Methodist Church Vesper Service to Feature Vocalists
A program of Negro spirituals and sacred numbers will be presented by the Witter Church Quartet Nov. 13/1 from 7:30 to 8:30. The first in a series of afternoons vespers at the Methodist Church. Witter Church is a small, coeducational school founded by Methodists for Negroes at Marshall, Mich., in 1874.

On Nov. 18 Cyril Donald, professor of English, will deliver the combined choirs of the college vespers service on Nov. 25. His subject: "The Christmas, When the Christ Child Came, by Joseph Cleary will be delivered Dec. 1 by the combined choirs of Witter Church, the Lincoln School Glee Club, and the Howard University Choir. Donald Calmercross is the composer of religious music.

A second series of vespers will be held on Dec. 19 and continue six weeks.

Student Senate
Hears Reports
Little Probability of a Junior Prom in its Name
Annette Meyer, chairman of the Student Senate, made the following reports:

"There is a small probability of a Junior Prom this year, as the Student Senate met on Friday afternoon and no plans were made for a Junior Prom for this year.

On the other hand, one of his full professors said that he had overheard a conversation for the possible holding of a Junior Prom.

In connection with the question of the Junior Prom, whether Robert L. Follette is president of the Junior Prom, he built an article on a typewriter article in an article appearing in a paper. He did not mean to name the other name, but he knew of a complete article. The article was written by a person who had the scientific spirit and the modern reader. He built up the idea that he had the energy both for reading and for music, but with a chance that no great movement ever has been kindled."

When the Student Senate met last night it was at the Student Senate met on the Graduate Council and the Senate Board money and the Student Senate met on the fact that Miss Meyer is now serving as a member of the Student Senate.

Prepared to present an article on the investigation of the curriculum. This move is to create a vital interest in the student's work and to increase knowledge of the college curriculum.
National Book Review Contest Announced Here

Professor Clippinger Will Receive Entries From Lawrenece Students

To stimulate reading of good books and to secure student recommendations for a list of over nine hundred books listed in the Students' Guide to Good Reading, the Council of Teachers of English are sponsoring book review contests at the American colleges which are represented by a number of this contest.

The book review contest is being sponsored by the American college which are represented by a number of this contest. Each college will be assigned a number of books which it will be expected to read, Professor Clippinger, through his office, will be responsible for the selection and the distribution of the books. The books will be distributed to the students interested in entering the contests through their student representatives or through the student council.

According to Professor Clippinger, the number of books that will be included in the contest is limited to nine hundred. It is not necessary to include all the books in the contest, but it is necessary to include at least one book for each class.

The contest will be open to all students enrolled at the college, regardless of major subject. The contests will be judged on the basis of the number of books reviewed, the quality of the reviews, and the value of the reviews to the students.

The contest will begin on Monday, and the entries will be due on Tuesday. The entries will be evaluated by a panel of judges, including the author of the contest.

The winners of the contest will be announced on Thursday, and the prizes will be awarded on Friday. The prizes will be awarded in the form of a certificate of recognition, a cash prize, and a book.

Hamar House Is
Result of Ideal
Of Olive Hamar

Above the fireplace in one of the parlors at Hamar House is a very beautiful picture of a girl who "drew a dream," but did not live to see the dream come true. That dream—Olive Hamar. It was her belief that the Lawrence campus was in need of a social center, a meeting place for campus life. She planned and provided it, and her life and activity at Lawrence was directed toward that goal.

In 1933 Olive Hamar was chosen as one of Lawrence's best-dressed girls while a junior at College, a very unusual honor for any girl. Very active in school affairs, she was president of the W. Y. C. A. and president of Phi Kappa Tau, honorary journalistic fraternity. To have a "hospitality house" where College men and women might meet to enjoy privacy and sociableness not found in the dormitories, and where they might spend many happy hours, was a dream of her's which had spread, and the next year her plans could be fully developed.

Under the watching eye of Professor Bean, that house had control over the whole floor of Brown Hall. Lawrence had a student house for the first time, and the students knew it.

Church Honors a Lawrence Trustee

Harwood Sturtevant Becomes President of Lecie Episcopal Diocese

Bishop Cordell of the Diocese of Lecie since 1892, Lawrence College recently honored Bishop Cordell with a banquet on November 18. The occasion was a celebration of the 50th anniversary of the consecration of Bishop Cordell, who was installed as Bishop of Lecie in 1918. Bishop Cordell is the longest-serving bishop in the history of the Lecie Episcopal Diocese.

TOWN TEAM CAPTURES BROKAW CHAMPIONSHIP

In the finals of the Brokaw-Macc football league last Friday, the Town group under the leader­ship of Coach Curtie defeated Third Center of Brokaw 16 to 0. The two teams battled on even terms in the first half until a pass over the goal was completed from Curtie to David. The extra point was made. A safety was made by Bracken of Third Center when he was nailed behind his own good line, reducing the lead of the Brokaw to 2 points. The Brokaw team broke loose for a touchdown, brought the score in 1 to 0. A pass, Curtie to Heideman converted the extra point.

The leading scorer of the league was Heideman of Town with five touchdowns and two extra points. The City Defense was second. Town was third with twenty points. Pulling of Third North and Curtie of Town were tied for fourth with eighteen points each.

Betta's Win First Touch-Ball Title

Marshall Ford once said, "A strong offense and a sound defense equals a victory." It was Marshall Ford of Beloit who scored the first touchdown by a Touch Ball team last Friday, proving that an offensive and defensive team is as necessary in Touch Football as it is in any other sport.

Betta's victory was the third year of competing for Lawrence Touch Ball football. This season it has not received as much attention as in previous seasons, but the team is considering it a definite gain for the school.

Beloit Defeats Improved Vikes

Lawrence's recent rally fails

To overcome Beloit's Early Lead

An Appleton Day crowd mingled with an enthusiastic and exterior student body in full football weather at Wething Field Sat­urday to witness the second season defeat of the Vikings this season.

Beloit played good, steady ball, look no chances, used straight foot­ball, and fought with a valiant defense. When Lawrence took the first quarter they scored and led 6 to 0.

Vikings were held until the last second of play, for the blue and white staged a march late in the last quarter that enabled the Vikings to cross the goal and score for the second time of the game. The score was made 12 to 0.

Lawrence drove up to the one yard line and seemed to score for the third time, but the running back was stopped for a gain of one yard. The last minute of play was used by Beloit to cross the goal and score.

Art Lovers are Attracted by a Library Display

The library is located on a quiet street, far away from the hustle and bustle of the city.

By the time the sun was high in the sky, the library was already packed with people of all ages. The aroma of fresh baked goods filled the air, and the sound of laughter and conversation filled the room.

The library was decorated with beautiful art pieces, from paintings to sculptures. The walls were covered with shelves filled with books, and the windows were decorated with stained glass windows.

Among the crowd, a group of friends gathered around a display of photographs taken by local artists. They were discussing the different techniques used in photography and the various subjects that can be captured.

As the day went on, more and more people arrived at the library. Some came to read, others to take classes, and still others to appreciate the art on display.

The library continued to be a hub of activity throughout the day, with people of all ages and backgrounds coming together to enjoy the beauty of art.

The library closed its doors at 6:00 PM that evening, leaving behind a community that had come together to celebrate the love of art.

The next day, the library was once again crowded, this time with people coming to view the displays of paintings and sculptures that had been put up.

As the weeks went on, the library continued to attract art lovers from all over the city. It became a place where people could come together to share their love of art and to appreciate the beauty of the world around them.
Appleton Women's Club
Heals Fifth of Series of Lectures

Reviewing drama highlights of the seventeenth century, F. Theodore Clark, dramatic coach, presented the fifth of a series of drama lectures before members of the Appleton Women's Club, Monday afternoon at the Little Theater. Dividing the century in two parts, the period from 1600 to 1660 and the Restoration period, Mr. Clark gave a brief survey of the historical background for each and stated that although the theaters were closed during the Restoration period, the activity continued in the form of distributed hidden closet plays.

In a previous lecture Mr. Clark结合了对John Webster's Chastity and Pericles' The Tragedy of Pandora的分析，指出这些戏剧作品的共同点在于它们反映了对道德和法律的严肃探讨。他还提到了莎士比亚的作品如Hamlet, which was introduced into the series of lectures.

Mr. Cloak, a well-known drama critic, presented the fifth in a series of dramatic lectures before members of the club. His lectures, which have been well-received, have covered various topics related to drama, including its evolution, characteristics, and its influence on society.

Mr. Cloak is currently a member of the board of directors at the Lawrentian, and his lectures have provided valuable insights into the world of drama.

WHAT OF PROGRESSIVISM

Tonight Philip LaFollette will speak at the Lawrence All-College banquet, and we hope that he will give us an idea as to why we may not call him the "brain trust," and kept in line by the judicious use of justice in that the case. We are aware that the case has never been so fully as if not further, than the Progres sives ever proposed to go.
