New Judicial Plan

The student council will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, January 27, at 11 a.m. in the Town Hall. The new judicial plan which has been under consideration for the past several weeks will be presented and discussed. The vote will be taken at the close of the meeting.
Judyical Board Should Provide Full Student Self-Government

NOW that the judicial board is fast becoming a reality, let's consider the part that this board will play in student affairs — that it has executive and legislative functions, but it lacks "judicial" power which is the third function necessary to provide true self-government. One of the purposes of the board is to be above or the "student body" this judicial authority.

By setting up this board the students are asserting their ability to fully govern themselves as responsible adults without the parental supervision which doesn't take the job of acting as a parent any greater. Only by practicing full democratic government while in school is it possible for the students to carry these ideals into their take-and-make government by and for the governed which democracy. Although the judicial board will probably never be as efficient as it would be under faculty supervision, the students in learning to govern themselves by practicing while in college than by acting on the shoulders watching the faculty on the judicial board.

Of course, we're going to make a few mistakes occasionally, but in the course of the authority beyond the expected or even the irresponsible. The question is how to be able to correct these errors than to wait until we have graduated and then discover that the organization has led us ignorantly or how to be a good citizen. This student government is our opportunity to learn how political functions in a democracy.

Let's make the most of it by actively working for the improvement of the student government. Whether it be through a new judicial board, or an executive committee, or just a ball session on Wednesday nights.

In choosing the candidates to be nominated for the first judicial board, the rules committee has undertaken a task demanding the most careful attention possible, and in choosing this board the student body should not permit itself to be swayed by these nominees —on the basis of popularity rather than on the basis of ability; for the first judicial board will be the most important one of all. This board will determine the success or failure of the entire judicial system by the manner in which it handles the first case brought before it. If this board fails in the first instance, it will lose the confidence of the students, but if it successfully handles the first trial by a jet and forthrightly the decision the board will grow and develop. A trial by a jet is a part of student government deciding on all judicial problems which effect Lawrence student body.

The board, staffed by responsible and capable students fully conscious of their duties, should be able to extend the scope of their influence. The taking care to rule to include cares in regard to violations of cut, system and cheating in examinations.

A voice of thanks should be accorded the student rules committee and the far-reaching faculty who by their joint efforts have made this plan possible. Both groups have worked long and arduously to bring this plan before the student body. It is now up to us, the students, to vote on whether we shall put this judicial system into operation.
