Secret Is Out! Hirsch, Hooley, Johnson, Jung Are LWA Darlings

When Elaine Johnson, Mona Jung, Lena Hooley and Eva Hirsch appeared in colonial garb at the LWA sponsored Best-Loved banquet last night at the Masonic temple, the carefully guarded secret of who they were chosen as the four best-loved senior girls was finally out.

The banquet, which has been a Lawrence tradition for 26 years, was planned this year by Sue Edwards as head of the Ethos, co-salutatorian for LWA.

Honored guests were the members of the four girls, Mrs. E. M. Johnson, Mrs. C. G. Jung, Mrs. C. B. Hooley and Mrs. A. Hirsch. Other guests were Miss Nathan Proy, Mrs. Marshall Hulbert, Miss Elva Wingard and Miss Marylou Schumann. Miss Wilma Shuttle, dean of women, spoke on "Something Earnestly Desired" and Allan Mink, a member of the Liberal Arts club and other students

Snow Contest Set Tomorrow By Pep Group

"If the snow is right, we have our big plans for tomorrow afternoon," states Paul Kibbeary, co-chairman go on the pep committee. A winter design contest has been planned to replace the traditional snow sculpturing which was discontinued last year. In case the snow is not suitable tomorrow, the contest will be held on some subsequent Saturday.

The winter design contest is scheduled to take place for two hours in the afternoon and will be followed by a snowball fight. At present it is planned to serve refreshments in Main hall afterwards. Awards will be presented to winning teams.

"Taxes of those interested in the winter design contest should sign up as soon as possible," Kibbeary says. This year's teams need not be composed of members of Greek or co-ed organizations, but any group that has a certain interest in the campaign to educate the people.

Further plans of the pep com are a carnival between academic and extracurricular interests and camourades, artist series, division of student wage practices, college rules, racial discrimination, social functions and class attendance.

Ming Tells Of Writer, His Audience

BY JAMES SIMLEY

The composer for today faces many problems but none is more important than that of communication through his music with his audience. We cannot always do what we do not understand; music is but a reflection of the present day and it is that which this art communicates for some of the listeners, not to hostility, towards so-called "modern music." Yet we run some of the reasons for this lack of comprehension.

The basic elements of music—melody, harmony, and rhythm—are the same today as they have been for several centuries. It is the composer's concept of these elements which has changed.

An ancient definition of these elements might read something like this: a melody is a tune which we can grasp readily and even whistle to the air after the concert. Harmony consists of several simultaneous pitches projected to the ear. Rhythm is the pulsation of music and consists of regular metric units of a basic three-four pattern.

The contemporary composer is not concerned with melody alone; he is fewer with all the thematic elements today. It is more important to determine the duration by textural simplicity and expressive qualities. A good melody may have all these things and yet be one you would dismiss, whereas the composer of the century of the dissonant music at times has been concerned with creating an unsteady and continuous quality.
The dissonant music is often more interesting to the listener at a greater degree since the confused progression in the musical ideas at a greater depth.
Sororities Give Dances in Folk Festival

Hold Annual Affair Wednesday in Campus Gym; Begins at 7:30

Native dancers of nationalistic traditional groups will be featured at a reception, Friday, in the Campus Gym. The dances will be representative of the various tribes of the country.

Members of the sororities devoting the dances themselves, and through the ideas are taught by Niña Maxine Richardson, professor of physical education, and Miss Ruth Enzie, instructor in physical education.

Members of Delta Gamma will perform a series of Lithuanian dances. Kappa Alpha Theta will present Bosnian folk dances and Kappa Delta will give those of Eastern European origin. Other native dances that have been studied for presentation at the festival will be performed by Pi Beta Phi, of Hungary by Alpha Chi Omega and of the Philippines by Alpha Delta Pi.

The admittance office approved two students admitted on trial, would continue if parts of the costumes are made. Crepe paper cannot be used, but must be begged or borrowed.

Honors Committee Accepts 12 for Advanced Study

This year 12 seniors have applied and been accepted by the Honors committee to do advanced study in the field of their major. They are Jerome Papke, Richard Sears, Maurice L. Beach, Thomas M. Jensen, the other co-chairman of the committee. They were recently announced.

An honors student must have a grade point average of 2.25 or better to qualify. At the end of the second semester of his junior year he must send an application to the Honors committee, with a brief statement of his proposed thesis. If he is accepted he may begin work in his senior year.

In the senior year an Honors student is given a total of three or six hours credit. At the end of the year he takes a three hour oral examination in his subject. This is in addition to his Honors paper.

The exams committee recommends the degree they think the student deserves. The Honors committee considers their recommendation in the light of the student's work. Final decisions on granting of a degree are made by the faculty without the granting of a degree, however, honors membership is given. If a degree is not granted, the student may, upon petition of the faculty, have the grading of a degree. Degrees which may be awarded are Cum laude, Magna Cum laude, and Summa Cum laude.

Students who are interested may work on chemistry, studying the Solubility of Cadmium Ammonium Nitrate. His subject is Internation Economics. His subject is Planning and Freedom. Maurice L. Beach is studying in the field of chemistry with Paul V. Cundy, associate professor of chemistry of the student union.

Richard Sears is also a student who is working on chemistry, studying the Solubility of Cadmium Ammonium Nitrate. He is working with Vernon W. Roe.

Jerome Papke is working with William F. Bass, professor of English and European history. His subject is International Trade in the Interest of German Anti-Semitism.

Bill Reynolds, Oregon 40
Pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force!

Bill was an all around athlete. He chose football as his favorite sport, made the varsity team at Pomona Junior College and also at the University of Oregon.

The 1st Observation Squadron, Fort Riley, Kansas was Lieutenant Reynolds' first assignment. While there he met the future Mrs. Reynolds. They married a year later and now have two fine sons.

A Theta Chi, Bill enjoyed campus social life. Found that it eased the pressures of rugged athletics and his heavy study schedule in Personnel Management.

Upon graduation, Bill chose a future in the Air Force. He "does" his bit. Now trained as an Aviation Cadet he, in March, 1941, had won his pilot wings.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 24½, with at least two years of high school and provide the means career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force, Personnel Teams are waiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. They also get full details of your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Sine's Men Encounter Bucs In Year's Final Home Game

Undefeated in Conference Play, Beloit Has Crown In Bag

This next week will mark the climax of the busy schedule of Coach Johnny Sine's hot and exciting football team, as the high-flying Bucs of Beloit college tomorrow night on the home field and then Thursday when the contest is finally clamped on the Big Ten record set last year when the conference was founded. The team has compiled a record of 3-1-1 at Beloit, the only loss being to the Marquette University. The game will be a new home field game, which has proved difficult to date. As the team has Modular and Don Procter around, it seems to transcend the will-to-win and gives promise of being the finest game to date.

Knikes Journey To Rib Mountain
Iron Mountain Trip
Set for This Weekend

The Lawrence ski club topped off last week with a trip to Rib Mountain, Wausau, Sunday. Twenty-eight skiers boarded a bus at 7:30 Sunday morning and returned around that night with no mishaps.

Some of the week's other activities included a bus run to Calumet Wednesday for an evening of good skiing. There were also several entries to the ski trip; each entry was taken to the slope and Cordova yesterday. A forty minute color movie of Mount Snow was run, and was free to all.

The Rams tied it up at 228 points in 17 conference games. The Cagers defeated Cornell 64-44 last week.

In a roomh battle the Lawrence boys were coasting to a slow start last week and the Rams with 11. Karl Tippet 11. Don Robertson 10.

The Phi Kappa Tau retained its interfraternity ping pong championship, winning the season with a total of 21 points, outscoring Phi Delta 13. Auer Types Contributor Best in Years; Hopes for Better

By James Auer

As the automobile, refrigerator, and typewriter have been brought to the campus, so the Auer Types-Contributors' editors have brought in a new mood that is not quite as wondrous, but perhaps not without its charm. The Auer Types-Contributors, who have for some years past been the book review section of the campus paper, are now being run on a more professional basis. The editors have been brought in from the ranks of the students, and have had the opportunity to select a staff of their own choosing. In this way, the literary magazine is being made over to a more professional and less amateurish form.

The way of introduction, however, is still not quite as professional as it might be. The contributors, who are usually students, are often not very well-versed in the ways of the literary world. They are often too young to have read a great deal of literature, and they are often too inexperienced to be able to judge the value of a book. However, they are making progress, and they are beginning to learn the ways of the literary world.

The book review is a very important part of the literary magazine. It is the place where the readers can get information about the latest books, and where they can learn about the authors. The book review is also a place where the editors can express their own opinions about the books they have read. The book review is a place where the readers can learn about the latest trends in literature, and where they can learn about the latest developments in the literary world. The book review is a very important part of the literary magazine, and it is something that the readers should never miss.
