Pi Phis, KD's Hold Winter Formal at Masonic Temple

BY MARKIE MILLER—PAT MAU

COEDS like a long-week-end to complete this semester. Nothing like finishing it off right. Of course, we'll have to interrupt our normal life for a study for a change, but there are a couple of forms of entertainment to look forward to. K. P. Hall will be a scene of festive Saturday night, because the Pi Phi and K. D.'s will be getting together to have their winter formal there. Johnson Niggling will be on hand to give tours with some stimulating music and refreshments will be served at intervals.

Turn next weekend the traditional Phi DeltaBonus formals, and formal topcoats. A full house. Exam Time Brings Advice on Getting Into Mood for Study

Don't use a nice fire model to get into the mood for studying exams—you do well, for sure. Listen carefully first of all, since the time happens to be 12:30 and you've just finished lunch, you naturally decide that you can't study right now. You decide that you will study a little later and start studying away from the immediate environment. If you do that, you will waste your time.

It's Up to the Students Now; The Library Has Cooperated

T IS all up to the students now. The Library staff has opened the library for students on Sunday afternoons, but in only an experiment. It will remain open only as long as students do not abuse the privileges it offers.

The library should be a place to study Sundays. Let's not make it a dating haven because it has been in past years. If you just want to feel at home on a Sunday afternoon stay away from the library.

Vikings Crush Cornell, Ripon Cagers

Lawrence Wins 70-44

Victory Over Ripon

Morriss Leads Team
To 48-36 Victory Over
Tough Cornell Squad

With slyly was Morris leading the Vikings past the Drakeinkle Cornell here last Friday night in their first league test of the season of 48-36. Friday night was definitely Morris night as the guard guarded repeatedly brought a capacity crowd to its feet. Morris dribbled around his man and dropped the most beautiful shot of the evening. We note the ball four times in a row from Cornell players and three of them fell in baskets. One time the Vikings scored a shot, good fast broken off the offensive and a Cornell man took the rebound.

Wes came up fast, stole the ball passed to a teammate, missed the basket, and then took the ball away from Cornell again. The Vikings went in on a fast break. Dick Miller played the scoring game in the second half. Miller scored 26 and Jack Buesing 20. Until the final six minutes Lawrence was completely dominated. Not one of these failures was the fault of Wes Morris, he was hitting the basket, dumping in 11 points. Miller followed suit after about five minutes, then he was held to 13 points. Miller made 20 points with four baskets and three free throws. Miller's third basket put the Vikings up 48-36. Friday night was definitely Morris night as the speedy little man scored 40 points. He made three free throws by Howard and a three for Seidl. Crossett, and Morris, Bahnson and Fieweger were invaluable. Jim and "Butch" are just playing the right "clutch" ball we need in some of those spots. "Butch" with his outside shooting and the four basket* he got were no fault of Wes Morris. Although we were all riding him from the stands, he had our utmost respect until that final minute when he clipped one of our men in the jaw for no reason at all. Things like that, to win it plain and simple, whether our team as our opponents are doing it, and I'd bet Ted realizes that now judging from the way Ripon's coach Lambe was giving him hell on the bench after he was taken out.

Fresh Squad Shoots
Up String of Hard Fought Victories

By Bill Leventis
Lawrence's "Forgotten Men", the freshman basketball team, have made a remarkable string of hard fought victories in recent weeks despite the lack of publicity and student support being given them. In five starts the fresh have scored 44 points and held tough competition. Not one of these victories was by more than six points until the final six minutes. Two of them were won by one or two points and many of those were played against local amateur teams who have scored themselves strong amateur teams. By Ripon was the last game was against the high powered Ripon. Crossett helped the Lawrence freshmen coming out of the game with two baskets and a couple of assists. Haseleger, Bahnson and Noe are still doing a total of four points.

Well-Balanced
The Lawrence squad is very well balanced, showing defensive power and shooting. Some of the Lawrence players were playing their best basketball. Bahnson led the scoring with 24 points. Armed Services Hail New Fitness Program

The Lawrence college physical fitness program is one of the best in the state and surrounding states not just because we say so but because that's how representatives of the army, navy, and marines feel about it. Last September the administration felt that a good physical fitness program would put Lawrence men in physical shape for the services. The highlight of the whole thing was the obstacle course and the tough three-quarter mile run up and down the steeplescape. Since those early September days the program has been sped up under the able direction of Coaches Denney and Heselton with individual initiative in combative sports for the remainder of the time.

One of the events in the new program is the obstacle course with the aim to build up the men's agility and endurance. The men have shown that they are improving as time goes by. The gain for the group as a whole was 3.86 seconds. Physical fitness classes moved inside the gym just before Christmas, and the men were given vigorous exercises the first half of the period and then engaged in combative sports for the remainder of the time. The first cases of developing agility and endurance in the men and the records show that it did just that with practically every man who ran showing an improvement in time. The gain for the group as a whole was 3.86 seconds.

Physical fitness classes moved inside the gym just before Christmas and the men were given vigorous exercises the first half of the period and then engaged in combative sports for the remainder of the time. The whole program is going along swell. Next semester the emphasis on combative experience is going to take precedence over everything else and the fellows will be doing a lot of wrestling which is considered one of the best combative sports there is. With it might come some of the exercises and wrestling that Bernie seems to be anxious about six months from now."

Vikings Lead League—Shown above are the members of this years cage squad which at the present time lead the Midwest cage league. Members of the team are, standing, from left, John Gregor, manager, Warren Buesing, Dick Miller, Jim Faweger, Al Zupke, Captain Bill Crosett, Ken Bahnsen, Harry Haflinger, Coach Hanson; seated, from left, Pete Rose, manager, Wes Morris, Bob Curry, Paul Maertzweiler, Carl Giordano, Phil Harvey and George Vanderweden. (Post-Crescent Photo.)

In shows to his classes out of that new book he has. Ask him anytime. I didn't even ask and now I'm scratching the back of my head with my big toe. It's good stuff all the way around, and who can tell if some of the exercises and wrestling will save the life of one of our fellows when the going really gets tough about six months from now."
