Students Give Ideas On Building Program

Editor's Note: With the construction of a new drama and music theater in mind, the Lawrence Development Fund has been soliciting ideas on what the building should look like. The students have been asked to give their ideas to the committee, which will use them in the construction process.

Drama Director Reveals Goals For New Theatre

One of the most important objectives of the Lawrence Development Fund is the construction of a new music-drama building. In a recent interview, F. Theodore Cloak, Drama Department, revealed the following goals for the building:

- Provides a home for the drama department.
- Offers a place for the students to practice and perform.
- Creates a more professional atmosphere for the drama department.
- Increases the number of students interested in drama.

"The most important aspect of having a new theatre-building," Cloak said, "is that it will give us a home of our own. Right now, the department is scattered among various buildings, and this will make it easier to stage productions."

A minimum of $1,100,000 has been raised by the close of the fifth week of active solicitation for the Lawrence Development Fund. The committee men and solicitors for the drive are approaching friends, alumni and industry throughout the United States for support in the drive to raise money for the construction of a new music-drama building. A man's dormitory and a sixth fraternity campus will be on the agenda for the campaign.

The campaign will last until the goal is attained through active solicitation. The drive will end at the close of the year.

Renowned Pianist Andor Foldes
To Present Artist Series Concert

The world famous pianist Andor Foldes will be the featured performer for the artist series Thursday, Nov. 29. Foldes has been soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, the Detroit Symphony, and the Salt Lake City Symphony orchestra; and he appears regularly in recitals in Carnegie Hall and Town Hall in New York.

A native of Budapest, he was a child prodigy who made his first public appearance when he played a Mozart concerto at the age of seven with the Budapest Philharmonic orchestra. During the next twelve years he studied at the Franz Liszt Academy of Music in Budapest under the direction of his master, Ernő von Dohnányi.

At the age of nineteen, he was awarded first prize at the International Franz Liszt Piano competition where he was judged by such men as Emil Sauer, Arthur Rubinstein, and Sir Donald Tovey.

A non-specialist, Foldes devoted his time to the arduous study of the classic, romantic, and modern composers.

During each year between 1933 and 1939 he travelled on concert tours over all Europe. In 1940, he made his American debut at the NBC network. He settled down in New York and became a citizen of the United States.

He returned to the Continent in 1948 for his first postwar tour of Europe and has made numerous trips since then to appear as soloist with the symphony orchestras of London, Paris, Amsterdam, Brussel, Berlin, Helsinki, Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Zurich, Geneva, Naples and Madrid.

In 1953, Foldes toured Southern Africa and appeared in 23 concerts in the Union of South Africa, Rhodesia, Kenya and the Belgian Congo, and he has just returned this fall from a second tour of those places.

For his recital at Lawrence he will perform:

- Sonate Grave—Allegro di molto e con brio
- Toccata, Aria and Fugue in C Minor
- Sonata Pathetique, Op. 13
- Two Preludes Debussy
- Ritual Fire Dance de Falla
- Maiden with the flaxen hair Kodaly-Foldea
- Song
- Viennese Clock

LWA to Sponsor
After Hours Sing
The Lawrence Women's association under the co-chairmanship of Carolyn Johnson and Pat Gode is sponsoring an after hours sing for all women students Monday from 11 to 12 o'clock in the Union lounge.

Collins, Sinye, and Ornshy will each present an original pop song and devotional song. These will be judged by the women members of the faculty. Prizes will be awarded for the winning songs.

After the singing, refreshments will be served.

This event is for the women students wishing to stay in one of the dormitories at night. A night of the singing may sign the way to cultural life in this room.

After the singing, refreshments will be served.
SEC Committee Presents Revisions
For Governing Constitution

According to the present Student Executive council constitution, amendments proposed must be published in the Lawrentian prior to the vote of the student body.

Because of the numerous inconsistencies and outdated policies in the constitution, it is now undergoing extensive revision by a committee elected by the SEC. The suggestions of this committee have proven so extensive that, rather than submit all the new amendments on the same ballot, they will be held in Lawrence Memorial Chapel Sunday afternoon.

The Lawrence College Concert Band, directed by Fred Schroeder, will perform the band music of the current list of the State Competition and, as the first feature of the clinic. The clinic is a public service for the music education programs in the public schools. Its purpose is to aid music educators in their choice of band music, by performing the significant new music publications of the past year. The clinic program may consist of any of the following:

- Concert band
- Jazz band
- Marching band
- Wind ensemble
- String orchestra
- Choral ensemble

The committee feels that an announcement in conjunction with the clinics is not necessary, nor has it been common practice in recent years.

Article II, Section V, now reads:

"The permanent officers shall be a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. The president shall be chosen by all-college election. The vice-president and treasurer shall be chosen by the Executive committee.""
Quality Stressed in Construction

The Artists Sketch Shows the Front of the forthcoming music-theatre building. The Lawrence Development Fund for Greater Service is collecting funds for the construction of the new building along with a men's dormitory and a sixth fraternity house.

BY JEANNE BEGAULKE

The construction of the new conservatory is an integral part of the development program. This new addition is being built with the intention of providing the facilities to complement the other buildings with the intention of bringing the students, faculty, and community together.

The new building will have three floors, including a basement which will serve as a storage area. There will be a modern organ, with a semi-circular seating area. The stage will be large enough to accommodate a full orchestra. The hall will seat approximately 250 people.

The equipment will be of the highest quality, including a bi-aural system for recording. The building will be equipped with modern recording equipment, allowing for high-fidelity recording and playback.

The construction of the new building is expected to be completed in the near future, allowing for the expansion of music education and performance at Lawrence University.

Fund Chairmen Express Need, Reasons for Support of Drive

A total of $940,000, over 50 per cent of the total of the Lawrence Development fund drive, was reported at the kickoff meeting on October 14.

Guy E. McCorison, general chairman of the campaign, and chairman of the university's obligations this year, stated that Lawrence is instrumental in making this an outstanding community by attracting world representatives through the Institute of Paper Chemistry, being attractive to business, and providing a community culture center for the area.

McCorison noted that the community is building with the intention of enrolling the facilities to complement the other buildings with the intention of bringing the alumni, employees, and students together. Some of the special features will include a modern listening room, with high-fidelity equipment, for concerts, lectures, and recitals.

There will be a seminar room for instrumental ensembles and a seminar room for modern theory, classrooms, and organ lessons. The organ will be available in the recital hall, two other new organ studios will be added, and the organ will be complete.

There will be a large dome for the faculty to use, which will serve as a room for concerts, practice rooms, and smaller rooms. The main portion of the books will remain in the college library.

The administrative offices and a large lounge for students and faculty will be available in the new building, along with a men's dormitory and a sixth fraternity residence.

The construction of the new building along with a men's dormitory and a sixth fraternity house is expected to be completed in the near future, allowing for the expansion of music education and performance at Lawrence University.

Lawrence Alums, Friends to Organize For Fund-Raising

Lawrence Development fund for Greater Service has enlisted the aid of alumni and friends throughout the United States to work on the drive. The organization will include close to 1,000 persons when it is completely organized. Guy E. McCorrigan, president of the Thimphany Company and a member of the faculty, will serve as campaign chairman. The drive is subdivided into committees which will contact individuals and industries throughout the Fox Valley, Wisconsin, and areas of the United States where alumni and friends of Lawrence live.

W. M. Wright and A. P. Remley are in charge of the advancement gifts committee. Under their guidance the committee solicited $940,000, or over half of the $1,800,000 total which the drive aims to raise, during the summer and in time for announcement at the kick-off meeting Oct. 14. The money was donated by 39 individuals and industries in Wisconsin.

The corporate gifts committee, under the chairmanship of W. E. Buchanan and E. H. Jennis, will contact the major industries in Wisconsin for donations.

R. H. Brady heads the public information committee which is in charge of preparing information and explaining the function and purpose of the drive. Earl Schroeder is acting as administrator.

The Wisconsin communities committee, coordinated by R. W. Mahoney are subdivided into six committees. Gifts from Appleton businessmen will be sought by a committee under the co-chairmanship of J. R. Knox Shades Vikes 13-0, Moves Closer to Conference Title

Stubborn Vike Line Worn Down by Running, Passing of Dave Maller

BY JIM MEYER

One defender's escape and a bad break was all the Vikes had against them last Saturday at Madison. It was enough to enable Knox to come out with a 13-0 victory.

Coach Bernie Heislet's Knox defense was on first place. Bill Reifenthaler played a hard fought game with the Midwest conference's three Thanksgiving's team.

The men in blue and white had just one defensive lapse in the first half and it cost Knox. The Vikes permitted only one pass completion in the entire game, and that was a first quarter touchdown.

With the exception of those two breaks, the Vikes held the favored "bushwhackers" to a standard. The men from Knox somehow found out that the Vikes gran-diose defense was pretty much a mirage. They were unable to get off even a long run up 100 minutes of game clock.

In the first 26 odd minutes of football, they were able to gain only 40 yards on the ground.

The completion of the game, a pass intercepted minutes of the half and a sophomore quarterback, Dave Maller, turned the apparent play into a 30-yard touchdown run.

With the ball on his own 45 yard stripe, Maller managed to run for 72 yards. Seeing that his receivers were pretty well befuddled up by the Vike defensive line, he pulled off a 10-yard run up.

With some beautiful blocking, which caught the Vikes flat-footed, Maller galloped over for the first touchdown of the afternoon. The conversion was good and the score stood 7 to 0 at the end of the first half.

The Vikes, spearheaded by Dick Rine, made a number of penetrations into Knox territory in the first half but were unable to capitalize on a "score". Knox got tougher near the end of the half and the score remained at 7 to 0.

In the second half, the O VIkes' Pat Brown, a sophomore from Knox, got the show rolling and gained some 200 yards in two quarters of football. However, Knox still had the share of good luck in getting the breaks to put her back in position in the fourth quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Junior Brown, a sophomore from Knox, intercepted a pass from Knox and returned it to the 30. The Vikes were to a standstill.

Knox's running back, sophomore Bert Frost, had a fine game. He scored Knox's 25 but this drive was broken by a pass interference penalty.

At the end of the game, the Knox boys won by a 5-2-1 record. The Vikes managed to tie the final dual meet of the season with the Midwest conference 5-2-1 overall record, going into this Saturday's meet.

The meet will be held on a three mile course at Washington park, Chicago.

for greater service

Up until recent weeks Lawrence students have had but a vague idea of the forces and plans of the Lawrence Development Fund for Greater Service. Since Dr. Knight's installation at the beginning of the Fall semester, we, the all art students, have realized the plan for a new theater-conservatory and housing for men are no longer distant pipe dreams of the Board of Trustees, ad and faculty and alumni. These structures are now tangible realities of the near future.

With the focal shift from paper plans to the campus itself comes a realization of what the meaning of the development fund is to the students.

The college is people, alumni, administrators, professors, and students. It is the students who are the actual raison d'etre of the institution. The success of any plan of development, and the completion of the educational, social, and cultural programs are therefore primarily for us that this vast plan has been formed.

In recent years Lawrence exercised great pioneering efforts to develop its unique curriculum and thus achieve the highest academic eminence, striving to become the best of liberal arts colleges. Though there is certainly no thought of halting this phase of development, as evidenced by the recent addition of Sophomore Studies to the curriculum, a great emphasis is being aimed at the need for new and more adequate facilities in which to carry on some of our social, cultural, and academic pursuits.

Those who know the inadequacies of the facilities of the college and have the sympathy probably sense the great importance of that new building. As the Art Center is visited by approximately 1000 people each week (and that is only during the academic year), these buildings will be of cardinal importance to the college.

Even those of us who will have graduated before the completion of the proposed buildings, will no doubt use them as alumni, or residents of this region. In any case, we'll still be the beneficiaries.

In SEC Oct. 15, Dr. Knight reported that of the $1,800,000 needed for the completion of the present plant, $940,000, half the sum, has already been raised by thirty-nine individuals and industries, most of whom have no direct stake in Lawrence College.

And with this kind of support and interest behind Lawrence we, the students directly benefiting from the plans, will give our wholehearted response to the campaign as it takes shape on the campus.

It is not modern art. It is the "impossible" in which the eye is not deceived. Of all European, a remarkable collection of 114 modern and contemporary works from 500 different areas is being written, gained at the expense of folly. But those pictures show virtuosity in form and detail, and a sense of the whole of the experience as a whole. There are two features that will be revealed by a master photographer. Precise composition can be a distraction in a particular piece, but the ruins of a window, the windows the poetry of "Solitude" in many ways, gained at the expense of solitude; but those pictures show virtuosity of their own kind. The Frenchman has made a composition of a whole; the Frenchman has made a whole. Now the whole is in its place, and a new world is about to be created.

Often the face and life of a picture are so intense that one cannot see past them.

The Lawrentian

from the idf's student committee

Our student committee for the Lawrence Development Fund has been set up for the purpose of keeping students informed and prodding this program for greater service.

Although we students form but a small part of the many people who belong to the family, our interest is important.

We students are not able to contribute large sums of money ourselves, but our interest in the potential of the school, as expressed by the Board of Trustees, and the Board of Directors, can be a great factor in the success of this program. The goal of our student committee and the purpose of this special group is to unite every student behind this program.

Soon we will be going home for the holidays. I am sure that our friends, our parents, all will be wondering where we have been contacted by various fund raising committees, will be asking questions about the potential of the school, and there will be a good chance for us to actively participate in this campaign by answering questions, and encouraging their support.

Coffee Call

BY JOSEPH SHIPLEY

"What did you think of the new course line-up this year?"

Joe, you cup on the table. We both just witnessed a performance of "Lystrastrale" and I didn't consider it a pertinent question.

"Well Joe," he says, "I enjoyed it on what's your opinion?"

I'll have to admit, I didn't understand it," I said, and so I offered to explain it to me.

"I thought it rather backwards, you know," he said, "it had been a long time since I saw a really good performance of this play."

"Well," I thought to myself, "the first thing that struck me was it gave our wholehearted response to the campus campaign as it takes shape on the campus."

To the Editor:

The recent decision of the Lawrence Development Fund to appropriate a portion of the funds granted to the institution for the purpose of financing a second campus will be heartening to the Lawrenceian as well as to the community at large.

It is hoped that the last three issues represent a first step in this direction.

Self-criticism, per se, is of little use, except in that respect, the student will quickly discover our respect for the true subject.

Often the face and life of a picture are so intense that one cannot see past them.
