Elena Nikolaidi Begins Lawrentian Art Series

"Time Labels Her As 'Smash Hit Of The Season'"

Elena Nikolaidi, one of the new sensations of the musical world, will be the Lawrentian community art series list at 5:30 Thursday evening, October 11, in the chapel.

Unknown and without advance fanfare, the Greek contralto came to America in January 1949, gave her debut recital in New York's Town Hall and achieved, according to Time magazine, "one of the smash hits of the season." She has since sung recitals in Boston, Chicago and Cleveland, and made her orchestral debut with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in November. She made her first appearance at Weidner recently as in Asia. Her Metropolitan debut was in 1951 as in the Verdi Requiem.

On October 8 the display of the forty silk screen prints will be hung at the lecture room of the art center. The other is a collection of silk screen prints. The show will be displayed until the end of the month. The paintings of five artists whose works are being shown are Surgeon, "North Shore," "Mates," "Red Line Aggression" are the paintings of Wedin. At Frat Houses

Thefts of $400 Without Arousing Suspicion | "Who Doesn't Like It Here?" Replies Czech Karel Stecker

Thieves totaling an estimated four hundred dollars, from three fraternity houses, were reported Friday night. Individual losses were as high as fifty-five dollars. In recent years similar occurrences have increased.

Mr. Walter, dean of men, said that these thefts are perpetrated by the students many times in previous years to take care of their property. This year a page in the Brokaw Handbook was devoted to precautions against theft, the subject was discussed in the first interfraternity council meeting, and memos have been posted on campus bulletin boards as further warning to the students. They have been advised to deposit large sums of money either in a local bank or the student bank. Small amounts should be placed where they will not be found easily by prowlers.

"Who Doesn't Like It Here?" Replies Czech Karel Stecker

BY SHIRLEY LEWIS

Do you like Lawrence? When Karel Stecker was asked this question, his quick reply was "Who doesn't like it here?" Perhaps in the rush and excitement of the first weeks at college you haven't met Karel. He is a sophomore, native of Czechoslovakia, and is here on a scholarship obtained through the Student Fund.

After desiring to come to the United States, Karel finally arrived here in January of this year. His residence during these three years consisted of study at the Masaryk university in Ludwigsburg, Germany. This had to be discontinued when the professors emigrated because of communist influence. He then attended another school in Ludwigsburg which was comparable to the freshman year at college with the exception that he remained there for only five months.

There were other differences between his five months as a freshman and the normal freshman year at college. What was said in class had to be said with discretion because of the presence of communists; the students were also obligated to belong to the Communist Youth Organization. Karel refused to do either and was dismissed from school.

During his school term he worked for the International Refugee Organization whose job it was to resettle and accommodate the refugees. When his arrival in the United States he worked in Connecticut for a year or more, and then worked for Juha Lager his lawyer. He then finished his studies and became a foreign diplomat.

Karel feels it was well worth the trip.

Missionary Speaks To SCA Group

Last Thursday evening the Student Christian Association held a discussion with Dr. Paul Harrison, missionary from China. This campus organization is planning to meet with all religious speakers and men dealing with problems of Hull House for faculty, students and men dealing with problems for ormsby women. The SCA holds dinner every Sunday evening at 7:00 in interests to the SCA and thus the Presbyterian church.

In Tangle With Knox Sat.

Detroit, Oct. 5. — The Michigan State University football team, in its third conference game, will face Knox College tomorrow afternoon in a 3:30 battle. The nation's number one team is expected to win, but Knox has had its best season in a decade last year as they won five of their six conference games having only one loss to Briton in a close battle, 15-7. Knox was hit hard by graduation, for they lost 14 lettermen including four all-conference selections.

An unexpected large number of girls turned out for the field hockey and tennis events scheduled for WRA this fall. In past years the girls had been allowed to try out for the boys, but this year the girls' teams have been formed. The freshman and sophomore boys' and two, the seniors and juniors with one against one. The games are scheduled to begin this week and run through October 17, weather permitting. Each team will play every other team for a total of twenty-one games. The eleven couples that signed up for the teams will play all their games at the same time. All games are posted in the campus gym and on the dormitory bulletin boards.

Upon the conclusion of the WRA games, the inter-sorority games will begin.

Lawrence's road trip to Grinnell, Iowa, was successful as it resulted in a 13-0 triumphing of an over- rated Grinnell college eleven. Lawrence fundamentally was 1-0 strong for Grinnell and this, supplemented by vicous downfield blocking, was also noted in the tabulation.

Wilmington Provides Aid In Draft Answer

2 Students Hold Down 1 Full-Time Job; Get Degree Plus Experience

Wilmington, O. — (I.P.) — A small Ohio college here has provided an answer for critics of college draft deferment policies which have been called unfair to young men from families of limited means, because a qualified boy may be deferred only if he "afford" the expense of a college education. While the nation has been debating the issue, Wilmington college has been busy setting up a new kind of work-study program which will enable students to earn virtually all of their college expenses. The plan was inaugurated on an experimental basis last fall with approximately 100 students getting invaluable employment experience as well as income sufficient to cover their basic costs of tuition, room and board.

Now that the idea has proven itself to both the college and the cooperating industries and business firms, it will be expanded this fall with openings for 200 more young men and women, according to President Samuel D. Mclntire. He points out that students in the program can complete degree requirements in four calendar years and graduate with their classes holding not only a college degree, but in addition, the equivalent of two full years of work experience.

In operation, the plan provides that two students hold down one full-time job. One works on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and attends classes on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, while the other student paired on the job has just the alternating schedule. The students are paid by the cooperating firms at the same rate as full-time workers, and have the advantage of living in dormitories on the campus and enjoying all the privileges of full-time resident students. While the majority are employed in industry, the student is free to select any course of his choice.

Whiting, Harvard-Yale Man, Replaces Zittau in French Dept.

BY JEAN CHRISTIAN

It has been whispered that we have a Harvard-Yale man on campus. This is true. He is Mr. Charles Whiting, new French instructor, of Boston, Massachusetts, who replaces Mr. Herbert Zittau. Mr. Whiting graduated from Yale University in 1943 where he majored in French and minored in journalism. He received both his bachelor's and doctor's degree from Yale. His doctor's thesis was done on Valery's early poetry and he had discovered some unpublished material.

He received his master's degree in history from Harvard University. As a graduate student at Yale, he taught French part-time for two years, thus equipping him for his present position. This is his first full-time teaching position.

When the war interrupted his career he became an intelligence officer in the army and went to France where he stayed until 1946. Before going into the army, he had planned on being a journalist, but on returning, his views had changed and he wanted to teach the language he had majored in in college. Recently he spent a year back in Paris doing some advanced study. He specializes in 19th and 20th century French literature, especially poetry. Because of his extensive research in this field he is well equipped for teaching French.

says Whiting, "I am enjoying myself here and like it very much..."

faculty offers students much

Amid the confusion and concerns of the past week, a thought comes to mind: what makes Lawrence unique? How can we afford to lose the essence of Lawrence for the sake of quantity? This week, a group of students and faculty met to discuss the principles of student-faculty education. The result was a plan for faculty to work with students in a collaborative setting to enhance everyone's educational experience. The plan involves increased communication between faculty and students, more group projects, and a focus on interdisciplinary studies. This plan also requires faculty to take the initiative in reaching out to students, encouraging them to participate in class discussions and activities. Overall, the plan aims to create a more dynamic and engaging educational environment for all Lawrence students.

week's chaos handled wisely

In situations of discontent and unrest, we've noticed, people often choose to react irrationally, without much alleviation of their problems; as we at a student body have just confronted, with such a situation, to which we much easily have responded with vomit. As mentioned above, the administration has taken a firm stance against disruptive actions. We are confident that, by maintaining a calm and rational approach, we can prevent the situation from escalating.

School pressures not essential, says dean fiske

Wednesay, May 5, 1948 - "College is essential to Wellesley life," said Dean of the class of 1938 at Wellesley.

Dean Charles B. Walters, responding to a survey of education conducted here last winter, finds that although he is "in favor of the decentralization of our educational system," the trend toward student-faculty relations and discipline, she continued. "The problem, of course, is that we are, in the main, a very young people. But the survey, conducted among students, teachers, parents, and a few students in the college, is an attempt to discover the reasons for college pressures. According to a Miss Jeanette McPherran, dean of the college, the pressures in college seem to be due to a variety of factors, such as the pace of college life. We need to slow down, in order to give students a chance to reflect on their experiences and come to terms with them."

Miss Benton, when thanking the students who participated, expressed the hope that "President Pusey will be glad to hear that the student body is united in their efforts to improve the educational system." She also conveyed the message that "the administration will consider all suggestions made by the students in this survey, and will take action as appropriate."
