Lawrentian Plans
Annual Banquet For Staff May 1
Roy L. Stone, Vice President First Wisconsin Nat'l. to Speak

Arrangements were completed last year for the annual Lawrentian Banquet, to be held May 1, 3:30 p.m., at the Hotel Rockford. Mr. Stone, acting vice president of the First Wisconsin at Appleton, will be the principal speaker.

New Catalogues

Just before vacation the new Lawrentian Catalogues will be available at the Administration office. The new exchanges will include the regular schedules, the new entrance requirements, and this year's student roster. The line drawings in the entrance requirements section will be illustrated in the catalogue.

Guests will be all members of the Lawrentian staff. The Banquet will be open in all students and faculty members to be present. The number of guests will be limited to fifty and will be placed on the basis of first come, first served in all residence units. John Olson is in charge of ticket sales and will be assisted by staff members.

New Catalogues are Also Available

Surely, you have already received your complimentary catalogue for the coming year, and they stand out more brilliant as our students' guides to campus life through the winter. More than 7,000 were ordered from the Wisconsin commercial concern representing them most for their advertising.

Habbescander

Read on, and learn of Durio Fashion and her followers of style. Why not pursue the seductive ways of the Fashion girl... the Fashion of party spirit—call this Fashion a school, more brilliantly modeled at Lawrentian, the Banquet will be held May 1, 6:30 p.m., at the Hotel Rockford, and is in charge of Roy Driskon as Rebecca. John Olson as the husband, to throw good money away, but then again from Ariadne's point of view it would be a pity to give us exactly the thing that Ariadne wants. Our author is having a violent disagreement with his wife, Ariadne Winter, Margaret Vail, Mrs. Meyer; and Mr. Beck's other play, "Apostle in Modern Dress," concerns a young man who reads all these "Whip Up Your Personality" books. A Rich Relative, in writing "No One Can Say," brings to life the other side of the majority of women's deaths. The husband's death is the day before our play opens. The husband, the second person to die, is the rich old man who has been Advertising the newspaper in the Student Body and the officers of the Student Body. This material is for ratification. If there is a significant vote in favor of the executive committee to replace the Student Body and the officers of the Student Body for ratification. Liberal Arts? Economics Major When Given Rope, Hangs Self

It is just exactly eight weeks ago that I accepted as true, the liberal arts curriculum of seven or more weeks. I was wrong in signing a contract to spend my year in a college. Conditions have been less than normal in a liberal arts college. I was interested in the liberal arts, and all too easily, drawn towards a program of study which is not the best one for me even as a freshman. The result has been a dispiriting as the devil, and all too easily, I have found that I should have known better.

The events of my youth and college have set forth to construct my second self. Today I awoke from a nightmare, and a schoolroom full of English majors that the situation is a bit reversed. It is true. The person who the great

Chairman Powers Selects Committees for Annual Event May 18

The Lawrence will hold its annual May Day festivities, including new forms of entertainment, as well as other forms of entertainment as well under way for the North east. The festivities will take place on Saturday, May 18. Invitations are being sent to all students in the three Lawrence colleges and the middle west.

Chairman Edward Powers stressed the point that this day is not being set aside for high school activities but is to be devoted to the enjoyment and entertainment of the Lawrence student body. A wide roused program of activities has been planned for this day in which the students of the college are expected to play an active part. The whole-hearted cooperation of the entire college is expected to make this day the most interesting ever held.

Highlights of Program

A few of the highlights for this day will be a noon meet with Ripon college; a track meet with Culver academy; an all-star baseball game; and a student centennial play in the chapel. Monday morning will see the day will be held at the Grand Hotel on the 15th for the visitors' center. The entire public is invited to attend. Other arrangements are being made...

Schalk, and Art Kroos will arrange the station for the visitors, for the transportation to and from the station.

To Relations Meet

C o n f e r e n c e Emphasizes Military Aspect of War Crisis

As the official Tasswell held at Lawrence College, Ted Wilden recently attended the conference on Interrelations of States at the University of Chicago, sponsored by the Carnegie Foundation. Tasswell's address was given during the war, gathered for the purpose of international cooperation and unity of purpose in the world, gathered for the purpose of international cooperation and unity of purpose in the world, and for the purpose of world peace. The conference on Interrelations of States was founded by Theodore Roosevelt, who was the first to make arrangements for the international conference on Interrelations of States.

During the two-day period several speakers were given by prominent advocates and politicians, including Harold D. Tasswell, University of Chicago, and Adolph D. Tasswell, University of Wisconsin. Tasswell's address was given at the University of Wisconsin.

A banquet was held after the installation ceremonies were over, with the program being a success. A reception for the initiates was held at night.

The initiates were Hazel Dunn, Nigma Phi Epsilon Radio Supervisor; Alyce Jarvis, the national president of the fraternity; F. Darrell Moore, national supervisor of scholarship, and many other officers and representatives.

Thursdays in 1936 was founded.

For the second successive year Lawrence students and faculty members have chosen Gladys McElroy as their representative in the national fraternities. McElroy will point out that though plans for the 1938-39 year were made, they are not easily usable because the lack of transportation they encounter which is not readily available. It is true that

Fraternity Track Meet Scheduled

Phi Delta Favored; Sig Eps are Second Chance

The various fraternities will clash in a track meet tomorrow at Whiting field. The events will begin at 2:00 o'clock, if the weather permits the holding of the meet.

As to the probable winner, the Phi Delta appears the strongest team. However, the Sig Eps will close behind. If the Phi Delta "slips" like last year the Sig Eps will be the winners.

The Phi Delta has representatives in every event, and each represents the strongest team in his event. The Sig Eps will close behind. There is a good chance of stiff competition in the broad jump. However, the Sugar is likely to win the high jump.

The Delta Tau Deltas are the favorites to win the broad jump. The Phi Delts have representatives in every event. The Sig Eps also have a good distance runner in Schriber.

The Phi Kappa Taus have a few good men, but they have only one outside chance to threaten first place. Vondie Wilder is counting on his chance in the dashes and in the broad jump. The Sig Ep's are likely to win the broad jump. The Sugar is likely to win the high jump.

Lawrence Squash Squad Defeats Milwaukee Club

Faculty Members and Students Win Five Out of Nine Matches

Lawrence's squash rackets squad finally redeemed itself for many defeats this year when they defeated a team of players from Milwaukee's Town and University Clubs last Saturday. The score was five matches to four. The Lawrence team was not only composed of students but also of faculty players and one Institute player. The student team consisted of Schriber, Wilder, Gendel, Vogel, and Randell; the faculty representatives were Clippering and Maguire. Simpkins was the Institute player.

Lawrence victories were mostly by the student players. Clippering being the only other person not to fall in the contest,2. studying against the opposing teams being won by him in the third set of his match, but willing to lose that of the Town Club three games to two.

Dr. Van den Akker came only recently to the Institute, having previously been at Washington University and the California Institute of Technology, where he was associated with Dr. Robert A. Millin. Dr. Van den Akker pointed out that one of the objects of Peterson's balloon ascension was to measure the intensity of the cosmic rays in the stratosphere. He then explained that if the rays reaching the earth are the shortest and most energetic known, they are able to ionize air, with the result that the air becomes a conductor of electricity. He also described certain experiments which have been performed to discover whether the rays are more abundant at high altitudes.

The French Club will follow the beautifully descriptive "Ballad Music" from Faust by Gounod (The Entry of the Toreador March; Ballade Dance of Dantes; Barcarolle and En-

The program will be concluded with the playing of "La Peri, La Peri" and "La Reja, La Reja" by Lorca.

2. To cooperate with the executive committee.

Clause B. Duties of the Pop Committee

1. To maintain in the student body a spirit of personal cleanliness.
2. To cooperate with the executive committee.

Finally, I would like to remind everyone that the Student Body's role is critical in shaping the college community. It is essential to ensure that our constitution and organization effectively represent the interests and needs of all students. As we navigate through the coming academic year, let us strive to uphold the high standards we have set for ourselves and contribute to a vibrant and inclusive campus environment.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Robert:

We didn't meet the train. I know you wouldn't be on it. Yet, for an hour after I heard the whistle blow, I half expected you to appear at my window. I think I might have felt you peering in at me through the windows all evening. Finally, Hal and I went walking a bit. He asked me all sorts of questions, but I stored him all out of my head. We ended up talking about the races, and he forgot.

I'm happy to know you went to work only for a few hours. Some day you must take me there again on your car. I think we wouldn't ruin it. I want to tell you about this evening. Hal and I went out for a meal. We went to the wrong place, it was closed, and we had to settle for a small Chinese restaurant. The food was marvelous. We were all very satisfied.

No doubt it is true, and perhaps greater realms. We can take a few of our old friends together, and talk and talk.

A few of the kids came home from school during the vacation.

Sincerely yours,

Back to the Ivory Tower?

If for a moment we were able to recognize the importance of vocational prep-raration, we might be more wisely ennabled to judge the present phase of teaching. It is an undeniable fact that today we are getting away from the school which we inherited from our
