Annual All-College Spring Prom to Be Held Tomorrow Night at Gym

Contributor Goes to Press

Announce Winners

Of Literary Contest In Spring Issue

The May issue of the Contributor, student magazine for creative writing, has gone to press. Editor Ben Peterson has announced it is expected to be available to students by May 18.

Winners in the various departments will not be made known until the magazine is issued. The staff which judged the material for the spring number was composed of Mrs. J. C. B. Allen, Dean Anderson, Dr. H. W. Long, and Ben Peterson. Polly Docherty was judging in the section of poetry.

Final results were the following short story, Viola Speck, Oakfield; essay, Sally Johnson, Green Bay; and poetry, Dr. Thomas F. Barry, Marquette university, St. Paul, Minn.

The editor commented that this issue of the Contributor would be diverse with a preponderance of essays.

Add New Courses For Navy Training

As a part of the naval training program to be instituted in July, 12 new courses pertinent to service in the navy have been added by the curriculum committee. They add a course in calculus, a course in electrical engineering, and a course in mathematics, and four physics courses. They offer from two to five credit hours.

These courses described in detail on the last three pages of the new course schedule, copies of which are available in the dean’s office. Courses with a letter before them are included in the navy required program.

Dean Anderson Speaks

Paul Anderson, dean of Lawrence college, will present the Phi Kappa Kappa address at Ohio Wesleyan college April 21. Mr. Anderson was a member of the class of 1913.

College to Hold State Tennis, Golf Meet Here

Offer Opportunity For Men to Compete In Curbolated Sports

Invitations from the Lawrence college athletic department have gone out to all colleges and universities in Wisconsin inviting teams or individual players from these institutions to participate in State Intercollegiate championships in tennis and golf. Tournaments will be held at Lawrence college May 15, and will be under the direction of Athletic Director A. C. Denney and staff. The purpose of the meets is to give an opportunity to those men who have found their intercollegiate activity in these sports unable to continue one or more of their former favorite teams. Those who wish to compete as teams.

Alumni Choose Directors by Mailing Ballots

Approximately 4000 Lawrence college alumni have received ballots through the mail this week for their preferences in the annual election of alumni trustees and alumni directors. They are to be returned to the office of Miss Maria Dale by Thursday noon, May 27. It must be signed for a person holding a degree in course. Four persons will be chosen for trustees and four more for alumni directors who will be elected alumni directors.

Appropriate Time to Hold Interfraternity Sing is Friday, May 7 Instead of on Sunday

The annual interfraternity sing is going to be held according to custom on the evening of May 7. This is not a suggestion, but one that it is hoped will carry some weight with the fraternity representatives.

Why not have the sing Friday night, May 7, instead of Sunday night, May 10? Because Friday night is women’s night. It is not as though Mother Nature is going to be turned out of the house by the new “frat swing.” Teachers and women friends are the only things that a fraternity can’t stand. Why not give the women some night in which to enjoy the fraternity spirit with their friends?

There is another reason for having the sing Friday night. When it is Saturday night, a large number of the fraternity men may have eaten in the dormitory and ought to be there to sing. When it is Sunday night, the fraternity men are on their way to the church, and there is a chance that they will not be there.

In the Wind

There seem to be a lot of people in the world who have had no experience of living in the Wind. These people are not sure of themselves. Their clothes are flapping about their faces, their shoes are flying off, and they are thinking that they are being pushed around.

The Wind is not actually pushing them around. It is just that they are not used to the experience of living in the Wind. They are not used to the feeling of being able to breathe deeply, of being able to see the world clearly, of being able to think straight.

The Wind is a natural force. It is not a force of evil. It is a force that can be used to good effect. It can be used to make people feel alive, to make people feel free, to make people feel powerful.

The Wind is a force that can be harnessed. It can be harnessed in a number of ways. It can be harnessed in the form of energy. It can be harnessed in the form of power. It can be harnessed in the form of knowledge.

The Wind is a force that can be used to make the world a better place. It is a force that can be used to make people happy. It is a force that can be used to make people free.
L A ST week the Lawrencean stated that it would attempt to get a composite idea of an all-time, all-star Lawrence football team. After speaking to several men who have seen Lawrence teams in action for a good many years, the sports staff could find only one man courageous enough to make any sort of selection. Following is a letter we received from Mr. George Banta, the first sentence expressing the feelings of every one of his Lawrencean colleagues.

It is interesting to note that only Carl Giordano, of this year's team, is picked on either the first or second team and that only two others, John Vogel '20 and Eddie Kettel '27, are even in the modern class. Everyone who looked Mr. Banta's selection over agreed wholeheartedly that each of the 11 men were plenty good, but as to saying they were the very best was another thing. It all adds up to one thing, that Lawrence has had its share of great footballers and to divide them into teams was something they couldn't do.

"My dear Sir,

"I did not realize until I attempted to set the names down on paper how hard it is for one who has always been a fan and not an expert, to attempt to select an all-time, all-star Lawrence athletic team. Even if I were qualified, the changes which have taken place in the game are such that it would be most difficult to compare the ability of the men.

"For instance, the football of the pre forward pass era, when the five yard rule was in effect, is an entirely different game from the one which is played today. Moreover, the man who was a terror back in the '90's by everyone who played with him or saw him play his very interesting letter on to you.

"Sincerely yours,"

George Banta, Jr.
