Miss Lulu Bett To Be Presented Tonight

Mis Lulu Bett To Be Presented Tonight

Miss Lulu Bett, all-college play, will be presented in Memorial chapel this evening, under the direction of F. T. Cloak. The performance will begin at 8:20 o'clock.

The cast of characters, in order of appearance:
1. Momona Doson, Dorothy Trafton, David Deaton, father of the household, Roy McNeil;
2. Betty Wett, the abused maid.

The play was written by Zora Cate, of Portage, Wisconsin. It is a cross section of American small town family life. Its decidedly American tone will mark it as distinct from the two plays produced previously this year under Mr. Cloak's direction.

The Frolic will be held as usual tonight, and will be open to all in the Freshman and Sophomore classes. It will be held in the dining room of the Mather House, from 7:30 to 11:00 o'clock.

The Frolic Committee, consisting of students from all classes, has been working for the past two weeks to prepare a program of entertainment. The Frolic is a social event, and all students are invited to participate in the activities.

The program for the Frolic will include music, games, and other entertainment. The Frolic Committee has worked hard to ensure that the event will be a success.

The Frolic will be held in the evening, from 7:30 to 11:00 o'clock. It is an opportunity for students to socialize and have fun in a friendly atmosphere.

The Frolic Committee has put a lot of effort into planning and coordinating the event, and they are excited to see how the Frolic will turn out.

The Frolic is an important event for the students, and it is a great opportunity for them to come together and enjoy each other's company.

The Frolic Committee is grateful for the support and cooperation they have received from the students, and they look forward to making this year's Frolic a memorable event.

The Frolic Committee would like to thank everyone for their contribution to the event, and they are looking forward to seeing everyone at the Frolic tonight.

THE PLAY'S THE THING

The last dramatic production of the year, the all college play, "Miss Lulu Bett", will be presented in Memorial Chapel tonight. It is the third play to be given under the direction of Mr. Cloak, and will mark the end of a brilliant season in Lawrence Dramatics.

To insure better student support at this production, the business management has inaugurated a new three way price policy, tickets being sold at 35, 75 and 95 cent rates. The chapel should be packed to capacity tonight, and about 700 in the audience should be students.

TOO MANY EDUCATED?

With colleges and universities of the country running entrance requirements year after year because of over crowded conditions, it seems that every man and his brother and sister are acquiring diplomas in some sort of profession. This fact has lead the cynics to say that the present era is an over-educated one, and that there are more college graduates than there is a demand for.

They know not awhin they speak. It has been said that out of 1,200,000 people now on earth, only about 300,000 have ever read a book; that only one person in 3,000 of the world's population has enough intelligence to completely understand the activities that are taking place about him, or have any interest in affecting their outcome.

These facts bring to mind the thought that always have the responsibility, the burden, and the accomplishments of civilization been carried on by a very small percentage of the people. These few have made the world what it is today, while the unintelligent multitude does not even wonder what it's all about, or why.

Since it is true that the destiny of our civilization rests with the abilities of a small minority, composed of those who have educated themselves to the best things of life, the college graduates are valuable, and it is not probable that civilization can get too many of them.

A delightful variety of rolls and pastries that will merit your satisfaction.
And again, we take time out to point off another column, much to the disgust of several readers.

Another whitewash was shipped off to the press today by the Phi Tau. The win enabled the "monster pacifics" to clinch up on the second saddle of the baseball也被。This is Rawley, who pitches for the Phi Tau aggregations, has been hurling beautiful ball and promises to make things interesting for any team which he runs up against.

Eddie Kotal will get a chance to see his frats track team in action Saturday when the youngsters take on Oshkosh and Appleton. His men should not have a great deal of trouble, except in the field events.

And while the interfraternity races are on, Coach Denney’s chiads will be dormant. Beloit, from all reports, seems to have a very weak team. With the exception of Captain Calhoun in the weights, the dorminates have little to offer. Of course, it doesn’t pay to be too optimistic about the outcomes.

This will be the last chance for Denney’s men to get a test before the Big Four meet at Carroll next week. Carroll is journeying down to Milwaukee to run against Marquette.

Howie Pope may get into action in the meet tomorrow, but his chances are still rather doubtful. The star sprinter has been working out quite regularly and is beginning to show the speed that made him a consistent point winner last season.

The interfraternity relay mark of 1:36 1/2 was broken by the track Sig Ep relay outift at 1:34. The race started off pretty even, but after Eichmeyer got a hold of the stick, the outcome was never in doubt. Marion finished up in great style for the Betoas, but Vedder managed to maintain a safe margin.

Golf seems to be the coming thing on the campus. The Lawrence golf club organized last year, has made several efforts to have an interfraternity meet held within the next few weeks. Several of the colleges have signified their willingness to enter.

According to Grandad Klein, colleges and universities throughout the country give too much time and money to the major sports, football, basketball, and track. He feels that the minor sports such as golf, tennis, handball, squash, etc., should be given more attention. Certainly, as many students are interested in the latter as in the former.

Lawrence Sweeps To Wins Victory: By Tom Ryan

Confident from two straight track victories over Big Four colleges, Coach R. D. Denney’s varsity tracksters will meet the Beloit College team in a dual meet at Beloit Saturday afternoon.

Co-Captain Howard Pope, brilliant Beloit star, who has been out of the lineup because of an injury which he sustained in his bare last summer, may run against Beloit tomorrow, provided that Coach Denney feels that he is in good enough condition.

For the last two years Pope has been a consistent first place winner in the hundred, 220, and broad jump events.

Rice.”

Another white wash was slapped on the Big Four tracksters Friday, May 18, 1936, to Carroll. The 1:36.1 mark taken by the Sig Ep relays does not compare favorably with the 1:34 scored by the Phi Tau. As this is the last chance for the Betoas to get a test before the Big Four meet at Carroll next week, Carroll is journeying down to Milwaukee to run against Marquette.

Wriston Talks On Adult Education

Continuation of College Influence In Topic of Address Wednesday

ability of them.

One of the most interesting re-

results of this experiment, he said, is that 61% of the alumni who responded were graduated in the last 10 years.

Other Phases of Program

Other phases of the program with aloofness among students at

Lawrence are alumni group meetings

in cities with the discussion centers

about the development of the idea of education as a way of life; bringing back individuals and small groups to the campus while classes are in session to show them the changes in facilities; and establishing alumnus advisory committees.

In a public sense the great universities must play a role in the field of adult education quite beyond the reach of the colleges of the liberal arts," President Wriston said. "By the very nature of its public support the university has an obligation to carry the citizens of its state as far as possible.

The college, on the other hand, has a private clientele to whom it owes no less an obligation. Its resources are smaller, and it is more fully absorbed by its undergraduate work. On the other hand, its very family-like quality gives it an opening for a continuing influence among the alumni. It remains for us as colgle to develop this program with equal measures of vigor and sincerity," he concluded.

Griffiths Attends Mental

the International Conference on

Mental Hygiene. The convention

was composed of the leading psychologists and psychiatrists, of 40 leaders of the world. Cases and prevention of personality mal-

adjustments and the operation of sensual disorders were discussed.

The group was received by President

Hoover and photographed with him

on the White House lawn, and was conducted on a tour of inspection

through the government hospital for
