Third Act of Lohengrin preceeded
the final two contemporary American compositions. Both Morton Gould and David Bennett made some extremely attractive arrangements for band. Gould's "Chahriers Rhapody", which included courty airs from "Home on the Range" to "Bury Me Out on the Lone Prairie", provided a well-real challenge to the band.

All of the tunes which Bennett incorporated into his "George Grenshaw Selection" were familiar. "Break Up the Band" and "Los, were only a few of Germany's many classics included. Guest asnists Robert Partridge, tenor; and Richard Hagen, flute, gave an impressive performance.

Although the reviewer felt that the band, often not always able to sense what the conductor wanted in the way of tempo and dynamic indications, the ensemble was generally very good. Many of these performers are fine musicians in their own right. To ignore their potentialities is to ignore good musical performance. The enthusiasm of the large crowd was an indication of a successful evening.

Four Lawrence Women Present At Convocation
National Federation On Women's Athletics Considers Activities

BY JEAN GOODWIN

The national convention of the Athletic Federation of College Women, which was attended by four Lawrence students, representatives, Margaret Von Andresen, Virginia Grazek, former president, Joan Goodwin, publicity head, and Marion Jensen, intramural manager, convened at the University of Wisconsin April 27-29 was attended by four Lawrence representatives.

Nearly 450 delegates from American colleges and universities met to discuss problems and exchange ideas of women's recreational and athletic organizations in their respective schools. Lawrence is a charter member of the national AFCW which has met bi-annually for 31 years.

A state organization for Wisconsin schools was formed at the close of the convention with the University of Wisconsin activists forming the state organizing committee meeting planned for next fall. Lawrence if a member of the committee is expected to draw up a constitution for the new state organization.

In an address to the group Betty Hicks, professional golfer, offered what should be the purpose of all athletic groups, for both sexes, the promotion of the ideal of fair play and tolerance. She emphasized the need for more women to remove the barriers which prevent the mixing of Christian and other minority racial groups from competing and participating in such sports as golf tournaments, ABC league bowling.

Throughout the convention it was learned that Lawrence's WRA program is extremely well organized and that the coeducational recreation is a comparatively new activity in most schools have difficulty in arousing mixed recreation activities instead of it being done by the women's organization as it is at Lawrence.

The national convention of the Athletic Federation of College Women, which was attended by four Lawrence students, representatives, Margaret Von Andresen, Virginia Grazek, former president, Joan Goodwin, publicity head, and Marion Jensen, intramural manager, convened at the University of Wisconsin April 27-29 was attended by four Lawrence representatives.

Nearly 450 delegates from American colleges and universities met to discuss problems and exchange ideas of women's recreational and athletic organizations in their respective schools. Lawrence is a charter member of the national AFCW which has met bi-annually for 31 years.

A state organization for Wisconsin schools was formed at the close of the convention with the University of Wisconsin activists forming the state organizing committee meeting planned for next fall. Lawrence if a member of the committee is expected to draw up a constitution for the new state organization.

In an address to the group Betty Hicks, professional golfer, offered what should be the purpose of all athletic groups, for both sexes, the promotion of the ideal of fair play and tolerance. She emphasized the need for more women to remove the barriers which prevent the mixing of Christian and other minority racial groups from competing and participating in such sports as golf tournaments, ABC league bowling.

Throughout the convention it was learned that Lawrence's WRA program is extremely well organized and that the coeducational recreation is a comparatively new activity in most schools have difficulty in arousing mixed recreation activities instead of it being done by the women's organization as it is at Lawrence.

Finish Second
To Beloit Golds

BY ALAN KREMER

The Lawrence college track team ended the 1949 season on a successful note last Saturday placing second to the highly favored Beloit College Golds in the 27th annual Midwest Conference track meet.

The Vikings were led to this surprising finish by four standouts, Bill Belved, Bill Beier, Claud Radtke and Duw Gauthier who, between them, accounted for the team's 35 points.

Belved finished well out in front of 5000 y by setting in every invitational meet except the 440-yard. Following Lawrence was Monmouth with 33 and Cornell with 28. Other team scores were Wisc 58th with 231, Carleton 13th with 13, Knox eighth with 11 and one last with 8.

Radtke pulled the major surprise of the meet by winning the half mile; the Vike's only first place of the afternoon. The lad failed to place better than third in the meet. The season was the best race of his career and points him as one of the best runners in the conference.

Beier placed in the two most thrilling races of the afternoon, the mile and the mile and a half. In the half mile he lost to Bob Baptist of Beloit by less than a stride. The two runners matched each other stride for stride for the majority of the half mile, but, in front on the turn. Coming into the stretch Beier was in the lead. With a tremendous finishing kick, but Baptist already had his hand in the air to claim the win. Beier lost by a slender margin in the mile and a half behind Baptist and Bob Furer of Wollman.

The last two events were decided in the last two points for the conference championship. The last four runners finished within two seconds of each other.

Radtke finished as high point man for the team, scoring 12 points by grabbing the seconds in the javelin and shot put. Gauthier added two points in the discus. Radtke gained his second second of the best hitter of his career, 43 feet, 9 inches.

Gauthier also won his best by placing fifth in the shot put for the team's 12 points. He then came back to win a run another time on the relay to give the Vikings a fourth place in that event.

All weather prevented any conference records from being set. However, two Whiting field records fell. Nowman of Knox, who scored 13 of his team's 11 points, threw the discus 206 feet, three inches to crack the old mark of 195 feet, 41 inches, set in 1948, and 11 inches to shatter the old 12 feet 4 inch record. Wollman, Baptist, John Bonyata and Earl Thompson were also the best of the meet. Wollman took the distance as well as the conference championship. Wollman, Belved, Bill Beier and Claud Radtke were the conference champions. Wollman, Baptist, John Bonyata and Earl Thompson were also the best of the meet. Wollman took the distance as well as the conference championship. Wollman, Belved, Bill Beier and Claud Radtke were the conference champions.

Phi Delta Theta retained this year's inter-fraternity Supremacy Cup with an 8-7, eight innings决定 over Beta Theta Pi Tuesday. The Phi Delta Theta have one more game to play against Kappa Sigma Thursday, but if they should lose that game, they would still win the Supremacy Cup in both the football and Supremacy Cup events. The Phi Delta Theta have 1950 points, 259 more than the Beta Theta Pi.

Due to postponements, several times during the season, Phi Delta Theta have been the team to which will have a decided bearing on who will win the Supremacy Cup. This meeting will take place Thursday and a win will enable the Phi Delta Theta to win the Supremacy Cup in both the football and Supremacy Cup events.

The Betas picked up single 1-bag during the season, but Phi Delta Theta have improved greatly during the season, and a win will enable the Phi Delta Theta to win the Supremacy Cup in both the football and Supremacy Cup events.

Let Us Recruit for Lawrence on Our Own

If we believe in the kind of education which Lawrence college has to offer, we ought to talk about it. In particular, we ought to tell the people who, in a way, are going to do a lot about making it, that Lawrence college is the kind of school they should seek out and join. This summer each one of us should try to make contact with someone interested in a senior class in high school and point out to them the great advantages Lawrence offers to anyone interested in discovering an educational and social liberal education.

Personal contact recruiting in which the present college is so interested approaches the future student in a methodical way in which the student is a necessary supplement to the regular

Olson Slams Eckardt For Crack at Science

To the Editor:

In Mr. Eckardt's recent attack on the Light, statements are made which are quite out of character for that organ. Mr. Olson pleads for the deletion of an article which he states "will stir up discussion". His question, one which will avoid the issue, is to the effect of, "Are there any objections to emotional involvement in deciding an issue?"

My Comment: The statement of Mr. Olson appears to indicate that, "Designed to persuade by appealing to the emotions of the reader, rather than by stating any objective of pure reason; they are to be considered, at best, public relations material."

The issue referred to was Mr. Eckardt's recent statement to the effect that science "is a world of its own... and we can never know such an organism." This statement was made in the course of presenting an argument in favor of the principle of publicity of data. We also cannot see how the emotional involvement of the scientists in the election can be considered as public relations material. In this regard, we suggest that if one is interested in public relations, he should take regard of the "emotional" language completely devoid of emotional attributes. We are of the opinion that one is interested in public relations, he should take regard of the "emotional" language completely devoid of emotional attributes. We are of the opinion that the potential of publicity of data is not only in science, but in every sector of human activity. This latter statement appears to indicate that, "The potential of publicity of data is not only in science, but in every sector of human activity. This latter statement is, in turn, an indication of the importance to Lawrence women and an integral part of their college experiences."

Athletic Director Arthur C. Denney and men's recreational head Wayne Gray are to be credited with the initiation of this year's fine new sports program for Lawrence men and women. An extensive and varied recreational and outdoor activity system was established that could be considered another great accomplishment in Denney's 14 years in the athletic department. He has established, through this program, both an approach to the world of sports and only limited athletic ability and an unusual medium of advertising for Lawrence.

Mrs. Clayos Asks Chance For Scientific Solutions

To the Editor:

I am sorry that Mrs. Clayos makes no mention of the "emotional-scientific discussion on Scientific Solutions which appeared in the last issue of The Lawrentian. I respect her p.lan to look at it in the near future. In a way, it is a shame that she doesn't realize that it was put together for that purpose.
