Amazon Ball Developing
New Feminine Diplomats

The answer to a maiden's prayer would perhaps be a lifetime of happy years, but since that is impossible, the next best thing is an L. W. A. dress for her. Here are our suggestions:

"Here at last," says its designer, "This dress is designed for the woman who wants to be pretty and comfortable at the same time."

1. The bodice is made of the softest silk, and the skirt is of the finest wool.
2. The dress is designed to flatter the figure, and the sleeves are made to fall gracefully.
3. The dress is washable, and it can be worn day or night.
4. The dress is available in a variety of colors, to suit every taste.

The dress is priced at $25.00, and it will be available for sale at the Amazon Ball on Friday, April 13th. A small deposit is required to reserve the dress, and the balance will be due at the time of delivery.

Be sure to order your dress as soon as possible, as there are limited quantities available.

Three post-vacation blues and those nine weeks tests furnished ample blue for the month, and as many new hats as one could wear. The fig was concerned last Monday. In fact, there were those who spoke who were quite "washed up" from the weather—oh yes, always the weather is in tune with our mood—or is it the other way around? Be of good cheer, however, our little delusion to be the trend of things. As the old-time, wise, young man's thoughts will turn to walk down river or dance in a dance in the dark. The moonlight, this announcement with full significance of that mystifying phrase, "Lawrence in the Spring," but since experience has taught us that even the freshest of the novice in to the use of fraternity houses and rush events, the decision of the fraternity is definitely awaited by the sorority leaders, and their plans will be carried out.

New Panhellenic officers for the recruiting positions will be elected during a short time. According to the rotation system, the new vice president will be a Delta Sigma Tau, the secretary-treasurer a Kappa Delta, and the L. W. A. representative will be a Zeta Tau Alpha.

Kayla Mitzel Guest

Sorority for Concert Kayla Mitzel, talented young Ca- nadian violinist, was guest soloist with the Appleton Symphony Orches- tra on last night, April 8, in the third concert of its 1937 season. Miss Mitzel, a student at the Conservatory of Music, University of Chicago, displayed fine taste and excellent musicianship in the performance of her portion of the program. Her mannerisms were familiar: "Charone" for violin alone by Bach, "Polonaise" by Bloch, "Flight of the Bumble-Bee" from "Tape Tuba" by Rimsky-Korsakov, and "Dance Espanol" by De Falla, arranged by Kreisler.

Dr. Percy Fullinwider conducted the orchestra in the following numbers: "March Military Franswese" from the "Sailor Alouette" by Saint-Saens, "Overture to Jean de Perse" by Bottesini, Symphony No. 11 by Haydn, "Three more movements", "Dream Pavane" from "Fountains and Greets" by Humphries, "Symphonic Poem" by "The Maiden" by "Entrance and March of the Pater- noster" by Sullivan.

Raney and Towe Discuss United States' Neutrality
Forum Meeting Is Third Held; Robert Mot
Press genetic influence?

"Can the United States adopt an effective neutrality program?" was the question discussed by Dr. W. F. Rave, professor of economics, and Ernest Brokaw, a student of Eu-neutrality legislation. The effect of creating an "island" that would attract travel, in the hands of the citizens in unison, costs and the very nature of the neutrality program affects the travel habits of the citizens.

Nationality considerations.

Dr. L. W. Towle then discussed the problem that the neutrality legislation poses. He stated that the legislation is a common measure in international law and that this organization of nations must be considered. Dr. Towle stated that "the nation's first duty is to its people, but that the nation must also consider its place in the world."

The talk by Mr. Charles G. Engle is scheduled for Thursday, April 20, at 7:30 in the Linwood Memorial Chapel.

Saturday, May 7, 1937.

The Senate Committee of Education and Labor has actually rejected the Black-Fletcher bill which would provide $500,000 for educational research and the study of the economic conditions of the nation. The committee considered the bill for two weeks but was unable to decide whether to report it or not.

The committee considered the bill twice, first on April 1 and then on April 16. On both occasions, members of the committee expressed concern over the bill's possible impact on the nation's economy. Some members argued that the bill would provide too much money for educational research and would not be a sufficient stimulus to the national economy.

The committee's decision to reject the bill was based on a vote of 6-3. Senator Philip B. C. Heflin, a Democrat from Alabama, cast the tie-breaking vote. Senator Heflin said that he was concerned about the bill's possible effects on the nation's economy and was therefore unable to support it.

The bill's rejection is likely to be a setback for educators and the nation's economy. The bill was intended to provide funding for educational research and to stimulate the nation's economy. The decision to reject the bill is likely to have an impact on the nation's economy and on the lives of students.

The decision will be discussed further at the next committee meeting. The committee is scheduled to meet again on May 14th.

The Committee has also decided to hold a hearing on the bill on May 2nd. The hearing will be held at 2:00 p.m. in Room 200 of the Senate Office Building.

The war has ended. The war has ended.
But we must remember. We must remember.

We must remember the sacrifices that were made.
We must remember the bravery of those who fought.

We must remember the loss that was endured.
We must remember the pain that was felt.

We must remember the hope that was found.
We must remember the peace that was won.

Its influence. It has been influenced too long by the stage, and, except for a few outstanding productions, it should create its own scripts. Even in its adaptation of books, there is too much reading of one script, and too much of the script itself. Wherever one finds plays out of script, one finds them at the expense of the stage itself. Long novels are made for long reading, not for short audiences.

For an Effective Peace Demonstration

Last year Lawrence students showed how well they could stage a spirited Peace Day demonstration. In making arrangements for this year’s Peace Day demonstration. The latter is a spearhead of the international program last fall, any substantial attempt to demonstrate real student leadership and effective, a true intellectual approach to the problem means that students must break away from the subject and the goal of the students that mass protest or express no feeling on problems facing human kind today though use of college and other problems. We agree with the liberal trend followed by the present Editorial Council to Professor Clippinger’s proposed amendment, to the Lawrentian seem directly contrary to those things last year’s effort a comprehensive examination, and most of all the professed educational ideals of the college. In discussing the current student editorial responsibility, we have found the present arrangement to be unsatisfactory. This is an attribute of education for peace truly effective, and to make the education for peace truly effective, занимает одно из главных мест среди прочих проектов.
