Lawrence Angelic Is Conclusion

Drawn from Survey of Students

BY BOB TELLY

Well, the tabulating is done. We now have a pretty good idea of how the campus feels on various religious questions. But three things have to be kept in mind when we consider the results of this recent campus religious survey.

First, our sample is no more than a drop in the ocean compared to the total student body at Lawrence. Even the statements on the survey sheet had their limitations, in accuracy and indication. But many of these failings could not have been discovered until the sheet was submitted to the only possible reader — the student body.

Second, the committee was unable to get a response from all students living on campus; this was partly its fault, and partly theirs for not cooperating. Four hundred thirty-eight sheets were returned, about two-thirds of the resident students.

Third, it's true. We often deceive ourselves more easily than we really are, and we don't notice the natural tendency to do so.

On certain "prestige" questions (church attendance, belief in the supernatural), we don't really know it when given the opportunity. On some of the religious questions, on the other hand, we do.

Anyway, the results are in, and here they are:

We will record all student organ recitals at Lawrence college this year. These recordings will be broadcast in the evening on F.M. radio network this Thursday evening, February 14, at 8:00 p.m. The WHA, State Radio Station at Madison, has announced that it will record all student organ recitals at Lawrence college this year. These recordings will be broadcast in the evening on F.M. radio network this Thursday evening, February 14, at 8:00 p.m.

The outstanding fact apparent to me when I saw the results and looked over the comments and reactions on the survey sheets was that for many of us who claim we are religious, religion is merely a habit, and the student's religious faith when he came to college was not necessarily his own. Those who worked on the survey sheet had their share of vagueness and inadequacy. But many of those failings could not have been discovered until the sheet was submitted to the only possible reader — the student body.

Third, let's face it. We often deceive ourselves more easily than we really are, and we don't notice the natural tendency to do so.

Exam Exhausted Greeks
Limp Discovery Road

BY JINGO

Well, by now we trust you all have recovered sufficiently from your exams, and are inaugurating the long, weary nights flanked by the flicks, dates, Bible, etc. After all, you can't expect to have ALL of your exams in the same week, can you? Despite dire predictions by various campus prophets, we are sure that with a little hard work, you will soon be back to your usual routine of lunch, class, dinner, class, midnight talk, and class. We hope you had time to give some thought to the Religion in Life course this week. The more you think about it, the more you will realize that we are all too often guilty of forgetting, that which will help us face a meaningful life in the future.

Campus reporter life for the last week or so was practically at a standstill except for a few hardy souls like Delt Ed Grosse, who pinned their hopes on turning in the attic now) Those in and out of campus, and even the game room who want to hear Burton's hedgehog readings. 'Experiment' Offers Unique Way Of Living Abroad in Summer

by Leo Dashe

Have you ever dreamed longingly of spending a year abroad in another country and observing the ways of another country and observing how they live, and play? The realization of your dream may yet be possible. Overseas study will enable students to accomplish these things and work for worthwhile bonds.

A special program featuring a sound color movie about the "Experiment" will be shown in Science hall 200, February 14 at 7 p.m. This will acquaint students with this unique way of going abroad. Also included in the program will be the following comments by Carolyn Gottschall and Leo Dashe. Miss Gottschall is a former Lawrence student who has spent Experiment summers in Denmark and Mexico. Miss Dashe was an experimenter in Germany.

The purpose of the Experiment is a non-profit organization. It is to promote international understanding by having students actually live, not just travel, in a foreign country. Students living in a foreign family for one month is an integral part of an Experiment summer.

A student is usually placed in a home where one member of the family is a former Lawrence student. All the other American Examiners in the foreign country have been following the student. So that the whole group of Americans on the trip can get together for short bike trips and excursions, each home usually has a month home stay.

The month the Americans usually go on a camping trip. This trip can be anything from a canoeing trip in Holland to a cycling trip in France or a canoeing trip in the Andes. Since the foreign students usually live in a foreign family and have their own space of the country and have their own family, they can interact as much as they wish.

In 1952 the Experiment will send groups to almost all European countries, Scandinavia, Italy, Israel, Union of South Africa, Mexico, Mexico, and South America. American Examiners are not just tourists, but examineers and students in all the countries they visit. By observing the lives of the people in the foreign countries, the Examiners have gained knowledge of the foreign country and the foreign language.

The cost of an Experiment summer is in the neighborhood of $370 plus transportation expenses, but always proves to be worth the investment.

All the American Examiners accompany the Experiment and are interested in the language and culture of the foreign countries they visit. This trip can be anything from a cycling trip in France or a canoeing trip in the Andes. Since the foreign students usually live in a foreign family and have their own space of the country and have their own family, they can interact as much as they wish.

Overnight lodging is provided for by the Experiment. The Experiment is part of the military's plan to utilize civilian training, education and overseas manufacturing. The foreign students accompanying the Experiment are considered essential, and thus offers of employment are made in the foreign countries.

On Tuesday, February 13, a representative of the L. J. Muller furnace company from Milwaukee will be here to interview men who are interested in sales work. The L. J. Muller furnace company will have representatives here to interview chemistry and physics majors regarding possible positions with that company.

All students wishing to have interviews with these representatives should register with Mrs. Rice in the Dean's office as soon as possible.

CAKE PLANS CHANGE

In Student Election

A referendum to amend the Student Executive Council constitution according to a request of the members of the council. The referendum will be held beginning the election date of student body president.

The proposed change is to shift the election date from the last month of the school year to the beginning of February. The winning candidate would then take office the week following the election.

A correlated motion is also under consideration. If the first proposal becomes effective, student representatives to the council will be elected two weeks after the presidential election.

Qualifications for Draft Out: No 30-Day Waiting Period to Enlist

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, recently announced that Selective Service will not make any special provisions to give students 30 days after the end of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

General Hershey explained that the 30-day waiting period is not necessary this year as the 1951 amendments to the Selective Service law provide that students are boundless and are not deferred instead of having their duties postponed. They will therefore have ample opportunity after the completion of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

Many students have been confused, General Hershey observed, in differentiating between the I-S and II-S deferments. The II-S deferment is considered on the basis of class standing or qualification test, and is discretionary on the part of the local board. General Hershey explained. It may be granted by the local board each successive year, thus enabling students who meet the criteria to complete their schooling during the summer months. Students who have never before received a student deferment for the next academic year, or to whom II-S deferments shall be granted for the next academic year, must serve in the country after the completion of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

So you're thinking about transfer

Every year about this time there seems to be an epidemic of students wanting to transfer out of the Lawrence campus. At one time or another, every senior that I've talked to admits having thoughts of transferring out far-flung strategic interests.
