Well, Kids, It's Finally Here—The End of Atwood's Article

The beginning of this feature appeared in last week's Lawrence Journal, but due to an error at the Crescent, the whole story was not printed. In its place appeared the end of an article by Craig E. Thompson on the finances of the college. Neither had we known the mistake. We are taking the liberty of reprinting the entire article in entirety because of the many people who have requested us to do so. — Ed.

Who was I to argue? If they wanted Damon Horsey and Zither Blathers to play for the prom, who was I to argue? I get my discharge in June so I'll never see the new union anyway—ha ha, maybe not even by mistake. They're thirty thousand in the hole—when you're in that deep another way to go is to fill the bill — besides it's the only way to make it.

Cover the night of the prom. The whole gang all in the same room, practically swarming at the gluttony of it all and we just know we're going to fill the bill like they do on all my tents.

Comes the night of the prom. The whole gang all in the same room, practically swarming at the gluttony of it all and we just know we're going to fill the bill like they do on all my tents.

The babes about the campus are hotter get an urge to dance. We kind of float up the stairs and barge in on the floor, pool our chips and decide that we better get an urge to dance. So we take off and after several moments jigs ensue we pull up at the piano. We kind of feel up the steps and barge in on the floor. I'm a see bit jogged up but the music don't sound no different to me than some of last year's local yuletide rag-time. But the skirts really beautiful go for them in a big way and they say the stuff's gonna and all that and who am I to know? It's only the dolls who know the scoop on stuff like that, so I just cruise along for the ride.

We're just bugging into the third dance when they start giving out with that good-night sweetheart business. Everybody makes a rush for the door so we shove off too. We clinch aboard and sack down the Cruise-ly trail and I see by my Mickey Mouse that there isn't going to be no time for no good-night hugging and I begin to wonder if I didn't just get sold a bill of goods somewhere along the line. Maybe we shoulda sneak the dough in the union but like I say — it's no skin off my tenta.

For the Freshmen

With an Introduction to Maxie
The Celebrity List Is Complete

by Shirley Penrose

Maybe you freshmen didn't realize it, but one of the oldest members of your welcoming committee was absent when you arrived on campus last month. But believe this, that all the old-timers from freshmen up to professors noticed that Maxie wasn't around. Maxie being the not-so-young, but nevertheless beloved, red cocker spaniel who has for some years now been considered the campus mascot.

Maxie's college career at Lawrence began about nine years ago with that of his master, Charles Kittles of Appleton. Neither had been here long when Charles was called into the army, but Maxie stayed on, transferring his loyalty very much to his liking the many people who have requested us to do so.

So, you can see that the disappearance of Maxie was no small matter — no wonder you heard student after student asking in as to his whereabouts. And maybe you can understand now the general sigh of relief last week when the familiar figure was again seen indulging in his favorite sport of chasing sticks in front of the Delta house. It seems that Maxie had spent his summer vacation back with his old master, Kliefoth, who lives on Pacific Street. Because he was going to be away from town for a few days, Charles brought the dog over to the Delta and asked that he be kept there until his master's return.

Maxie Gilham to replace his idol. The following September, graduating Bill lives in the Navy V-12 unit which was then stationed here. But, alas, there came a time when they too disappeared from campus leaving forlorn pup behind. This time, just as the veterans and their families replaced the sailors at Lawrence, so they took over the vacated spot in Maxie's heart.

However, upon finding that a veteran's college life is anything but permanent, Maxie staked out claims at the Delta Tau Delta house and seemed to find fraternity life very much to his liking. His favorite pal that year was a Delta, Bob Fritis, and although Bob graduated Maxie was back the following September, choosing Bill until the inevitable happened again and Bill, too, went the way of all good Delts, and graduated last spring.

And Again Teas, Formals, Parties, Top Greek Doings

by the Clipper

Delt and Phi Delta record parties started off a weekend that must have been a real joy to all campus socialites, while those lovely Theta (and friends) were dancing into the wee small hours (12.30 A.M.) at the Kings of Pythias Hall, as they led off with the first of the round of fall formals.

Sunday afternoon found the Delt house filled with people as the Deltas had a tea. As with most teas, no tea, but that punch good! We were there for three hours. This week-end the Alpha Chi’s are giving their fall formal and to wind up the social calendar, there will be dancing to records at the Beta house.

At least, this week had its share of romance. Those who have the same fruits for 'happy-face' boys and girls they were the last time we put grog to wood-pulp are Jeanie Cuthmbrew and Jean Bartels, Jean Rudolfs and James Foeller: enaged. Bill Burnett and Betty Peterson and Mary Shorter; Bill Miehle and Chuck Bees of Carroll, engaged. Thus ends Cupid’s Column.

Our record collection was augmented with such danceable couples present. Our record collection was augmented with such danceable groups as the Kings of Pythias, the Deltas, the Alpha Chi’s, the Theta’s and some others.

The pledge class held their election last week and the voting went on into office: President — Marilyn Date; Vice — Sue Belknap; Secretary — Helen Sam-

There have been some strange things happening at the old Phi Tau house, this week. First there was a strange cat that strayed into the house. One of the fellows immediately adopted the animal and for several days there were strange cries in the night; then one day we all went to see how the cat was doing. It was found in the kitchen eating a piece of cake. It was quite an exciting experience, and we now realize our old friend (Turn to Page 5)

The Chapter wishes to tell all interested parties that our old friend, Don Petersen, secretary-treasurer, Marion Marling, scrapbook chairman, Nancy Preston; activity points chairman, Sylvia Brown; Marshalls, Tony Jaffa and Joy Weidler; co-social chairmen, Jane Taylor and Betty Hetter; homecoming chairman, Barh Arado.

On the social side, thanks to Dorothy Thompson and Karin Clossman, co-social chairmen, for our terrific pledge formal last Saturday at the K F Hall, and for our first social meeting with the pledge class last Monday. We have more pictures to take. We were all very interested.

Many thanks. First to Beulah Ritter, who introduced the pledges at the formal, and second to Jeanie Rye-

Letter to Student Body

Pusey Urges Generosity in LUC Donations

Giving is difficult. We are born with very little disposition for it, and for all of us to think up reasons for not giving than it is to learn how to give. But we must learn to do so, either for other reasons than for our own development. And each time we give, we make steps in this direction which win victories over our selfishness.

The Lawrence United Charities take us all to give. We should not do so, within the limits of our ability — happily, generously, and graciously. It is a good cause. It is a good opportunity. And we all need the practice.

As a matter of fact, the canvass is really working in your interest. It won't hurt to help him along. We can do it.

Need Win to Keep Pennant Hopes Alive

At 3 p.m. tomorrow afternoon on the athletic field Lawrence college will play host to the visiting Vikes of Grinnell. This game, which will mark the first home appearance of the season for the Lawrence gridiron, will be a highly important contest for both teams with the Midwest Conference rate.

In pre-season figuring both teams are rated in the top positions among the Midwest Conference. The Grinnell team is composed entirely of sophomores, and is expected to be a very strong ball team. The Lawrence team, which has been in practice all the past week and is in top form, will be a team to be reckoned with.

If both the Grinnell and Lawrence teams are rated among the top ten in the conference it is because they have shown the ability to play sound football. The Lawrence team has a strong line and a well conditioned team of backs. The Grinnell team is noted for its speed and fast running backs.

The Ginnell team that has an championship ambition should win this game. But it will be a hard fought game. The Grinnell team is well conditioned and has shown the ability to play outstanding football. The Lawrence team has the advantage of being able to have a well conditioned team and is expected to be in top form after a week of practice.

In the past week the Lawrence team has been in practice and has shown its ability to play football. The team has been working on its fundamentals and has been working on its blocking and tackling. The Lawrence team is expected to be in top form for this game.

The Grinnell team is also expected to be in top form for this game. The team has been working on its fundamentals and has been working on its blocking and tackling. The Grinnell team is expected to be in top form for this game.

The game will be of great importance to both teams. The Lawrence team is in the top ten in the conference and the Grinnell team is in the top ten in the conference. The team that wins this game will be well placed in the conference standings.
