Give 6th Annual Show of Student Art Masterpieces

Titled 'Vernissage,' Paintings to be Sold From Now to June 8

The campus club closed its final Terminator against a clamber of Ormsby hall. The affair interested Miss Edna Wiegand, who is retiring from the faculty of Lawrence. Miss Wiegand came to the campus in 1923. She herself has served as secretary of the Campus club.

Mr. F. Theodore Clark served as master of ceremonies for the program which included singing led by Mr. Marshall Hulbert. One hundred ten guests took part. Mrs. Grace Solters read the third act of T. W. Robertson's play, "Caste," which she had to handle seven parts.

A full screen print of Main hall, a gift from Mr. Tom Dietrich, was then presented to Miss Wiegand. New officers for the coming year were elected. Mrs. Edgar Debye will be president, Mrs. John Me-

Mahon, vice-president, and Mrs. Stephen Ford, secretary-treasurer.

The Campus club has a membership consisting of the faculty and staff of Lawrence college, the conservatory and the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

The opening event of the exhibition is called the "Vernissage," a name which is borrowed from French schools. Vernissage means "exhibition day." The term is used because of the fact that often at exhibitions in French schools the paintings are so new that the color is still applying to the finishing touch is the varnish when the show opens.

At the Worcester art center show, many paintings will still be in the process of being hung when the show opens at four o'clock. Everyone is invited to refresh-

Enrollment for Next Year Measures Up To Prior Records

In a break down of the enrollment for next fall, Dean Marshall B. Hulbert stated that to date 197 freshmen have been admitted and that 520 of the present students have indicated they will return to Lawrence.

Last year at the same date there were 189 freshmen accepted, only the enrollment.

A Preview

Yes, many things have been accomplished by the cooperative efforts of student and administration this year, but there are some things that must be worked for still.

In the last days before exams—at least a week before the examination period in which teachers will guarantee no give-out tests. This will enable students with exams the first ten days to be free to help their classmates make the grade.

Third, longer library hours, especially during exam weeks.

Fourth, more homeroom studies, an area which has always seemed to be confused.

Fifth, the growth of student activities funds oxidation that the money which is intended for student group activities be used for that purpose. A large balance of excess funds at the end of the year is of no help to the groups which have had to plan through an unreasonably understudied budget.

Sixth, a better information to the students' health needs.

Seventh, the erection of a sign on campus to identify Lawrence for visitors. The pride of a school and want others to recognize it.

These goals, along with the good example of this year's school, should help make for a successful challenge for the future to come.

Hail and Farewell

As farewells are taken this June, Lawrence students and faculty will be saying goodbye to some of the favorite teachers on this campus.

Miss Edna Wiegand, associate professor of Latin, Greek and Italian, will be closing her teaching career after being a part of the Lawrence campus since 1913. Not only has Miss Wiegand been an active, up-to-date teacher, but she has also served in many extra-curricular capacities of the Committee on Administrations.

She was housemother at Russell Sages for ten years and was ever present at the skating rink.

Both the Lawrence Women's Association and Eta Sigma Phi clubs are to have Miss Wiegand as a member of their organizations. In 1930 Mortar Board cited her service by awarding her their highest honor.

Miss Wiegand was always ready with a word of consolation for homesick freshmen, an understanding smile and helpful advice for the bewildered junior. She will miss her ready wit and constant good humor. She has given boundlessly of her time and energy. Without her there will be an empty spot in every sphere of campus activity.

The school year is at an end, and the class of '52 about to graduate. It is still in doubt, I hope to be second! In reality, I am as happy as on the newfronts this summer and the green grass and blue skies, a gift that I have received in the form of a new home and an auto. It has been an enjoyable year, but it has gone by too fast.

I think the prospect of avoiding an all-out war with Russia will be much better if we get along in the world. It is likely that many people will get along better if we get along. I hope we can expect the president to leave us alone.

In Korea we can expect a continuous battle of wills and strength. The one with slight prospects of gain for either side.

The hope for the future is dim in every corner of Asia. In Indo-China, the French kolonialists have learned to be patient. Perhaps this is the way we will be operating.

The government can be expected to be more difficult to manage with the formation of joint committees; and a new union which has been formed here in Lawrence will give us some of the main stays of the college theatre and choir, as well as the backbone of a movement suggested by a new union from the Life conference. It is possible that any sort this year must include the foreign film series and the work of the social committee.

You may look back and see what's been done, and what lies ahead, just where you stand, before getting into the harness again. And as we review this year we must admit it's been a good one.

Goodbye, seniors. If the reign of the class of '53 can compete with yours, there should be a progressive and worthwhile year ahead for us all.

Around Lunchtime

By Bob Stankiewicz

The seventeenth, or a Friday night, is not alone the subject of this column today nor any other day of the week. It is the day when many of the members of the faculty come to the campus,

But all means of inquiring, I find, are necessary. I found so many of the members of the faculty come to the campus,

But all means of inquiring, I find, are necessary. I found so many of the members of the faculty come to the campus,
