Plan Advanced to Alter System of Women's Proctors

Junior Counselors Will Continue; No More Will Be Appointed

The Lawrence tradition of electing the outstanding girl of the sophomore and junior classes to serve as proctor was abolished this week. At a meeting of the dormitory heads and Miss Woodworth, it was decided to abolish proctors for next year. The six junior seniors now holding the positions of counselors will retain those positions in Ormsby and Peabody. Those seniors will not be elected for next year, as they will be the same. These seniors will not have to act as proctors as so many think, they will act only as an advisory body to the counselors.

There will be some other provision made, however, for the supervision in the freshman dormitories to give the freshmen aid in adjusting to dormitory life. This is a final statement made to the counselors by Dr. A. H. Weston. The counselor which previously had the power of electing proctors will now have the power of electing counselors.

Lawrence Professors Hold Variety Of Views on Worth of Peace Strike

Lawrence professors, asked to give their views on the efficacy of a peace strike as a means of expressing a desire for peace, are divided in opinion.

"All for it. ... effective," was the concensus of view among those who expressed a desire for peace. "Often don't mean anything anyway," was the observation of one.

In the minds of some, a peace strike means a display of desires for peace, and in the minds of others, a demonstration for peace.

DR. TREVER: I am thoroughly in sympathy with the student-peace movement of course, and would encourage students to be a part of this movement. I see little value, however, in a peace strike, since it is very difficult to determine the effect of such a movement.

Such movements are usually accompanied with little thought of a "barrack boys" affair, and by the majority, merely for the sake of a holiday. I see little value either, in making pledges not to fight. The patriotic ideal is worth, but no one can know what he will do when the concrete situation arises.

We should, rather, encourage students, if they have a desire to know the causes of war and study intelligently, what they can do to prevent its coming.

DR. DARLING: "If they mean a peace demonstration without saying anything, then they are all right."

DR. LOUIS C. BAKER: "There are paradoxes prevailing—the good, the bad, and the ugly. There is not much to be said for such an idea in our times."

MR. DUSHANE: "Peace demonstrations, both public and private including parades, I think, are activities of a general nature. Such activities, if properly selected, should have the desire to further the causes of peace in mind."

MISS DOBOTHY WAPLES: "We, as a nation, are all in favor of peace too."

DR. DELO: "Money should be spent in the way of securing the complete understanding of the world problem and the cooperation of the world for peace."

DR. TREVER: "There is no conflict here. We are completely in agreement with you."

DR. DELO: "I see little value, however, in a strike against what?"

DR. DELO: "Inasmuch as it is intelligent and I give it my hearty support."

MISS DOBOTHY WAPLES: "I'm all for it, too."

In conclusion, a majority of those who attended the Conference were in favor of a peace movement, and advocated a policy "which may be done to prevent war from breaking out."

The Conference is expected to attract delegates representing 18 colleges and universities totaling 15,000 members, from 800,000 in the United States and 400,000 in Canada and Mexico. The Conference will meet at the University of Illinois, and Dr. Hasbrouck, President of the university, will address the students participating in a holocaust which does not concern us, even though it may be a conflict in the virtues of democracy and universal sweetness. It is intelligent and I give it my hearty support."
Girls Continue to Pay, Pay, and Pay as Sorority Formal Season Arrives

It must have been that we took us to the second floor, left, of the Library the other day which set us on philosophizing about one thing and another. We were by no means unhappy. There we were, trying to consider ourselves that marks didn’t count anyway—and as for that business about “paying the piper”—didn’t we pay Saturday night at the K.P. hall? You think we had a pass (t) or something? Well, finally all our muttered thoughts came to the conclusion of all philosophy, “Variety is the spice of life.” Lest you doubt the sublime truth of the saying, consider Milwaukee.

Presentation of ‘Elijah’ Pleases Large Audience

BY GEORGE E. HOFFMAN

An audience of almost a thousand people last night heard the Schola Cantorum, under the direction of Dr. Carl J. Waterman, give an outstanding performance of Mendelssohn’s "Elijah" in Memorial Chapel.

Excellent choral singing and fine solo work for the quartet characterized the performance throughout. LaVaine Manesch, organist, accompanied, at the organ, and Donald Gerlach, organist and choir master at Mt. Olivet Lutheran church, gave the piano accompaniment.

A particularly commendable performance was that of Marshall Rush, local baritone, who carried the bravest solo part as Elijah. Rush’s voice often heard in Appleton was at its best last night, both in its canto and in its softest passages. He was thoroughly capable performer, and the impression he made was much appreciated.

Next Week’s Recital

Monday, Mr. Luther Fowl will speak on Tcheng, president.

Wednesday, Dr. J. S. Milton will speak.

Mr. W. H. Bowland, head of the Appleton High School, will speak on Germany.

Avery Announces Freshman Guest Day on May 15

Program Will Include Convocation Program, Tea Dance

President Stanley Avery of the Lawrence College announces the following program for Freshman Guest Day, which will be held Saturday, May 15. The program is entirely in the hands of the freshmen, rather than the College and the Executive Committee, as previously.

To start things in the proper spirit, an Infrantry-Security Song will be held Friday evening May 14, probably in the Chapel following dinner. The program will be directed by Stan Holloway. The remaining numbers of the program will be turned over to a series of teams matched by Lawrence College and possibly two from Northwestern University.

Style Show

In the early afternoon the girls will be entertained by a style show and for the boys there will be a program at the gym. Lunchon will be served at 12:30 in the student center of the Thorp Gymnasium. From there in five o'clock in the evening, a fashion dance will be held at the Club Alexander with Tommy Temple furnishing the rhythm. A buffet dinner is next in order either at the gym or back on campus, ending the afternoon.

Saturday night the A. Cappella Choir will sing, followed by Tommy Temple. A tea dance will be held at the Club Alexander with Tommy Temple furnishing the rhythm. A buffet dinner is next in order, either at the gym or back on campus, ending the evening.

Breakfast, on Saturday, May 15, on the lawn of either Ormsby or the College, will be entertained by a style show. The program will be directed by Stan Holloway. The remaining numbers of the program will be turned over to a series of teams matched by Lawrence College and possibly two from Northwestern University.

Barrows Talks at Music Gathering

Advocates More Coherent Program in Fine Arts Department

President Thomas N. Barrows addressed the visitors at the Lawrence Conservatory Get-together on April 15, and advocated the continuation of a more coherent program in the fine arts, department for students in a liberal arts college. This talk was given as the welcoming address at the Conservatory on Saturday morning.

"Our objective in the fine arts department is to make available a more coherent program in fine arts for students whose major interests lie in drama, speech, or music, but who do not care to approach these subjects from a professional point of view," President Barrows said. "The college, the conservatory, and other fine arts departments remain interdependent, but the program, as it stands today, is resulting in closer cooperation between these departments and good interest in the fine arts on the part of students selecting the college's liberal arts courses."

Guest Day on May 15

The committee chairmen, working under Stan Avery, are preparing plans and arrangements for the guests. Both freshmen and upper classmen are invited to do so, handing in any suggestions for the coming Lawrence Day.

Carroll Team Fades Badly in Triangular Meet

Diag. 8: Carroll College tomorrow afternoon will probably see the Violet track meet, the team to be won in each race, and of course, in every event. It will be hard to tell how many of the events will be won, but it will be a good day for the fellows to show what they can do. Carroll meet is over and won. Practice begins Wednesday morning, and the records will stand after the third places away from the large team. Davis was second with 435. Delta Sigma Tau third with 367. Delta Theta Pi and Sigma Phi Epsilon tied with 14 points each, and Phi Kappa Theta brought up the rear with 7 points. Only non-letterman were eligible to compete in the meet.

Yesterday was a snow day at Lawrence. While many might have felt it a day to stay in and enjoy the snow, a small number of students decided to make the most of the day. Many chose to spend time studying, while others took advantage of the quiet conditions to engage in conversations or activities they might not have had the chance to do otherwise. The snow day provided an opportunity for students to recharge and catch up on missed work, while also enjoying the beauty of the winter landscape.

Respect for Main Hall Study Privileges Needed

The Lawrence College community, particularly the freshman class, feels the Lawrence campus is in dire need of can be established. We feel that the spirit we have put in are the best to be had for the coming years. However, we feel that the spirit we have put in are the best to be had for the coming years. As students, we need your help to make this happen.

Another method of manifesting dormant powers is in our contemporary, the Yale Daily News, which makes money by supplying labor to unions in general and sit-downers in particular. Our campaign is worth any amount of discouragement. However, we feel that the spirit we have put in are the best to be had for the coming years. As students, we need your help to make this happen.
