JULLENEISET IS ISSUED TO STUDY COURSE

Students in Three Lower Classes Must Register By June 1

All students in the three lower classes must register before June 1. For the academic year 1955-56, a representative sample is to be drawn from each class by the Registrar's office to determine their attendance for the year. In the meantime, students are advised to register promptly in order to meet the deadline.

Comment On News

Cuban-Mexican Law Aims At Philippine Islands and 1776.

"Reign of Terror" has offered a fresh perspective on the current political climate in the region. The article highlights the significance of the Cuban and Mexican influences on the Philippines, particularly the role of the Spanish-Mexican system of governance.

Lawrence Day Plans Drawn Up Yesterday

Students Are Requested To Band In Names Of High School Classmates

For Lawrence Day, scheduled for May 7, plans have been drawn up for the festivities. Students are requested to band in the names of their high school classmates on the program to ensure an accurate attendance record.

Interesting Gifts Are Displayed In History Museum

Some of the new donations which have been added to the History Museum are displayed this week. One of the most interesting items is a daguerreotype of a Civil War soldier, which has been recently acquired. The museum continues to attract visitors with its rich collection of historical artifacts.

Lawrence, Monday

Students will be asked to write personal letters to those whom they wish to have recognized. The letters will be compiled and will be published in the school newspaper.

Reserve the Right to Call Upon Students

The administration reserves the right to call upon students for future events. Students are encouraged to prepare for these events by attending class regularly and participating in extracurricular activities.

Freshman Plays Given Last Night In Little Theatre

Three freshmen plays were presented on May 2, with good attendance. The plays included "The Dying Light," "The Boy," and "The Secret of the Old Mill." The audience enjoyed the performances and commented on the talent of the freshmen actors.

Spring Goddess Will Be Played By Senior Woman Elected

The spring goddess for the upcoming festival will be played by a senior woman. The selection process was conducted by the drama club, and the chosen candidate will represent the school in the upcoming event.

Requirements For Class-A College Professor Are Optimized

The requirements for a Class-A college professor have been optimized to ensure the highest standards of academic excellence. The changes are designed to attract the best candidates and improve the overall quality of the faculty.

Conservatory Will Give Spring Music Festival May 7, 10

A spring music festival consisting of two concerts featuring the 3 Cappella choirs, the Schola Cantorum, and the orchestra, and several outstanding students will be given by the Conservatory on May 7 and 10.

210 STUDENTS RECEIVING AID FROM COLLEGE

Two hundred and ten students are receiving financial assistance this year from the college funds or from funds which are available for student aid on the recommendation of the college. This total was reached by the Business of the College's financial aid committee, after an extensive examination of cases and a careful evaluation of each student's need.
Lawrentian Platform

2. Develop a Greater Lawrence Spirit.
3. Promote Student Economy.

THE CUSTOM OF WALKING OUT

During the course of years Lawrence students have gradually assumed the privileges of leaving a class room if the professor has not appeared within five minutes after the final bell has rung. The original purposes of this tradition and its former accomplishments are difficult to ascertain, and yet there is no great need for attempting to explain past history. We must examine the tradition at present, discover reasons for its existence in 1933, and decide conclusions as to whether it is now an asset, an encumbrance, or an internationalism. The decision will not rest with the outcome of the forthcoming conference at London.

I wish to compliment the Student Senate for adopting resolutions a few months ago for a strict regulation of this custom, but it would have been much better if they had ever tried to explain the reasons for such resolutions presented to them by the Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils. The Senate should be severely criticized for its attitude of neutrality, for without action, its members stand accused at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

The original purpose of the present Senate is that there is no direct representation between the student and Senate. Increasing class representation does not remove the situation, but it does simplify the problem. I believe the Senate should be criticized for failing to find a solution to the problem.

In all decision-making of the students in student legislative bodies, the Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

The original purpose of the present Senate is that students are directly represented in the Senate. The Senate makes decisions that are binding on the students who have no representation in the Senate. The Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

In all decision-making of the students in student legislative bodies, the Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

In all decision-making of the students in student legislative bodies, the Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

In all decision-making of the students in student legislative bodies, the Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

In all decision-making of the students in student legislative bodies, the Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

In all decision-making of the students in student legislative bodies, the Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

In all decision-making of the students in student legislative bodies, the Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.

In all decision-making of the students in student legislative bodies, the Senate is the ruling lords—of a group which includes students and faculty members as revealed at their meeting Tuesday, April 12, of failing to present a resolution which I refer to as the Senate of Mr. Willey yesterday morning. I think it is necessary for any who are interested in student government to attempt to explain the custom, and to reconcile it with the general consensus of opinion that the Senate is suffering from lack of responsibility to the students.
Viking Trackmen Win Over Carroll 73-58

Lawrence Tennis Team Defeated By Carroll, 5-1

Lawrence Tennis team opened its 1933 season at home on Saturday, with a dual match against Carroll College. The match was played on the courts at the Irving Zuelke Building, and the final score was 5-1 in favor of Lawrence.

The match began with a singles match, and the Lawrence singles player defeated his Carroll opponent in three sets, 6-4, 6-2, and 6-4. The second singles match also went to Lawrence, 6-3, 6-3.

In the doubles match, Lawrence's team of Joe Johnson and David Johnson defeated the Carroll team of Bill Johnson and Tom Connors, 6-3, 6-3.

In the third singles match, the Lawrence team of Bill Foote defeated the Carroll team of Bill Foote, 6-3, 6-3.

In the final singles match, the Lawrence team of Bill Foote defeated the Carroll team of Bill Foote, 6-3, 6-3.

The Lawrence tennis team is off to a good start this year and will look to continue their success in upcoming matches.
Greek Baseball Season Opened

Phil Chi, Beta, and Sig Eps Are Victorious in First Round Yesterday

(Continued from page 1)

By Wiley in Chapel

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)