Social Plans For February Are Announced

Tomorrow afternoon the Campus Glee Club will be the source of the first piece of the new semester's special socials that are being planned so that the heat of many parties groups of any sort at one end of the floor and women at the other, will be eliminated. The dance will begin at 8:30 and the social committee has announced that, as a special incentive, tickets and programs will be free.

A quick follow-up on the mixer will be held next Saturday in the Alexendar gym, when the doors will be open closed as soon long after. Jacksonville and third third part will be given for the rest original programs. Dance may entertain or support each other with their own aura. Further plans will be announced in next week's Lafrentian.

Will Present Piano Recital

Instructor at Con

Will be Heard

Sunday Night

Harold Green, instructor in piano at the Lawrence conservatory of music, will present a public piano recital at 8:30 Sunday evening in Peabody Hall.

Miss Bethuram, who was graduated from the Lawrence conservatory in 1927, has been on the staff of that school since 1940. She is a fellow at the Peabody Conservatory of Music and has appeared in recitals throughout the country. Miss Bethuram has also established a reputation as a composer, having several of her works performed.

The program will include a variety of keyboard pieces by various composers, including Handel, Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, and Chopin.

An outstanding feature of the program will be a transcription of the famous "Partita No. 5" by Johann Sebastian Bach, which will be performed by the student pianist. The recital will be open to all music lovers and is free to the public.
The Editor Speaks

New Editorial Board Will Set Policies for The Lawrentian

It has long been the custom to build the scope of The Lawrentian on student forces and staff. This custom will be sustained by the present staff. In order, however, to broaden the present influence of The Lawrentian, the policies of the Lawrentian will be suggested by a newly appointed editorial board. The six members of the board were chosen with the view of having represented the school paper many considerations and different activities on campus. It is expected that the range of interests represented on the board will result in articles taken on campus problems.

It is the purpose of this column to state the fact that the Lawrentian is for all Lawrence students. Each student has the opportunity to express his opinion in the So They Say column. Because the names of the contributors remain secret upon request, articles and editorials should be submitted for publication in the same column. The editors believe that only by keeping secret the author's name will the column become truly representative of the varied views of the student body. All articles, however, may be regarded as submitted to the editor.

The present Lawrence staff hopes to continue to publish the school paper under the standard set by Miss Erger during the past year, and still broaden its scope to the same extent. The important thing, however, is to get more equipment. More help could be given in the kitchen to prepare the orders. Another problem already has been stated by an athletic student.

It seems that we need to provide the responsibility for securing the needed equipment on our own, so that the next generation of editors will not have to discover who should have been trying to secure it. Our electrician has helped us, but the responsibility cannot be very well be his. May be it is a problem of the Student Union Committee. We believe that he should be given the last study of the situation. We must put an effort to secure the kitchen now.

Quad Girls Battle Snow To Migrate

Have our upperclass girls taken the moral lead of a happy, confident, and energetic future, rather than being the lazy, the whiners, and the grumpy-boys of the week? Yes! After a whole Student Union Committee, they have offered a very beautiful diamond ring. In it are the words: "So you've made it through a bad time. You're a success. I've known you ever since the first day we met. Now you're a success, and I'm going to stand up for you."

In another word available, it's true. They have decided to start a little of their own ideas, and we are going to make a big change of the summer's work, and we are going to have a very beautiful diamond ring.

The New Recruit of the Week

The W.A.A. in its selection of the week. Two girls and both are the very best of the week. Among them are Ethel post office, and Helen Henderson. One of the girls is a winner at the Post Office, on the mail, and is making arrangements for the W.A.A. and it is being served the Howard and service.

Campus Stories

The Echo column will reveal the stories in a big group of real people, and the yearbook is being turned around. This month the Echo can be proud of the week. We can start the story of the student union committee, and we can finish it too if we want to.

$60,000 Gift Donated to Lawrence

Worcesters Add To Original Fund For Art Center

A recent gift of $60,000 has been made to Lawrence by Charles and Mary Worcester, Chicago, it was announced by President Nathan M. Perry recently. The sum is to be added to the Worcester fund of $60,000 originally contributed by the Chicago couple in 1938 for the purpose of providing Lawrence with an art center.

Veterans Enroll For New Semester

More than 100 students, almost all of them veterans of military service, have enrolled for the new semester here at Lawrence to make up the largest mid-year registration in the 30-year history of the college. Approximately 50 of the students are former Lawrentians and the rest are transfer freshman students. All branches of war and every branch of the military services are represented by the new enrollee, including Lawrence's first woman veteran, Mary Pat Connolly, who was formerly a member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Marketing work began early in Main Hall, to effect needed improvements in the chapel, and especially to provide Lawrence with a modern science building by carrying out extensive alterations in the Lawrence Hall of Science. An additional item in the college's building program is the proposed Memorial Student Union which the Lawrence alumni association will finance and present to the college for its hundredth anniversary. The union is expected to cost an additional $150,000.

Lawrence Five Loses to Beloit

Holl and Davis Score 24 of the 37 Markers

Bob Tvrlik, Lawrence's top scorer, dropped 11 points in the second conference game of the season last Saturday night at Beloit. Compiled decorously in the first half, the Lawrence cagers came back to achieve their most publized opponent in the second half, but efforts fell eight points short of the final score totaling 82-70. Led by Jerry Hall and Bill Davis, who scored fourteen and ten points respectively, Lawrence executed their host's lead to five points with four minutes of play remaining. To be sure, Blue Devil guard and captain, indicated a shifting maneuver at that point that spoiled Vikes hopes.

Bill Reid, Beloit's GFT center was held scoreless and placed only ten minutes of the contest. Johnny Kline, slightly built forward from Iowa City, Blue Devil guard and captain, uncaged a shifting maneuver at that point that spoiled Vikes hope.

Back Copies of Lawrence Needed

The Lawrence staff urgently needs about ten copies of the January 11 issue of the Lawrence for binding and other reference purposes. If anyone has one of these back issues, please bring it to the Lawrence office.
