REHABILITATION

With the utter destruction of Germany completed, the people of the teeming billions are now faced with the task of rebuilding much of the world. There are those who say, "They changed, we changed," and it is true that they did. This vengeful attitude is certainly understandable, but just as certainly not very practical.

So much for the subject of rehabilitation which has been published in the leading magazines of the country. Quite naturally, whether we like it or not, the bulk of the task will have to be shouldered by the United States. In order to have a satisfactory post-war international peace organization, we must "win the peace," not only ideologically, but materially.

It is well and good to successfully band together the govern­ments of the world to agree on international problems. But such organization is of no value whatever, if it cannot first reconstruct the conquered countries more swiftly than any other nation.

The reason that it is our duty to take the lead in this task. The United States has always been the stronghold of democracy, the great believer in the doctrine that all men are created equal. We have been the "arsenal of democracy," having supplied a sizeable por­tion of the weapons for all the United Nations. The power of our command, it is easily seen that we could materially reconstruct the conquered countries more swiftly than any other nation.

Surely this is not a time to "wait and see." That is exactly what the world was doing when the German and Japanese armies were being destroyed by the war and reconstructed and put into operation in the European theater... and it is up to the United States to see that they are.

Peace and Quiet Reign on Phi Delta Sleeping Porch

The screen is on the sleeping porch at the end of the Phi Delta house. It is about 10:30 p.m. in the porch, and the screens are all drawn tightly. The only thing to be heard is the occasional snore of one of the members. Yes, it is true, there is a member who has been snoring loudly. Voices are heard steaming to himself. All is quiet.

Two o’clock rolls around and Buck Reuhl’s moaning wakes everyone. The boys talk it over and decide that they are better off. So they all get up. Charlie?”

“Mrrumph!”

“Okay,” says Abell. After the grunting of teeth all is quiet and everyone is again asleep, except Reuhl.

The United States is now the richest, most powerful notion in the world. Since the outbreak of the war it has expanded its production output at a rate thought to be impossible by enemy experts.

It is, in Franklin Delano Roosevelt’s words, "the arsenal of democracy," having supplied a sizeable portion of the weapons for all the United Nations. The power of our command, it is easily seen that we could materially reconstruct the conquered countries more swiftly than any other nation.

Dean Carl J. Waterman. The choir sang Sunday night at terman, and Nancy Rose.

The Lawrence track team is mainly training Milwaukee State Teachers College last weekend showed definite improvement in almost every event. Dick Flom, quarter miler, ran a fine race in his event, but lost by both Abell and Luedeman threw the javelin over 150'.

Several very impressive performances have been made in Illinois high school track circles in the past several weeks. Two sprinters in the Chicago area had marks of 9.9 seconds in the 100 yard dash and marks of 22.1 have met near disaster on their present eastern trip. LeRoy Stevenson who has never been a Cub fan is enjoying the whole thing in true Oshkosh fashion.

Well, it looks as though the Chicago Cubs are headed for a second place marks of 44.5 for the 220 yard dash. Elsewhere in Illinois a 1:58.3 half mile and a 4:27.5 mile have been recorded.

Vike Trackmen Meet
Illinois Tech in Finale

Denneymen Complete
Track Season Facing
Tough Techawk Team

Come Saturday, and our Viking trackmen will meet the highly talked-of Illinois Tech aggregation in a dual meet at Wieland Field at 2:30 p.m. It will be the final meet of the season for Lawrence.

The Tecagons were defeated by Marquette last Saturday, probably by a great team. Certainly in the season they pressed Notre Dame, before losing to five point Illinois trackmen to watch for. Harkins, a specialist in the sprints, the high jump and the pole vault, Finger, who travels the mile and two mile lengths, Thomson, as well as many others who traveled the distance in 2:30. (The time of this meet is not available.)

Vike Golfers Meet
Techawks Today

Tomorrow afternoon the Viking golfers will tee off with Illinois Tech golfers at the Riverbreeze fairway. It will be a match between the two campus clubs, but they should bring a powerful squad on the Gastonia. The remaining matches on the schedule for Lawrence: Tech at Chicago, Butte and Ripon. Recital to be Presented

A general recital, including students from the music departments of the Conservatory will be presented Thursday evening, May 24. There will be piano selections by students of the studios of Mr. Ming and vocal selections by students from the studios of Mr. Denney and Mr. Thurston, an informal outing Saturday, May 25.

...event in the Teacher-Viking meet was 4:42.4. Other Techhawks to be in the eye on are Hartman, Sayre, Bond, Papp, and Sirney. The Lawrence squad will rely upon every member to come through in great style. Clark, White, Flom, Karkow, Sayler and Landers are counted upon heavily while Dobson, Macdonald, Hodgdon, Morgan, Nigg, Gipps, Stender, Nelson, Minnelli, Atlee, and Strgie are able point getters.

The remaining matches on the schedule for Lawrence: Butte des Morts, and Ripon. To date the Conservatory will be presented the soloists, particularly the many mothers who had arrived for the weekend. She was assisted by Ruth Anderson, flutist, student of E. C. Moore, and Frank Papp, student of J. M. Waite. As usual but this time in 4:42.4. MacDonald was the high point getter in the 220 and 440. Sawtelle captured the mile in 4:42.4. MacDonald won the mile in 1:52.8. Flom of the Techhawks was 2:13.8. Other Techawks to keep an eye on are Hartman, Sayre, Bond, Papp, and Sirney.
