Hal Ludemann, New President, Begins Plans for Present Year

With Harold Ludemann as new head of administration, the student body has a new friend in Mr. Cloak. Mr. Cloak has spent the last two years teaching English at Lawrence College, and he is well acquainted with the needs and desires of students. He has been active in college social life, and his term has hardly begun, yet he has already brought new ideas and plans to the campus.

Mr. Cloak Outlines Year's Program

Mr. Cloak recently outlined his plans for the present year. He began by discussing the student body and its needs. He then spoke of the importance of maintaining a close relationship between students and faculty. He emphasized the need for more opportunities for students to express their opinions and participate in the decision-making process. He also discussed the importance of extracurricular activities and their role in the overall education of students.

Mr. Cloak then turned his attention to the academic program. He discussed the need for more courses in the sciences and the arts, and he expressed his desire to see more opportunities for students to study abroad. He also spoke of the importance of maintaining a strong connection with the community and the need for Lawrence College to be more involved in community service.

Cloak Outlines Year's Dramatic Program

Mr. Cloak outlined the plans for the dramatic program for the present year. He announced that there would be three major productions during the year, and he encouraged students to participate in the productions. He also discussed the importance of providing opportunities for students to gain experience in theater and the arts.

Three Major Plays Will Be Presented This Year

This year, the Lawrence College Theater will present three major productions. The first will be "The Great Gatsby" by F. Scott Fitzgerald, directed by Mr. Cloak. The second will be "The Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder, directed by Professor Krueger. The third will be "A Streetcar Named Desire" by Tennessee Williams, directed by Mr. Cloak.

Students Help At Voting Polls For Election

Students have been actively involved in the election process. They have worked in the polling places, and they have also been involved in the canvassing of the campus. This year, the Lawrence College students have voted in record numbers, and they have also been active in local political campaigns.

Moier Is Elected President of Club

Mr. Moier was recently elected president of the student body. He has been active in student affairs and has been a strong advocate for student rights. He has also been involved in local community service and has been a strong supporter of Lawrence College. His election was seen as a victory for the student body and a step forward in the direction of Lawrence College.

VETERANS' DAY

The returning veteran must be somewhat surprised at the United States as he sees it first time foot on shore. After years of war where danger was a way of life, he finds it hard to adjust to the peace and quiet of the United States.

However, this is not as it should be. Something has gone wrong. The United States, in which he has mentally lived, is not the United States as he knows it. He finds that he is on a trip to foreign lands.

Is it the natural attitude of the soldier, or is it something else? It may be a case of post-traumatic stress disorder, which often affects soldiers after returning from war.

The soldier's adjustment to civilian life can be a difficult process. It requires time, support, and understanding from family and friends.

The soldier may find it hard to adjust to civilian life. This can cause emotional and psychological distress. It is important to provide support and resources to help the soldier make a smooth transition.

The soldier may also experience a range of emotions, such as anger, anxiety, and depression. These emotions can be overwhelming and make it hard to adjust to civilian life.

In conclusion, the returning veteran must be helped to adjust to civilian life. This requires support, understanding, and resources. It is important to provide a smooth transition for the soldier.

Fems Will Meet
Saturday Night
At Jill Jean Jam
With men off campus this weekend, gals will really let down their hair and get acquainted at the LWA sponsored Jill Jean Jam in the little gym Saturday evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Informality is the keynote of the party where men will be a minor quantity. Here is the chance to meet that girl you met the first day and haven't had time to see since. So head and make a grand plan that makes those upper-classes across from you mad with envy to make others end to "show how we jitterbug back home." You better act fast or get pointers or immature to the latest home card craze.

The referee had his gun out when Flom carried for a first down, then laid a pass In Moriarty's arms. The starting line up will probably be very much the same as it was last week except for the fullback spot. There is a possibility that Bill Segall will start here in place of Harold Luedeman.

Joe Moriarity, a newcomer, will get a chance to show what he can do and will probably see considerable action.

The next play our wild man split off between Britton's left end and tackle, and behind the finest blocking seen on the Lawrence field for many a day. he went over the last white. Final score, 20-0.

In the closing minutes of the game, Beloit's fullback Moriarty made a third down after an interference penalty was called on Britton. However, they didn't have time to score.

The outstanding features in the game were the hard and steady running and passing of Dick Flom. The outstanding aerial receiving of Moriarty and Strut. some marvelous deep plays by those unidentified fullbacks, and Lawrence's defense which lost one man incurred a serious injury in the homecoming contest, but most of them were doing a little trickery Sunday-maybe that was from Saturday night.

Ripon, Lawrence's first victim of the season, was the victim of a struggle with Carroll college last Friday night. Tomorrow the Vikes will meet Carroll at Waukesha.

The team play in general by Lawrence was much improved over last week especially the defense. .In the department Jim Piette, a newcomer, did a fine job.

Local fans were a little surprised at the drubbing their Packers took at the hands of the Cleveland Rams. The Ohioans really turned on the heat between Beloit's left end and tackle, one of the most energetic people I've ever seen on a football field—That catch by Joe Moriarty made of Dick Flom's pass to score the first Viking touch down. Lawrence has been working in the left half back post. There is a possibility of the most energetic people I've ever seen on a football field. No Lawrence team that made tackles. Hats off to Abell and Luedeman.

Fifteen punts were handled by Moriarty and Strutj., and some marvellous deep plays by those unidentified fullbacks, and Lawrence's defense which lost one man incurred a serious injury in the homecoming contest, but most of them were doing a little trickery Sunday-maybe that was from Saturday night.
