Mortar Board And Mace Plan New Program

What does it mean to have a new program? Does it mean to do something rather than anything? Does it mean to have no idea? No, it means to have no idea what to do next! Mortar Board, the organization that plans and directs the annual spring prom to be held Saturday evening, is planning a new program for its members. The new program will be held Saturday evening, and will feature a variety of activities, including a prom, a dance, and a variety of entertainment options. The new program is expected to be a huge success, and members of the Mortar Board are excited to see what it has in store for them.

Summer Session Keeps Lawrence In the Field of More Modern Colleges

Lawrence college has again made another step that will keep it in the category of the most modern educational institutions in the country. It has made adjustments in its program that are appropriate to the seriousness of the war effort.

First, it has accelerated the present semester. Second, it has inaugurated a summer school session by which students may graduate in February or complete their college career by as much as one year. This step is being done primarily for the benefit of a class of students, namely, those who are expecting to be called into the armed services and who hope to be able to finish study or at least a large part as is possible, of their college work before induction.

A Lawrence man who may be affected should not hesitate to take advantage of this possible opportunity to assist in the development of their college program. Even present juniors may take the summer session and finish their work in February. The cost for this session has been set as low as possible in order that many more of the students who find it practical might attend.

What are Vacations for? Can't We Have Them Without Assignments

J ust a word or two to a great percentage of the Lawrence community members. What is a vacation for? Upon asking a large number of students we find that many of them think that they have an assignment every day of their first day of school vacation.

A view of the acceleration and a shorter vacation we feel that the profs should have a little and a great deal of a "vacation" instead of compelling them to spend half of the few days allotted them in studying.

In the Doghouse

Shirag vacation quite possibly means more than a respite from school and a chance for most to de-stress. It does suggest that it’s perhaps more than a start of rest or release, that it might well have been the start of the good times. Election Turley as New Swim Captain

Turley, midwestern university backstroke champion, was named captain of the Lawrence college swimming team, Turley, who holds the conference backstroke record, set last year, has never been defeated, Lawrence, present conference champions, is expected to be stronger next year with the addition of three promising sophomores.

Lost Meet to Milwaukee Teacher’s

The swimming season was brought to a close when our Midwest conference champions were captained by the Milwaukee Elks Teacher’s college to the tune of 86-48. Lawrence was leading 25-20 with only the diving and two relay events remaining. At this point, however, the teachers exploded with a first and a second in the diving event and a second place in both relays with the meet closed.

Six High Ranking Men Turn Out for Viking Golf Team

Lawrence college will present its best team this spring season. At least that is the present outlook, where Coach Bruce Hamilton has six men, who have the ability to assemble a team that will have a good record. These six men, however, do not represent the entire talent of the school and it is to these men that the coach will look to improve his team to the accelerated college academic glory.

The Phi Tau pulled off a Superman story on the over-confident Betas on the Tuesday before vacation and took the lead by eight points and the Betas, without either Bollin or Retza they bring the same into second place behind the Phi Delta and ahead of the Sig Eps. The Phi Delta clinched the title by beating the Sig Eps in the same day by a score of 36-12.

Dave Maxwell was the main scorers in the Phi Taus while he got off three baskets he was a potential scorer all the time and kept the title by beating the Sig Eps on the defensive much of the game. The Phi Taus led at the half by eight points and the Betas, trying too hard, never threatened their lead in the second frame.

The Phi Delta piled up 14 point advantage on the Sig Eps in the first half and although the winners experienced difficulty with the Sig Eps zone defense in the second half, easily coasted to victory. The Sig Eps tried to contain the Phi Delta with arithmetic of offense and defense. The Sig Eps were playing at a disadvantage while the Phi Delta made their first appearance in the state badminton Tournament and to wish him luck. —The Phi Taus—19 | Betas—11

Set Up Program For Track Team
Team is Weakened by Loss of Orwig, Jones

The 1945 track schedule finds no room for a dual meet with Beloit and the date of the state meet may interfere with exams as Carroll and still sensitive.

This year's team will be weaker than last year's, after losing one of the track team's main men, Orwig, the team is bound to be weaker. Jim Fieweger remains the star of the team on the line of the mile. Fieweger was the high point man of the evening at the Illinois Tech Relay and the Midwest in-door meet at Northland college.

Jim Battinah, "Bing" Holway and Wally Patten are consistent individual men like Orwig.

Did You Know?

$50.00 will buy a M-I Garand Rifle. $100 to $500.00 will buy various heavy cast demolition bombs. $50.00 to $100.00 will buy machine guns of various types and calibers. $4,500.00 will buy a 37MM anti-tank gun. $10,000.00 will buy a 105MM anti-aircraft gun. $12,000.00 will buy a light tank. $25,000.00 will buy a 50MM anti-aircraft gun.

The pressure is on, and weiler. Jim Fieweger remains the top notch condition early in May, and the Phi Taus who had hold the spotlight until bank. But with getting our first chance to see the defending champions beat the Betas in the other match, the Sig Eps pushed the high up with the Sig Eps. The Sig Eps went out of the tourney by the entry of the local steamrollers.
Locke Displays Art Project
On Second Floor of Library

Pat Locke, senior art student, has recently completed a project now being displayed on the second floor in the library. She selected articles from several Appianae stores and rated them from their standpoint of artistic value and utility.

In choosing the subjects for her project she sought to demonstrate good and bad points in articles of clothing, objects of decoration and furnishing. Beside each object she placed a score sheet on which she had written her comments. A cigarette box and cigarette lighter are typical of Pat's display. She rated the box "good" and criticized: "The function of this object is distorted and obscured by forcing it to receive its light from its real duties—to do this is to create waste of air. It is made out of cheap metal glittered over to create the effect of richness. These details have been done carelessly."

Other subjects which Pat has criticized are still life paintings, maps, tables and coffee pots. The painting "Dogfight, it's happy landing for our fighter after a raid or dogfight" is by Tom Sherbert. It fascinates attention upon the center of interest, while the "bad" object creates a cluttered effect. The tables demonstrate good and bad taste. One set attempts to limit bamboo, and the other is beautiful in its simplicity.

Pat goes too deeply into the practicality of the decorated cigarette pot and the newer glass type. She almost dispenses the artistic element in trying to point out the advantages of the glass models. However, such a project of contrast is difficult, and on the whole Pat has shown a sure knowledge of artistic principles in her project. A display of a typical girl's party costume and the outfit for the baccalaureate services. This project Pat has only described and differentiated between the critical good and bad taste. She believes the girl should be able to select clothing and decorative articles tastefully and artistically made especially evi­ dently.

In contrast Pat selected a cigarette container fashioned in the shape of a wheelbarrow. Pat rated it "bad" and criticized: "This function of this piece is distorted and obscured by forcing it to receive its light from its real duties—to do this is to create waste of air. It is made out of cheap metal glittered over to create the effect of richness. These details have been done carelessly."

Announce Prize Contest Group
Entertain High School Seniors; Students at College Dormitories

Approximately 150 high school seniors from four states participated in this year's Lawrence scholars contest held Saturday, March 14. 99 competed in the college contest and 34 in the conservatory.

A program was presented for the contestantes Friday night in Main hall, which had a capacity number of by Shirley Emmons, Dayton Graham, and the Beta Rho as well as two open meets. These entertainers who came over 100 miles started in the dormitories Friday night.

Saturday the contests took place. The college contestants took examinations in their special fields in the morning and in the afternoon in history. Those from the conservatory took certain fields were given. The contests for the main groups, on the other hand, consisted of individual auditions before members of the Conservatory faculty.

Lunch at Ormsby, Brokaw, and others were served Saturday noon the entrants.

Other subjects which Pat has con­ sidered are bamboo, Oriental rugs, colored glassware, and in Ormsby for the conservatory. Further entertainment was presented by the fraternity dances Saturday night.

On the whole, according to Dean McCheney, the Lawrence students showed an accurate knowledge of their special fields in the conservatory. The Lawrence choirs amaze its new listeners by its power and versatility, which finds it handling difficult numbers that are generally
