and the most appropriate one to the ear of the listener. Perfection in a cagelike setting. The perfecting of this training. According to Dean Waterman, the quartet has been well received. During a recent performance at the Memorial chapel, the quartet was well received and the work of the players. The members of the quartet are Richard Halliburton, The Iron Man, Beatrice Walker, Dorothy Mitchell and Hazel Lehman. The quartet will appear at the Lawrence Theatre on Sunday evening.

A gentleman is a man who has the highest ideals and who tries to live up to these ideals. He must be truly unselfish, have a feeling of deep sincerity and be courageous in all ways. It's not the clothes that make the man but the spiritual and moral qualities under the clothes that count. From the University of Wisconsin comes the startling information that there are 500 young married couples in the student body.

“WHAT IS A GENTLEMAN?”

"What constitutes a gentleman?"

According to a bulletin received here recently from Bloomington, Illinois, members of the freshman class at Illinois Wesleyan University were asked this question. The answers were varied, but interesting, and it was found that many of the class had some definite ideas on the subject.

"One young woman, "My idea of a gentleman is a man who has the highest ideals and who tries to live up to these ideals. He must have been truly unselfish, have a feeling of deep sincerity and be courageous in all ways. It’s not the clothes that make the man but the spiritual and moral qualities under the clothes that count."

A cultural person is one who possesses two qualities which cover a lot of territory—a gentleman must be friendly. A gentleman should have a trained mind, and, above all, good morals. "This was another answer to the question. Still another went as follows: "A gentleman is an ideal. Probably no person has ever been a true gentleman. It is a goal that we approach. This ideal differs for each individual, differs also as to time and place, but the general idea is of a person who is a hundred per cent pure—he would be a credit to the human race."

The problem existed as old as time, and even back in the time of Confucius, we find that ancient scholar defining a gentleman as "he who has no prejudice, no egotism and no obstinacy."

It would be interesting to know how Lawrence students would answer this question, but their ideas will have to be reserved for in-

Carroll has a real high spot in their basketball schedule. The Sig Eps and the D.I.'s are going to play the University of Wisconsin, December 20.

The biggest and most enthusiastic crowd of the volleyball season will find plenty to yell about tonight in Old Alexander gym, for the curtain on the Greek tourney will be rung down with a trio of games, each of which has a direct bearing on the final standings of the six teams who have shown themselves in their last games.

Frosh Basketball Prospects Will Report To Coach Kotal At Gym Monday Afternoon

Coach Eddie Kotal will have his first opportunity of looking over the frosh basketball material when they report to him at the new Alexander gymnasium this afternoon. The call for candidates has been definite until the close of the second six-weeks' period of the school year.

Fifty four men from Brokenbowl, the campus dormitory, signed up under Clarence Rasmussen when he held a conference last week with the men interested in basketball. There are several men from Appleton and nearby towns who are not staying at the hall, but who are expected to report to Coach Kotal at the new gymnasium next Monday.

Although no definite knowledge of the prospects for the squad will be available until after the first practice session, A. C. Denney, athletic director, believes that there is a wealth of material in the freshman class. He is well pleased with the here to know.

Here are two more changes in the rules.

Rule 8, Section 1—A goal from the field counts for the team into whose basket the ball is thrown. A question and answer has been inserted to save from confusion the rules pertaining to the responsibility on the referee to the latter instances.

Rule 15, Section 1—"The technical faults on the jump ball such as tapping it on the way up, or having the circle, shall have been changed to violations."

Here's a chance for the "has thought they knew all there is to know."

Coach Denney will be watching with interest for the two most bated foes of any athlete, points and percentage ranking. The Theta Phi Team Meets Psi Chis

...a question and answer...a genuine scare into the loyal fans of the Thetas, the final standings would find the Psi Chis, noted for their well balanced line, tied with the Thetas, the D.I.'s, now strong enough to make a bid for the upper place at the finish. The Sig Eps and the D.I.'s will either make or break the Sig Eps' claims to a high place in the finish.

The freshmen basketball schedule has not been definitely set yet, but Coach Denney has hopes of scheduling at least four games for the playing season. Two will be with Eps, one will be with Carroll, and the fourth is being sought.

MAESCH WILL GIVE RECITAL WED. NIGHT

Conservatory Professor to Present Organ Program At Congregational Church

La Vols Maesch, A.A.G.O., professor of organ and theory at the conservatory will appear in organ recital at the First Congregational Church tomorrow evening, (December 4) at 8:20 o'clock.

Mr. Maesch is a graduate of the Lawrence Conservatory with a Bachelor of Music degree in 1923. While a student here, he studied organ with Frank Taube, and with Arthur Armeke. Later he attended a summer session at the University of Michigan where he studied with Palmer Christian, one of America's greatest concert organists, who gave a recital here last November. In 1927, he passed the examinations of the American Guild of Organists, becoming an Associate of the guild, which is the second highest honor an American organist can achieve, being next to that of becoming a Fellow of the Guild.

During the past summer Mr. Maesch has been a student of Marcel Dupre, one of the world's most famous organists, who is a professor in the Paris Conservatory. He will play one of Dupre's compositions on his program tomorrow evening. It is the "Cortège and Litanie," a very difficult as well as effective number.
