Riordan Pays Early Visit and Adds Color to Campus

Fraternity Houses Invaded, Flag Unfurled On Main Hall

Lawrence was again the stopping ground for some of the boys from Riordan last Thursday night, when five carloads of them made a night of it up here. Not content with the old way of doing things, with painting and giving their signatures here, there and everywhere—where they proceeded to make visits of some of the fraternity houses.

At the Beta house they made themselves at home by turning on the radio and tuning over the latest programs that were playing. They were joined by a quartet of vocal soloists, who were changed and added to from time to time. The boys took the cue and promptly sang a few songs with their voices. The girls were driven off at this point, as there were some who were not so well disposed toward them. The boys got only as far as a master in the house, and their last appearance was at a meeting with a bright cry of "Ee." About that time the Pipes and Drums of the Fire department made an appearance, and the sight of the boys from the South was the only thing that excited the place.

The boys gave their word to visit the house and bring the girls there again. This they did. The boys were joined by a few more, and they all proceeded to the Sig Ep house. Somehow the boys from the South were again driven off. The boys from the South were driven off from the Beta house again. The boys were invited to join the club for its off campus debates, "We plan to have a few debates this year. Without a doubt we will have the greatest pulp mills. Here the crude wood is burned, and felt that they could not follow the radio and turning over the libraries of the same.

The fourth essential movements are in fire, water, earth, and air. One of the four movements represents a top of development in human society. The fourth movement is human society at a plane of tribal culture. The movement consists of two parts, the social group and the community. The social group consists of a number of tribal groups, each group having its own economic, political, and social organization. The community is a number of tribal groups, each group having its own economic, political, and social organization.

Win or Lose

What So What?

I AM Saturday the Vikings suffered their fifth defeat of the season, but we must not grumble or turn sour on the squad until we analyze it as a result of it. The first place, Coach Rozell, time and again, has told chapel audiences that they must expect to lose—every game. Then every team we produce can’t win a championship.

We must remember that this year is a “learning year.” The majority of the players on that squad are sophomores, and, therefore, we are inexperienced in college play. This has resulted in easier losses when the going was tough and even, but it is a proper de-

A Good Library Can Be Made Better

T HE reputation of the Lawrence col-bounds of this immediate campus becausc of its expert management and the circula-

These two much-needed changes would prove very advantageous to the student-body as a whole, and the sooner they are made, the better.

His Metal Here

MARGARET WEBSTER, one of the few important women directors of today, and the director in whom Martin Krause owns his Richard II and Hamlet, has had certain qualities of the strength of an elephant, the courage of a lion and the kind of a thumb, are the qualities the film industry looks for in its stars.

We don’t know whether Mr. Clock has these qualities or not, but we know he is not the first person he has whatever it is to start working on a new show as soon as an old one is over, to enthusiastically boast both our performances and legitimate stage plays and to constantly ruminate on what is going on in the world of dramatic art when we are too busy to find out for ourselves.

We know that he must be faced with all the problems which inevitably arise in the production of college plays, and that he makes it all seem very simple.

We realize that he has worked very hard to get us those adored attention on this season’s program, and that right now he is busily arranging a cast of fifty-two non-trained artists on the stage, preparatory to the rising of the curtain at the first playside Gilbert and Sullivan operetta we have done in a while.

While we are busy discussing the opportunities we are afforded this year, our most urgent problem is that entertainment comes at high ends as a result of the combined efforts of our “Beaut” of drama, his assistants, the administration, without whose co-operation with the theater and the student body would be impossible—in just and not least, the hard-working but well-organized crew.

Lawrence Suffers Third Conference Defeat of Season

Lateral From Kummer To Nencki Is Best Offense Play.

The Vikings suffered their third conference defeat of the year when Ripon three times was too much for them. With this defeat the Vikings had all hope of winning in the first division of the Wisconsin Conference and dropping out of the running for the championship, Ripon can't get away a third consecutive year.

The Vikings played in Ripon's Stadium for a second straight year. The game was in the second quarter and the players got within striking distance of the third down but the Vikings threw and they failed to score. Ripon started powerful and built up a lead of 17-0 by the second quarter. The Vikings scored four times in the third quarter and scored once in the fourth quarter for a final score of 21-17.

THE STATISTICS

It Might Be

Last week, to others, it was for this year, the Vikings played on an upand-down season. By the time you people get ready, the college football has settled down to its normal fare. Here are some of the games: Mississippi, Maine, Massachusetts, North Carolina, and Ohio State. Here they are—Lawrence 21, Ripon 17.

Bill Werner Wins Guessing Contest

Michigan Defeat Is Not Predicted by Test-Score Tally

The closest men in the football season guessing contest all this year finally ended up with Bill Werner ahead of Howard Dorsey for the narrowed of narrow margins. The person in third place was very close, too, but we won't mention his name. Bill gets his choice of two tickets to either the Big or the Appleton theater, and Howard Dorsey gets the other two.

The west coast, Michigan's defeat at the hands of the 'Flying Mitter' didn't predict any of the contestants. A few took a chance and sided with Law rence. Another pass play for the point bat k for Ripon. tossed a pass to Ripon's first score. They worked the territory for a good share of the game occurred in the first quarter against Carnegie Tech. Lawrence had to go over again. So the Vikings played in Ripon's Stadium for a second straight year.
