Students Elect Tom Jacobs New Executive Head

Winner Holds Unchallenged Lead Throughout Transfer of Ballots

Tom Jacobs was elected president of the student body last Friday in an election which he led in the total number of votes cast showed that it was the most interesting in years. Four hundred and two voters, or appreciable more than the number of the voting class, cast ballots for the candidates, and ballot boxes were more crowded than expected.

The poll was closed at 3:30, and the results were counted in the main hall. Jacobs had held the executive position for two years. The total number of votes was 1,014.

Iturbi to Play Here Wednesday

Noted Pianist Will Open Artist Series at Chapel

The first recording of the current Community Artist Series will be presented by Annapurna Iturbi, pianist, Spanish pianist, Wednesday night, October 26, at Memorial Chapel on the Lawrence campus.

Iturbi, who is considered one of the finest pianists of all time, has recorded hundreds of recordings for the American Gramophone Corporation. His recordings are known for their artistry and technical perfection.

A graduate of the Madrid Academy of Music, Iturbi is a member of the Royal Academy of Music in London and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Apprises With Synthesis

Lawrence students have been waiting for this notable personality to arrive for some time, and her appearance last night fulfilled the expectations of everyone. After her appearance in the Lawrence Memorial Chapel, Miss Iturbi will give a recital in Minneapolis. She will appear with Youngblood conductor and the community concert in the Minneapolis auditorium, and will tour with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra in the music season in Philadelphia, Boston, and Detroit.

Handicapped—In Spain at least—Jose Iturbi is one of the leading Spanish composers. In Spain he is known as the "Bonshoer," who dominated the stage during the three years and is now considered to be one of the greatest of all his recitals. Still, if a couple of bad notes in the form of a symphony, a concerto and a sonata left him a little weaker, the Iturbi orchestra will still be intact.

The Concerto in E minor was built around Ned Deming, the old High school star who rules and carries brilliantity in the world of boobs and the Iturbi orchestra. John Clayton, brother of the famous Dem, who made Art Bark good, has returned to the fold, and looked at her face sadly. Soon Koerble: Lollic, Betty Ann John-

Vikies Depend On These Gridders Saturday

On Lawrence's undefeated 1938 eleven are six seniors, five of them seen here. Cy Seibold, senior guard, who played 60 minutes of tough football last week, is not shown. At upper left is Don Wridmann, fleet halfback, who may start against Carroll if Ken Buesing's leg injury doesn't respond to treatment. Co-captain Obbie Novakofski, upper right, Lawrence's big gun on offense, will be doing at least three-quarters of the ball toting for the Vikes. He is among the leading scorers of the Mid­west conference, having scored three times in con­ference play.

Co-captain Joe "Jug" Martinweller, center, has lived up to his reputation of being the hardest blocker in the Midwest conference, besides doing a wonderful job of tackling. He has played all at center, and the Vikes will have to be careful against the powerful center. Mike Galen, lower left, veteran guard, played one of the best games of his career against Monmouth, deadly tackling featuring his play.

Novakofski Runs 72 Yards as Vikes Down Monmouth Gridders, 19 to 8

By Bob Sheehy

A flash of lightning and a clap of thunder announced the fourth straight victory of the Vikes this year. Playing the last ball in a formidable charging against a strong Monmouth squad, the Lawrence gridders called up a score of 19-8.

The Dons received the ball at their 23 yard stripe. A play or two into the line netted nothing. No-Obbie on a 20 yard jaunt around the left led the remaining 10 yards to the goal. Vakofski faded back and fired a 50 yard kickoff that was returned 20 yards putting the ball on the Scot's seven yard line. With line play the Dons scored a first.

With the ball on the 4 yard stripe the game became really rough. As a result, Novakofski, Lawrence and Vakofski were forced to leave the game. Vakofski intercepted a pass. By this time the ball had become slippery, soggy and heavy from the downpour that had started during the half. Stew of Monmouth went back to kick but fumbled the ball over in the field. As an alter- native he attempted a pass in the direction of Sapp which was intercepted by Sapp on the two yard strip. Although it was an intentionally grounded pass Lawrence elected to take the ball where it was rather than accept the penalty. A plunge through center by Lawrence resulted in the ball being grounded.

The remainder of the quarter was fought on Vike territory with no success of turning the tide of the fighting Scots. The Vikes' running game functioned very well but their passing attack was stopped dead. Effective running on the part of Lawrence, coupled with good support on the part of the backs in the backing of line, kept the Scots from gaining 37 yards putting the ball on the Scot's 9 yard line. On the first play Novakofski intercepted a pass from center. As an alternative he attempted a pass in the direction of the Monmouth end who intercepted it and ran it back 50 yards for a touchdown. A point followed and the score stood 13-6.

The fourth quarter opened with a tremendous drive on the part of the determined Scots. Power plays through the line, effective running and short passes gained yardage in the first and end of the line yard line. Sapp ran around the left and swept and neat the only Monmouth contribution. Vakofski ended the threat by a punt and the score stood 13-8.

Lawrence received the kick in mill-field and started another march toward the Vike goal. They were thwarted, however, by Novakofski who intercepted a pass on the 21 yard line. On the first right end sweep and netted the only Monmouth points to place the score at 13-8. The Dons lost two points to 13-6. Monmouth received the kick in mid-field and started another march toward the Vike goal. There were thwarted, however, by Novakofski who intercepted a pass on the 21 yard line. On the first right end sweep and netted the only Monmouth points to place the score at 13-8. The Dons lost two points to 13-6.
