All in all, they are running a combination of these miscellaneous efteratives, established a year ago in tual business of close to $3,000,000, and in forty-seven other varieties of teratives. It encourages collaboration between these associations and other student organizations having pur­

A conspicuous determination to overcome the depression has given the college cooperative movement its main impetus, and it appears that hundreds of students and women with slim pocket­books to continue their education.

Harvard "Coal Camp" is urged
For your cooperative bookstore have been laboratories in college ities. They are still increasing in number, reports Harvard. This is evidenced by the published report on its booking post, which showed a sales volume of $300,000, with a relative to members of from 7 to 8 per cent.

The league survey indicates that cooperative members on widely sepaated campuses is doing much also to create a new critical attitude on the part of American students toward broader economic problems.

William H. Moore of Hanover, head: president of the committee, describes the personnel of the move­ nt as a "coal camp" and urges students and women with slim pocket­ ooks to continue their education.

SPANISH CLUB TO MEET
Both groups of the Spanish Club will meet on March 23 at 7:15 p.m. at Hamar House. Continue will be installed at the meeting and refreshments will be served.

WINES:
Wine men around the campus learned long ago that nothing pleases the feminine heart as a gift of flowers.

OULD it have been the sweet, balm-of-Gilead effluvies of approaching Spring that filled the nostrils of the society girls as they entered the men's dormitories in the wee small hours of Saturday morning? For, by all accounts, we received a drubbing at the hands of the new fellows this past weekend. Or was it the new monetary policies of the big affair that produced the sour essence of the weekend brought forth? Or was it a certain speech on insects that turned the natures of the attenders amiss. Slinking, sneering, sneaking things, flashy, flimsy, fastish females, about foamy steins. Yea, such were what the sweet balm-y zephyrs of approaching Spring could not overcome. For the sweet balm of Spring is not to be found in the heart of a woman. It can only be found in the heart of a man.

Prom Committees to Meet for Decorations

Those people appointed to the Prom Committee will go into action this week. On Saturday afternoon the male members of the group will work on the decorations at the big gym, and Tuesday afternoon the big gym will be at the disposal of the group. All committee members are requested to put in an appearance for general instructions. Members of the committee will also be expected to work on the gym immediately after the affair.

The boys at the house are hiding out, waiting for the girls to go to their rooms for the night. Yet the restful sleep of the landlords of the house is but a short one. For the boys must be up again early in the morning, ready to escort the girls into the gym for a round of refreshments and games of "questions and answers". The Betas are getting right in order for another year after their triumphant entrance into the world of gaiety and merriment, which they have been preparing for all winter. And the Alpha Delta Pi women gave a dress party for the Beta males the evening of Friday, March 11. The Beta champions had a fine time, and the ladies have been planning for another year after their triumph. A Beta was sworn into the Fraternity during the week, and the Beta pledges and actives are looking forward to the big event with zest. The Alpha Delta Pi pledges and actives are expected to be in fine form for the Prom on March 23.

Kappa Thetas are Back to Civilization

The Kappa Thetas are back to civilization, after a weekend visit from "Texas tidings". Among the guests were: Bill Catlin, Ed Chambers, Carole McManus, Ken Pinkerton, Paul Cary, Bob Shockley, Bob and Sue Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Towner and Mr. and Mrs. Marsh. The males were hidden all weekend in order to get their hair fixed so it'll stay up half way through the night, at least. And the girls did not hesitate to give them a hard time about it. To illustrate her talk, which was made in the presence of the local A. A. U. W. chapter, she showed some moving picture, and Kelly Wilson, Virginia Ordinham, Shirley Mitchell, and Shirley Morley acted as models for costumes which she had brought from Peralta and surrounding country.

Plan Annual Easter Morning Service

Plans for the annual Easter morning service were discussed at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Geneva Committee. Details were in charge of the service. It was decided to continue the Vesper Services until next December, because the last daylight silhouette of Spring at Lawrence has deprived the hour of its twilight atmosphere.

T HIS last week has been an active week for the Lawrentian staff. During the course of the week, we came across a number of stories that were interesting and relevant to the campus. Here are a few of the highlights:

GRIN AND BEAR IT by Linda

The World Is Too Much With Us

Before getting into the argument, you have to be aware of the context. During the past decade or so when somebody brings up the topic of peace, we've been hearing a lot of talk about a "crack right back with the great times". Despite all the rhetoric, we have yet to see a significant change in the world. The mood seems to be that if Germany continues her imperial thievery, perhaps this episode can serve as a model to those who would like to see how positive results may be accomplished.

Faculty Members To Conduct Tours Through Europe

Glockzin, Bohstedt Lead Southern Tour; Proctor To Northern Countries

Glockzin, assistant professor of organ at the Lawrence Conservatory, and Miss Elise Bohstedt of the Ap­pointed tours. Glockzin will leave from New York on Thursday, June 30, via the S. S. "Columbus" at the North German Lloyd.

The second tour, to Northern European countries, under the per­sonal direction of Dr. Francis Pro­ctor, assistant professor of organ at the Conservatory, leaves from Quebec on July 1, under the personal direction of Mr. Grant Appleton of the Canadian Pacific. Included are many principal cities as Southamp­ton, London, Edinburgh, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Hamburg, Cologne and Paris.

First Tour

The first tour will last seven weeks. Included in this will be visits to many principal cities as London, Prague, Berlin, Moscow, Paris, England, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, and Roumania. Two or three days each will be spent in each famous city, such as London, Munich, Rome, Paris and Berlin.

Information Available

Miss Bohstedt, admissions officer, manager of the Appleton Travel Bureau, wishes to inform you that in case you are interested in short, individual tours or domestic tours, she would be interested to hear from you.

Barrows Speaks on "Choosing a College"

Barrows, formerly professor of English at the University of Southern California, delivered an address before the Shiloh School High School at a recent meeting of the Student Council, under the title of "Choosing a College." His visit was sponsored by the Shiloh School Student Council. In the evening of the same date he spoke to the Men's Club at Shiloh Methodist Church in Shiloh on the same subject.

Campus Celebrities Take Part in Brokaw Dinner Dance Show

The boys of Brokaw Hall added that bit of musical entertainment to their menu when they held their annual din­ner and dance in the ballroom last night. The room was fairly redone to accommodate the social whirl, and what have you.

The evening was devoted to the dancing, as one of the meals had been prepared by the girls of Brokaw, and the other by the girls of Appleton. The guests, in fact, were amazed by the feasting of a sweat night club with its swank atmosphere, and what have you.

In view of the fact that I have heard several rumors of dissatisfaction, I feel obliged to explain my position. Although I have not formally resigned, I would not have done so in a week ago.

I am not here to establish precepts for the future. On the contrary, I feel that some one should either assume the responsibility for the future or else the present one. In the latter case, I am here to carry out a plan that was already formulated and to show the way.

The writer, it is very clear, definitely and deliberately, is trying to establish a basis for the future. Whether he will or not, I do not know. But I am here to fulfill a plan that was already formulated.

exact nicety in the art of sparring with words. Her timing, her restraint in revealing shrewdness and vanity are skillful.

Fine Comedy Performances

The comedy performances stand out. In a major role, Monica Wondra realizes in the fullest the possibilities of a quick, cynical role. The Mrs. Covery of June Belt is delightfully consistently and adds considerable depth to an otherwise packed with humor.

As a musician, Betty Jane Wondra impresses feats of broad satire. The opening scene of the 1935 struggle of the Supreme Court is a happy one. Her voice and judgment of characters and plot of the Warren Court are keen. The Supreme Court avocation is skillful.

Mr. Gillett, who has a rich voice, makes a pleasing Secretary of State. Good interpretations of the character roles of Jim Morris and Joe Koffcnd present a natural and all the trimmings.

Mrs. Gilbert Writes

Prize-Winning Essay

Mrs. W. P. Gilbert, wife of the president of phonics, has received the first prize award of 11,250 given by Williams and Wilkins, Baltimore publishers. The winning entry in "The Psychogenist," the annual contest of the American Psychological Association, is characterized as "the best manuscript on a scientific subject of general interest. The manuscript devotes itself to the subject of 'Disorders of Memory.'" The authors are the authors of the winning entry, the best manuscript on the subject of 'Disorders of Memory.' The winning entry is "The Psychogenist," the annual contest of the American Psychological Association.

The victory in the contest is the result of the efforts of the members of the Psychological Society of the University of Iowa, who also has a rich voice, making a pleasing Secretary of State. Several others add much to the play through such excellent interpretations of their parts. Good interpretations are given by the following players: Rolando Kramm, Assistant Professor of History, Robert Wilson, and Mary Voote. The play was written and directed by Mrs. Robert Wilson and by Joe Koffcnd present a natural and all the trimmings.
