Clapp Will Speak to '47 Graduates

The largest graduating class in the history of Lawrence college will receive their degree in Lawrence's 97th commencement on Sunday, June 8, at three p.m. 191 students are candidates for baccalaureate degrees in arts and sciences or master's degrees in education and music. It is expected that several degrees from the Institute of Paper Chemistry will be awarded to this group. Gordon R. Clapp, of the class of 1887, will deliver the commencement address following which five honorary degrees and three in course will be awarded. Special music for the coming season has been arranged.

Baccalaureate services will begin at 10:30 a.m. in Memorial chapel. The Reverend Frederick C. Lawrence, a grandson of the college founder, Reverend Lawrence, who is rector of St. Paul's church, Brookline Mass., is the brother of Bishop William Appleton Lawrence. Both are sons of the first Bishop William Lawrence, who was given an LL.D at the time of the college's 30th anniversary in 1907.

The Lawrence College choir will furnish the usual beautiful accompaniment, including the well loved "God Be In My Head," which has furnished its traditional baccalaureate services for the past thirty years.

Clapp is Alumnus

Gordon Clapp, who will be the first Lawrence to speak at a commencement held at the Alma Mater for many years, has recently received national prominence by being named by President Truman to the chairmanship of the TVA. In 1915 he was graduated from Lawrence and received his Doctor of Laws degree in 1927. He is president of International Paper Co., New York.

The resignation of Albert A. Glockzin, associate professor of music, has brought the Lawrence College Conservatory to the end of an era. Glockzin has been head of the music department since 1927, the year the college's undergraduate music program was established. After graduation, Glockzin taught music in Chicago public schools for ten years, and has since been professor of music at Lawrence College. He occupies the second floor of the college's Memorial Union. Glockzin has been a friend of Lawrence College for almost forty years, and is a member of the Board of Trustees. He is a distinguished musician and has received many honors in recognition of his work in music.

CORNERSTONE TO BE LAID JUNE 7 — The proposed Memorial student union which will be built behind Main hall will be theatrically crowned Saturday when the cornerstone is laid at 11:15. Actual building probably cannot be started for a year or two because of conditions on the building industry. To April 29, 1947, $80,122.99 had been collected toward the $150,000 goal.

Ball Will Climax Saturday's Plans

The Centennial Ball, to be held in the Alexander gymnasium at 9:00 p.m. Saturday, will be the climax to a day of activities. President and Mrs. Nathan Williams, president of the university, will receive their guests, relatives, alumni and friends, at the president's house on campus following the graduation ceremonies of stories and ads in the college's history are presented authentically in two main stories, both of which are displayed in Main hall for the Centennial celebration. In addition to the material gathered and used in the Centennial exhibit, Main hall will be furnished with many of the earlier days of Lawrence College, including the school's earliest history, when it was founded in 1847.

EXTRA

This special centennial issue of the "Lawrentian" covers 100 years, beginning in 1847 and ending in 1947. From 1847 to 1947, Lawrence College has served the needs of society by providing educational opportunities to students. It has grown from a small school with few students to one of the largest and most respected colleges in the United States. The college's history has been chronicled in this special issue, which includes articles on the college's founding, its growth, and its contributions to society. The "Lawrentian" is a publication of Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, and is published weekly during the academic year. It is the official newspaper of the college and is available to all students, faculty, and staff. The "Lawrentian" covers a wide range of topics, including news, sports, and campus events. It is an important source of information for the Lawrence College community.
Centennial Lawrentian Covers 125 Years of Campus Activity

The final issue of the 1947 "Lawrentian" is made up of six two-page sections, each representing Lawrentian college at Bay parade years in its history. The material used in these issues are authentic reproductions of articles in past Lawrentian, the two exceptions. The "125th floor" legions" stories are taken from the Lawrence college catalogue of that year and the 1975 "Daily" stories from the weekly newsletter in the 1975 issue of the Lawrentian. Although our feature stories have not may not turn out to be entirely accurate, our thoughts are on that year now—at Lawrence's 100th birthday party. The badly-needed student union which Lawrentians past and present are combining forces to build will long since have been finished. The planned athletic center which is perhaps even more badly needed will have been built. Lawrence's 100-year devotion to the liberal arts will still be alive and even fitter than before. Most important, the intangible Lawrence spirit will still be there, stronger than ever. This centennial celebration will unite even closer strong alumni group and a spirited student body. Together they can build for a Lawrence college of the future which will be even better equipped to help train citizens for America and the world.

Cowling Will Talk at Convocation

I had seen, ah, loyal heart. When, oh when, we said
How for all time our paths would
What shadow o'er our friendship!
I should have clasped your hands in
In the warm pressure of my own
That memory still would keep in
If I had known
If I had known, when far and wide
We entered through the winter
What Presence wandered by our side.
And ever you stretched its awful
I should have hushed my careless
To listen, dear, to every tale
That from your lips fell true and I should have treasured all
If I had known, when your kind
Near and in parting, true and wise.
And even there, more wisely, and clear, rather, more true.
I have known, when the lid was up
And all for ever and for ever.
I should have known.
If I had known, from the study
Of hope, hopes, hopes, hopes, here be.
Into a peace, higher life
The day is dim, the friend's" friend's"
I go on.
I have known that I should have spared
My friends.
And had each self sigh and noun.
To bid no last a long goodbye.
I should have known.
If I had known to what strange
My, my, my, where the sky be.
You calmly turned your steadfast
If I had known.
I would have been ever with my
I should have known.
If I had known that the death
Brought with it his finger touch my
And still the quickening of the
That with life her full mean.
So long my nest must tread the way
Of the world.
I should have prayed your presence.
I had known.

Dear Collegian—Five years have rapidly rolled away since I left the kind and ever useful counsels of Lawrence University. I left because I was tired of the way since I left the kind and ever useful counsels of baseball and claims he wishes to start a Lawrence play of rowdiness that has been seen of late on the rear but will concentrate in declamations henceforth. but these will have to be discontinued if such actions are discouraged by the paper your support.

Lawrence

Old Lawrence has a family of 20 this year. Who would not have a college where this kind of education is given? There is but one classed student among the juniors. One of the numbers has graduated. The others are here in search of students and patrons no other. Mercantile principle, you lack.

The seniors as a class do not study.

But do not judge him gone or chosen for the slow into the realities of life. I can but regret that I did not have a general report for you now for your good and beautiful in the line of goods, gentle, courteous, et al. You note general report for you now. The gold-glass will find an old-time clerk to wait on them.

The college library recently received six copies of Darwin’s “Origin of the Species.” This book, which has aroused a storm of controversy on the continent and among the students, in the east, has been purchased for the enlightenment of Lawrence students. Every student and professor of the classics is interested.

Mr. Darwin advances the theory that men are an offshoot of the same stock as is the monkey. The Bible tells us definitely that our forefathers were Adam and Eve, a fact which we would hope to see preserved.

If a student considers himself a good Christian he should refuse to be associated with such a piece of literature. “The Origin of the Species” is a dangerous book that should be burned, rather than put on the shelf. If such a large library is placed in such a place, the students will have no chance to read the books.

Ladies, is it necessary to burn your gas light study the exuberance with which "The Origin of the Species" is scattered to the winds? If not, I hope you will not become one of the small band that is sure to be consigned to the flames.

Again, (1.) freshmen need the wine of good cheer to keep them from being boisterous. (2.) Students furnish the rosy nectar.

(3.) Gentlemen expectorating in public.

There is a time for all things. Who wants to be a boor? Nature has a way of taking care of her own, and if a person is unkind in his demeanor it is sure to be noticed. We have witnesses before us.

During a recent picnic in the rear of Pettibone’s, of blue serge composed of seven yards of twisted flannel and a shawl, have been guaranteed to adjust to any suit.

New students, subscribe for the Collegian. It is the organ of the college, and only appreciated by the students. The offices are open 24 hours a day. Mrs. Yocum recently complained of the young gentlemen who have been found that many of our young men are maintaining normal intercourse in trade relations. New England Library has only one copy. We are endebted to Munn and Co for this

More Sociables are Needed

We have had occasion to say something about sociables heretofore, but have never wholly voiced our mind on the subject. It seems too bad that students should from the social part of their nature uncared for.

There is a time for all things. Who wants to be a boor? Nature has a way of taking care of her own, and if a person is unkind in his demeanor it is sure to be noticed. We have witnesses before us.

But what of the many, the eastern factory workers, who are engaging in crockery, the wages, are they not as hard pressed as those in the west? We are not aware of any such workers.

Gentle exercise is becoming increasingly popular among the students. If a student does not take part in some exercise he is considered as being lost within the next twenty years.

The Sophomore class has gone and chosen the following officers: Pres., J. N. Nelson; Vice Pres., Miss Alpin; Orator, E. H. Riddle; Marshal, Miss N. F. Chase.

But what of the many, the eastern factory workers, who are engaging in crockery, the wages, are they not as hard pressed as those in the west? We are not aware of any such workers.

Gentle exercise is becoming increasingly popular among the students. If a student does not take part in some exercise he is considered as being lost within the next twenty years.

The Sophomore class has gone and chosen the following officers: Pres., J. N. Nelson; Vice Pres., Miss Alpin; Orator, E. H. Riddle; Marshal, Miss N. F. Chase.

There is a time for all things. Who wants to be a boor? Nature has a way of taking care of her own, and if a person is unkind in his demeanor it is sure to be noticed. We have witnesses before us.

Ladies, is it necessary to burn your gas light study the exuberance with which "The Origin of the Species" is scattered to the winds? If not, I hope you will not become one of the small band that is sure to be consigned to the flames.

Again, (1.) freshmen need the wine of good cheer to keep them from being boisterous. (2.) Students furnish the rosy nectar.

A student should not look over a lesson immediately before trying to revise it. True or False? Students generally, say their actions that is false. Pass into the low hall a little before bell time and you will see, perhaps, a half dozen walking, book in hand, trying to learn a little that should have been learned before. Go to the reading room and you will see a few more. We might follow all these into their respective class rooms but we forbear. We might draw a few conclusions, however. We say, prepare each lesson sometime before recitation, the longer the better, and then depend upon your memory.

EDITORIAL

Pretty girls at Lawrence! This remark has been made quite often this term. Perhaps you have heard it perhaps have made the same observation yourself. We all have; and there always will be just as long as the bright girls of America have grasped that great truth that the hope of the world lies in the highest interests of future greatness. Time is merciless to beauty, but kind to culture.

Now the time is for the friends of Lawrence to do all they can to give the college a grand uplift. Perhaps it is history was there a deeper conviction of the importance of Lawrence University as an educational center in the State of Wisconsin, and in every quarter there is a never better for a prospering and entering future in the city. It is of a large professional college, a public, a patronage and the most earnest support of all friends of education. The trustees have thought of two important enterprises: The new observatory, proposed by Prof. Underwood, and to which the people of the university community have contributed, has bought the necessary equipment of the board of Trustees and visitors.

The proposal to raise money for a mining building, a Science Hall, has also been accepted with favor. It would seem as though this could not be too much to ask. The young men have the means to erect a building or endow a professorship and add to such. It is, therefore, a living force, representing him and working for him, long after he has ceased to be known among men. It is a privilege to any one to be able to identify himself in this manner with the highest interests of future greatness.

In the meanwhile, we need not reserve funds for the next three years. It is proposed to secure this by asking for three annual subscriptions of $10 each for three years. One person may join, if he wishes, for a number of shares, but it is necessary that the entire amount be raised as soon as possible.

Let the friends of Lawrence rally to help in this grand work!

The transfer is made at the class day exercises; but it appears that the Girls are girls, and women are different, so that the ladies are called girls, and the women not. WALT WHITMAN

In the death of Walt Whitman, America lost one of her noblest and most loyal sons. In character, he was bold, imaginative, self-m rotective, rugged; yet a kind and tender sympathy went out from him to all his fellow men. A prophet? Yes. Misunderstood? Yes. Emerson would reply—"To be great is to be misunderstood."

A heter of shrewd and lifeless forms, Whitman claimed the right to break the chains of custom; to plant himself upon his own instincts and act out his real nature regardless of man-made roles. Like Byron and Shelley, he escaped from corrupting and soul-haunting forms and fashions, and like them received abuses and executions, for his pains. In thought, Emerson and Toreau were perhaps as faultless non-conformists as he; but in the matter of expression they did not depart widely from past models. Whitman carried the revolt farther and dropping all models formed his style from his own essential life. Like that Self it is rugged, original. The music is more in the thought than in the expression of it.

The interesting and exciting exercises were held on the 12th. At Ripon, a band was led by the bandmaster, who turned out a score of 13 to 9 in favor of Lawrence. There was great excitement throughout the game. Errors were made by both teams, Millard, Ripon, made a home run, Miller of Lawrence did good work behind the bat. The Ripon pitcher was evidently from the country as his curves were slow and easy to hit.

At 1:30 P.M. the Athletic Association formed into a procession and marched to the park where the athletic contests took place.

The boys arrived home on the 9:30 train, Friday evening, after making Oshkosh howl with their band and the music of the students. The Law­rence boys had opportunity to meet the Bartlett ladies and all spent a very pleasant evening. The interesting and exciting exercises were held on the 12th. They began with a ball game at 9:30 be­tween Lawrence and Ripon which resulted in a score of 13 to 9 in favor of Lawrence. There was great ex­citement throughout the game. PRAYER MEETING

Jan. 29th, the day of Prayer for college, was very hailed. It is like that Self it is rugged, original. The music is more in the thought than in the expression of it.

New Fraternity
Delta Sigma Tau
Granted Charter

Newest Greek Society Fills Need On Campus
For Grantation of Fraternities

That Lawrence college is fast taking her place with the bigger colleges and universities of the state and country is evidenced by the granting Friday, by the faculty of permission to form a new Greek letter fraternity to be known as Delta Sigma Tau.

Meets Demand

The big increase in the student enrollment in the past few years together with the rule limiting the membership of the fraternities to a certain number, makes it necessary for a new student body at large, especially since the need of such a new organization has been very apparent. The personnel of the last few fraternities has already become an institution of Lawrence college and since the time of the enrollment of the Blue and White has increased very substantially, while the number of men in fraternities to a certain number, the enrollment of the Blue and White has increased very substantially, while the number of men in fraternities has remained practically the same.

Delta Sigma Tau will take up quarters at the beginning of the next semester, having several homes in view, one of which will be leased within the next month.

The names of the charter members, including the officers, are: President, O. M. M. B.; vice-president, Paul Butler; secretary, William H. Grifflie; treasurer, Erhardt Ziegler; O. K. Smith; Herbert Gribble; Herbert Stoker, Edward Zingler, O. Keith Stoker, Albert Schlimm, Norbert Gerard, Edwin McNall, Eversen Beinke.

Sunset Players Will Give One Act Plays

The Sunset Players, a drama club for freshmen and sophomores, is planning to present an open program soon. The dates have not been set but it is expected that it will be presented at least once a week.

Three one act plays are under consideration for presentation. These are "The Mystery of the College," written by Mrs. Frederick Rumscheid, University of Wisconsin production, and Zona Gale's "The World's Greatest College Weekly." It's 1922 and Lawrence Celebrates a Diamond Jubilee

Of a more delightful entertainment. Mrs. Waterman's clear, expressive voice will be given in the Memorial Chapel, Feb. 14.

Waterman's Appear
In Public Recital

Dean and Mrs. Carl J. Waterman gave a highly appreciated concert in the Lawrence Memorial chapel Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Waterman are always in demand to sing the music layers of the city and of the college as individual soloists. When they were in presenting a program of songs which they rendered last Tuesday evening, it would be hard to conceive of a more delightful entertainment.

Both singers were in excellent voice and the full house was interested to hear them. Waterman's clear, expressive voice and her exquisite stage appearance received the utmost admiration. Mrs. Waterman appealed to the capacity audience, and the wassail of applause was in evidence of the complete satisfaction of all who were present.

Advanced Students

THE COLLEGE WORLD

Unkissed Seniors
In Purity League

New York university seniors have formed what they call The Class of 1922 Purity League, headed by Jack Weinheimer, the only unkissed senior on University Heights.

Meeting of the league pledge themselves to treat the other sex with a little more reverence, to exhaust all means of social intercourse, to regard the indulging in liquor as a dangerous vice to be curbed at all times, to regard profanity as the unnecessary use of language to any person.

The founders of the league say the laws of the organization do not limit the college year and semi-annually thereafter. The meetings thereafter are to be carried on in accordance with the plans of the class.

English Department
To Be Split in Two
Departments of Literature and of Composition And Journalism Will Divide Work

Beginning with the next school year the English department will be divided into two sections, the department of literature and the department of journalism. D. W. E. McPherson, present head of the English department will be Professor of Literature and Professor Lester E. Mitchell of De Pauw University will be Professor of Composition and Journalism.

The large increase in enrollment in the English department made the change advisable. Lawrence is now a member of the best colleges of the United States in the institution change recently. It will result in dividing the number of students enrolled in the school into two sections. The division of the courses in English.

Lawrence is especially weak in the field events having no old men back. Fred Trezise wants every man who plans on coming out early in the season and will take up his new duties.

1,000 Soldier Bonus
Men Enroll at "U"

About 1,000 state soldier bonus students have enrolled in the University of Wisconsin this semester under the Wisconsin soldier's educational bonus act and about 30 per cent of them are new students. Quite a few of the new students are not freshmen but have entered the University of Wisconsin from other schools, especially from the Midwest Conference Branch of the University of Wisconsin where they took the two-year engineering course.

Two years ago this time 1,000 soldier bonus students were enrolled in the university, and last year there were 1,200. This decrease may be due to the fact that the number of men qualifying under the bonus act who wish to enter the university naturally grows smaller each year. The bonus Act which was passed by the state legislature two years ago, expires at the end of this academic year, after having furnished such bonus, students with a maximum of $1,000 or $30 per month for the four school years of nine months each.

Register: How old are you students?
Maiton: I have arm nineteen summers.
Register: But you look much good.

A woodpecker lit on a freshman's head
And settled down to drill
He worked so hard he had a day
And finally broke his bill.

I sent my son to Ripon
With a pot upon the back
I spent a thousand dollars
And got a quizzieback.

Though College days
Have their delights
They can't compare
To College nights.

The following was written by Prof. Golden on the back of a theme:

 "Please write more legibly."

Next Bay: "Prof, what is that you put on the back of my theme?"

Prof. of Biology: "What can you tell me about the flowers?"

Senior Student: "I don't know much about them sir; I'm a stranger in this town."

I'd rather be a could be
If I could not be an aw.
For a could be in a may
With a chance of being parked.

I'd rather be a Mas Been
Than a Might Have Been, by far;
For a Might Have Been has never been,
But a Mas was once an Aw.

English Department
To Be Split in Two
Departments of Literature And of Composition And Journalism Will Divide Work

Beginning with the next school year the English department will be divided into two sections, the department of literature and the department of journalism. D. W. E. McPherson, present head of the English department will be Professor of Literature and Professor Lester E. Mitchell of De Pauw University will be Professor of Composition and Journalism.

The large increase in enrollment in the English department made the change advisable. Lawrence is now a member of the best colleges of the United States in the institution change recently. It will result in dividing the number of students enrolled in the school into two sections. The division of the courses in English.

Prof. Mitchell will soon advisefully equipped for his position. He is a graduate of Dennison College, Ohio, and holds in turn such positions as head of the English department in the Zanesville, Ohio, High School, instructor in Journalism at Dennison in Gambier, Ohio. He received his Master's degree from Ohio State University of Chicago. He also taught in Dennison college from which he graduated.

At present he is Assistant Professor of Composition and Journalism at De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ohio. He holds also the position of registrar and is in charge of the college publicity. For his work in Journalism he is also well equipped the men of a newspaperman and having had experience in newspaper work and in practical printing. He hasniest several pamphlets among which is a "Directory of College Journalism.

Professor Mitchell will move to Appleton with his family, in the summer and will take up his new duties in the fall.

Greek Bowlers are Ready for Tourney

"Yes!" that is not the uproar yelling them. It is just the fraternity housing teams practicing on the bowling alleys. In about one week the schedule for the inter-fraternity bowling league will be complete, and competition for the Thente cup will again start. The cup is now in possession of the Sigma Epilson fraternity. The fraternity winning the cup the next time is entitled to the retention of the cup.

Up to the present time the cup has been won once by the Beta Sigma Phi, once by the Sigma Phi Epsilon and twice by the Delta locale. The teams are exceptionally strong this year and the race promises to be very close.

"U" Flunkews Can't Be Pledged-Ruling

Fraternity will no longer be able to pledge students who enter Lawrence on probation at the end of the first semester after failing in their work at the University of Wisconsin until their probation have been removed by the successful completion of a semester's work at Lawrence. This decision was made by the faculty in a short meeting Monday morning.

An announcement has been received of the arrival of a baby boy yesterday, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gochnauer of Green Bay. January 7, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gochnauer of Green Bay, formerly Florence Plantz of the class of 1914.
townspeople complain about chapel barracks city mayor requests revaluation of petition requesting removal

Lawrence officials were shocked yesterday when they received news from the city council that a petition signed by over eight thousand petitioners had been turned in requesting the razing of the chapel barracks on college avenue.

Townsmen complained that their property values had persistently dropped because of the unattractive appearance of the barracks. A survey revealed the northwest corner of college avenue and monson street has been a pestilential eyesore, according to petition.

Mayor Preusey said town manager Watte was willing to present the petitioners with a legal and special meeting with board of trustees Thursday.

In 1933, the barracks were emptied, and in the following year were used as nurseries for veterans' children. From 1935 to 1947 Appleton organizations used the barracks as a work camp. The Lawrence barracks were condemned in 1952 as a fire hazard and were torn down for a new engineering and geometric engineering building, and for past five years have been used to store theater properties.

Annual meeting of 1941 students, have been boarded up and used as chicken coops.

tuition fee upped for third time since inflation

Tuition rates will again be boosted, according to announcement made Tuesday by president Nathan M. Pusey of Lawrence University.

New rates are to be increased by a maximum of 11 percent on all 1972-1973 academic year schedule. Tuition will now be $275 for the first year; $330 for the second year; $360 for the third year; $400 for the fourth year; and $440 for the fifth year.

The increase is necessitated by increased cost of living and general education costs. Many state and federal government programs are also scheduled to be reduced.

G. R. Clapp is accused of communist leanings

Gordon R. Clapp, Lawrence '71, who was a member of the Communist Party of the United States, was dismissed from his position as an instructor at Lawrence University in the spring of 1959.

Clapp had been a member of the Communist Party since 1947 and had been active in communist activities on the university campus.

Clapp's case was brought to the attention of the university administration after a series of incidents involving communist activities on campus.

In 1959, Clapp was accused of being a member of the Communist Party and of planning to commit acts of sabotage.

new quizoscope will eliminate long, nerve-wracking final exams

Lawrence students will be relieved of age-old nerve-wracking final exams when the new study machine, according to President Poore. The long and laborious lectures are a thing of the past. The latest in quizoscope machinery is now installed on campus.

"It will be said that the joy of mental adventure is teaching since the quizoscope," said President Poore. "The joy of mental adventure and the thrill of winning are the motivating factors in the quizoscope. It is a perfect way to keep students interested in their studies."

The quizoscope is a device that administers a series of questions to students. The questions are designed to test knowledge and understanding of the material covered in the course. The student is scored on the basis of their answers, and the highest scorers are rewarded with prizes.

By using the quizoscope, students can now study at their own pace and receive immediate feedback on their progress. The quizoscope will be introduced into the curriculum in the fall semester.
