Show Photographs for Dedication Week

As a special feature of the week-end dedication of the quadrangle, a large exhibit of prize-winning photographs of national competition, which is being held at the conservatory of music, will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the stairway. Local photographers have contributed the exhibit, which hangs in the stairway, above and on the floor floor show case in the library.

Kellett Tells Of Shortage of College Men

Industry Needs Technically Trained College Graduates

There is a shortage of college graduates in industry today, especially technically trained men," said William Kellet of the general manager of the Lake and Baldwin Piano Company, as the closing of the vocational guidance lecture by the business men of the area. Mr. Kellett said that for some while it has been a lot to learn about going after a job that college men have been able to handle. "Don't wait until the last minute to look for a job," he said.

He said that most big business offices try to get top men. And an industry college and government are necessary to get these men. A large percentage of those who do applied for a job in college and government, "Is this just what they're trying to do? What is the plan by saying that if you are interested in taking a job." The change plans for special edition

Places have been changed regarding the special student page section of the Lawrencean which was to have come out today. Instead the feature will appear on the first page of the Thursday, March 26, edition. The editors felt that this was necessary because the public demand of a special page dedication was subordinated to the need of a special page dedication.

No Smoking Please

121 Students Enter Contests at College and Conservatory

Lawrence college and Lawrence Conservatory of Music were host to 121 high school students from four states at scholarship contest last Saturday. Eighty-eight students entered the college contest and 33, the conservatory competition. They represented high schools in Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, and Illinois.

A reception for those in the music contest was held Saturday and Sunday afternoon at the conservatory, and an average of five or six students at the college competition was held at the library.

The competition results will be announced later this week. The conservatory offers $258 in scholarship prizes and the college, $150.

Students Perform In Convocation

Last Monday the students were entertained by a group of "home talent" boys who played in the convocation. George Garretson, William Phillips, Robert Shockley, Howard Hall, and Gene Putnamm were the stars of the show. The convocation was held in the gymnasium and was attended by all members of the student body. The program was open to the public.

Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, professor of religious education and chairman of the Department of Religious Education, will speak on "Education for the World's Religions" at the religious convocation at 2:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. Dr. Kuebler is president of the National Association of Religious Education and is a member of the university faculty.

Zeupke Takes Two Crowns as Seven Champions are Named

The Field Hockey Conference League and Jess College boxing team were fought before an enthusiastic audience of 150 students Friday afternoon at Alexander Gym. The enthusiasm shown by the fighters well warranted this sized crown.

Mowry's was the 12th close medal uncontested. The afternoon day afternoon at Alexander gym.

Although Johnson forced the fight, he hit the canvas twice when Cosgrove landed several solid blows to his head. Both boys were in bad shape after the engagement and did not have their feet in the last two rounds.

In the first round of the 135 lb. class brought Duke Ippolito and Ben Galli, both of which were close in which "the Duke" knocked out the first round and then forced the fight. The second round was a close one in which both fighters were knocked down by the head. The fight ended with the Duke winning.

The next fight was a surprise, and yet well-deserved victory over the favored team by a 22-18 score. The game was very close all the way. Although the time in the closing minutes of the game was very close, the points of the game were small. The points of the game were small. The winner, Driscoll, had the best of it. The round was slow as both boys were very out of condition. The second round was also slow and Meyers caught him. In the last round, the Duke proved himself a master boxer and won.

Fraternity Men Steal Social Spotlight; Hold Dedication

H.-H.O.T. PEOPLE!—Here we are face to face with another one of those super-social events, Lawrence weekend. This time it's labeled "Fraternity Quadrangle Dedication." Work it out, fellows, after it's over, so relax and enjoy your cold Coca-Cola. Here's to looking forward to the former half-fun and the latter half-serious part of the scene. Fraternity life means a lot, especially those events when the various fraternities plan to hold something as a whole. We're sure the Phi Delta Theta's will pull out all the stops this Friday. The initiations will be held this Friday night. On Saturday, March 22, the Delta Theta's will have a Founder's Day celebration. The event will be held at the home of the national secretary, and the Delta Theta's will present a special program in honor of the founders of the fraternity. Saturday night will be the Delta Theta's annual banquet, where new initiates will be welcomed into the fraternity. The event will be held at the Alpha Delta Pi chapter house, and the Delta Theta's will host the gathering. The evening will include socializing, food, and music, with the new initiates being officially welcomed into the fraternity. The Delta Theta's are known for their lively and entertaining events, and this year's initiation and Founder's Day celebration are sure to be memorable. Join the Delta Theta's for a night of fun, socializing, and welcoming new members into the fraternity. —elf 84
