Novel by Beck Is Released
New Book Deals With Post-War Adjustments

Warren Beck, professor of English who won the first Johnson of American Writers award in 1944 with his first novel, "Final Score," will have his second book published on May 5, according to word from his publishers.

The new book, "Passes under the Sky," is being released by William Morrow under the special auspices of the Boston Press. At English-weekend in Europe last March, the book is to be released simultaneously by Sorensen and Thoorens, who publish Beck's first book, but due to floods on the Rhine, the book was delayed.

Beck began "Passes under the Sky" in 1942 when he was working on the first of his prize-novels, and took it into the English market when it was published in 1945. He worked on the book for two years, including a trip to the British Isles to give it the English market.

Beck's first novel was written during World War II and appeared in camp libraries all over the nation. White House Press Corporation will deal with the post-peace life of a British soldier after his return to the university. Mr. Beck will offer the question-answer session following the reading.

Beck has been named to the members of Sigma and Pi Sigma, honorary, and Alpha Kappa Delta of American Colleges at Princeton.

An interior designer explained the nature of her work, its pre-requisites and resultant industrial delays. Mrs. E. M. Traverse, who is charming with Mortar Board, is a member of the Executive committe of the A. S. S. E. L. last month at the University of Wisconsin.

Perschbacher and Davis Will Lead Next Year's "Ariel" Staff

Dorothy Perschbacher and Kenneth Davis have been appointed editor and business manager, respectively, of the "Ariel" for the coming year by the "Ariel" board of control at a recent meeting.

An additional application for the position of photographer and assistant business manager, who are now working on the "Ariel," and who are also responsible for handling business affairs and the business office, were working on the "Ariel" last year. Mrs. S. M.经济 will be in charge of the business office for the new edition of the book as well.

Four Chairmen Visit Madison

Gone Ideas From Badger Leaders

Nancy Mercer, general chairman of the careers conference which L. M. W. is sponsoring next week, went to Madison with Miss Williams on Tuesday to meet with Dean Trout and attend chairman of the Wisconsin university. Miss Mercer had been invited to the university by the university girls in the beginning of the year as had been previously planned.

Since the university's career conference the evening of the school year will be thirty-five, 50. By program is well worked out. Under No. 2 in the convention program, the Lawrence conference was given by Gordon Gilbert, an alumnus of the class of 1947, who has recently been appointed chairman of the National Career Conference of the Wisconsin university. The university will open the Lawrence conference at 9 a.m. on Friday, May 9, with a day-long program. A student at the Lawrence conference will highlight the direction, undergraduate in the university will be chairman of the program. The university girls in the national career conference following the convention.

Also invited are students from the university's career conference, and the organizations and their opportunities in a short speech. A question period will be held in which some of the schools will have the opportunity to voice questions in the annual convention.

The Lawrence conference group returned to Seattle satisfactory and interested in Lawrence women.

Lovell, Busing Lead Seniors

Lloyd Lovell was elected president of the senior class and Miss Busing was chosen secretary. The election was held on Thursday afternoon.

Four Speakers Head Centennial Plays

Terms to Pay for King's Makers and editions of the book were presented to the Lawrence university board of trustees on May 5.

Plays for the Lawrence college gymnastics conference on June 3 to 5 were chosen for this year's play production.

The trustees voted at this meeting to fix the charge for instruction at $225 per semester, and to change in charges may have their effect on the board. President Nathan Pusey announced that the board of trustees had voted to vote certain interest.

Birthday Cake Too Much For Him

A round black and white cake proved too much for Johnny Sollers last Tuesday evening.

When all of Sage dining-room began the usual "Happy Birthday" song, he took it in stride, looking around for the birthday person: but at the sound of his own name and the sight of the birthday cake coming toward him, Johnny, with all the dignity of a newly-arrived five years, burst into tears.

After a man-to-man talk with Mr. Erin, the birthday boy was cheered up sufficiently to scrape the frosting from his cake.

ROGER CHRISTIENSON
Student Body President

I have outlined the most important of the platform here. I feel that it is an answer to the most important problem that faces the student body today. I should say it is a way rather than an answer and it deals largely with our relationship with the administration.

My plan to reach the administration would be the creation of a board of representatives, made up of faculty and student representatives. I think that this plan would make possible a governing body which would function better and make the institution of an "in-the-air" feeling more complete.

V. That the new student constitution provide for the possible elimination of officers. That new officers be made by election of a new organization. That the new officers shall function in such a program, but it is my belief that this will be done as a result of the new organization.

VI. That all House System be abolished for the administration of examinations. That the House System be governed by a Student Judicial board.

VII. That full recognition be given the Independent organization and all extra-curricular activities.

X. That student control over all extra-curricular activities exist in fact rather than in name. That careful analysis be made of regulations and that social activities be advanced.

X. That the new student activities be central in the organization of the college and that all activities be under one board of directors.

I am in favor of a college community in which the student is responsible for his own conduct and in which the student has the thought that a student's college career should have as its aim the development of individual thought and action.

In view of these ideas I submit to you the following proposed changes:

I. Reorganization of the Student government on a democratic basis. The Executive committee to be elected on the basis of proportional representation. This type of representation is the backbone of any democracy.

II. That the student body have the power to establish and change the student constitution.

III. That full recognition be given the Independent organization and all extra-curricular activities.

IV. That student control over all extra-curricular activities exist in fact rather than in name. That careful analysis be made of regulations and that social activities be advanced.

Intra-Squad Gridiron Clash

At home Tuesday, May 5

The meet will be followed by a football show, having competed in only one intra-squad match this season at Waukesha last Saturday. Don Whiting, Blue Inst. of Beloit, is expected to pick up the baton for Lawrence. Also the annual football game will be contested for the first time this year.

Most sports face a new season with football, baseball, basketball, tennis, etc., but in golf the average fan is a little bit in the dark when it comes to keeping tabs of the situation.

Two methods of scoring are used in golf, depending upon whether the competition is listed as match or medal play. Most major meets, therefore, are played in match play.

A stroke number is tallied for each hole, but the scoring in medal play is simple. The number of strokes required by each contestant over an 18-hole course is tabulated, with the low score winning. Incredibly simple and somewhat complicated scoring system is followed. Winners are announced by the number of strokes over par.

Postponed Meet Scheduled for Middle of May postponed on April 19 due to bad weather, has been rescheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, May 20 and 21, according to Art Denney, athletic director.

All men who were eligible to compete on April 19 regardless of any change in their status since that time, will be permitted to enter the competition.

According to the rules of the meet, no man will be permitted to enter more than three events plus the relays, and at least one of those events must be in the field division.

On Tuesday, trials will be held in the 75 yard dash and the 120 yard low hurdles, with final competition at 4:15, with all six teams competing at the same time as inter­

ter­

23ed operations may come out to watch and cheer the girls on. The second round will be played Sun­

ing and meaningful to the average student.
1. Transportation from the campus to the gym. Possibly bus service.
2. Physical improvements to the campus. I've heard many people say that a sidewalk was needed from Ormsby to College Avenue.
3. A consolidation of all charitable drives. Possibly limiting the number of such drives, possibly consolidating all of them in one institution.
4. Convocations; They've been better this year, but relatively small improvements may add a lot.
I have outlined these points in the hope that I might convince problems that I find are before me.
problems. Miss Willaeger might be able to work this out. It is important that they try to make the office as accquainted as possible, through

Dean's Office Is Busy Place:
Work Is Interesting and Varied

Perhaps a large portion of the student body has the unfortunate opinion that the dean's office is a Cyclop's eye, where unwanted souls are led to slaughter. Despite this dread of their office, one dean's office is a whirlpool of activity.
The dean's office is a place of work; it is busy and fascinating.
I am a student at the University of Wisconsin and I find that it is interesting and varied.

It takes a long while to see attempts to improve the office. Miss Willaeger would humbly suggest that they try to keep the reception room well stocked with interesting books for the students. As a last resort, they might try to make the office
as acquainted as possible, through
student.

President in Leader

Students are encouraged to let the president know their opinions. Miss Willaeger states that she is always ready to discuss students' problems.

Newman Members
Will Meet Sunday

The next meeting of the Newman club will be after 8:30 Mass in St. Joseph's church on Sunday.
Miss Willaeger requests that students be present by 8:00 P.M.
and that they wear their eas.
