Party, Auction To be Held

An artists’ party will be held next Sunday, May 2, at the Wescott art center. An auction of works of Appleton and area artists will be featured. The auction will begin at 2 o’clock in the afternoon. Auctioneer will be Charles Brooks, member of Lawrence university art department.

The exhibit and auction are being presented by the Appleton chapter of the United World Federalists. The Federalists are a non-partisan organization working to strengthen the United Nations to preserve world peace. Proceeds of the auction sales will be equally divided between the contributing artists and the local federalist chapter. To cover expenses, an admission charge of fifty cents per person is being asked.

Entries for the auction are invited from all local artists, and will be accepted as late as Saturday noon, May 1, by Mrs. Charles McClure, 825 E. Alton street, chairman of the artists’ party committee.

Other members of the committee are Charles Brown, Thomas Dietrich, Miss Ellen Stone, Mrs. M. M. Reddy, Mrs. Charles Dostal, all of whom are from Appleton, as well as Mrs. John Dever of Two Rivers, and Miss Joan Lindsay of Escanaba, Michigan.

Schedule Dietrich, Culver For Two May Art Displays

By Florence Arbuthnot

The month of May will see two one-man displays at the Art Center. One show is of twenty-five paintings by Charles Culver of Bellaire, Michigan, and the other, by a Lawrence artist. Tom Dietrich, will contain about twenty-five paintings, too.

Dietrich’s paintings are all water-colors, fifteen of which were painted in the Fox River Valley within the last month. The others are across around Torch lake, Michigan, very near to some of the scenes of Mr. Culver’s paintings. Made by Mr. Dietrich says that he is unable to give any statement on his work.

Mr. Culver’s work is represented in several museums, and public collections, and he has won several awards for his paintings. He says, “I am a nature painter.” I am not a botanist, zoologist, or entomologist though I study flowers, butterflies and moths. I am an artist. Being an artist I am attracted to nature’s objects and creatures for themselves than for the painting possibilities they suggest to my artistic sense. I enjoy nature’s freshness in the seasons of spring and summer; but I also enjoy the mood of winter and calligraphy of dead weeds, grasses, and plants pictured on a background of white snow. Live birds, butterflies, and moths I find beautiful and paintable; but if such creatures happen to be dead when I discover them, I find them no less fascinating to draw (and such models hold still wonderfully whilst I am drawing them).”

Nearly all of his paintings which will be displayed here concern plants, animals, and landscape, but if such creatures happen not to be dead when I discover them, I find them no less fascinating to draw (and such models hold still wonderfully whilst I am drawing them).”
