Reporters, Democrats, Clash at Polls Wednesday November 2

By Hal Quinley

Which candidate has proven experience and maturity leadership?

Do we want the Federal government to exercise more or less control over our personal lives?

Is our country "going to the dogs"?

Is our government worth the money?

Whether or not you find the problems of politics confusing, it's hard to escape them. The November 2 election will largely determine which of the candidates for state and federal offices will control the great issues of the day. The candidates themselves are aware of the situation. Mr. Pinchot, the Republican candidate for governor, has said that the issues of the campaign will be: "...higher education, lower taxes, and social justice." Mr. Foster, the Democratic candidate, has said that the issues will be: "...jobs, education, and the fight against corruption and waste in government." The issues are numerous, but the candidates are aware of their importance.

Mr. Pinchot has commented that he is forced to conduct his campaign in a more partisan manner than is normal, and that opposing his stands will result in charges of "unfairness". Mr. Foster has warned that if he is elected, he will "...not be afraid to make decisions..." and that he will "...act on the issues..."

The candidates are aware that the issues of the election are important, and that the outcome will determine the course of the state for the next four years. They are aware that the issues are complex, and that the outcome of the election will determine the future of the state.

The candidates are aware that the issues of the election are important, and that the outcome will determine the course of the state for the next four years. They are aware that the issues are complex, and that the outcome of the election will determine the future of the state.
Sheila Meier Reigns Over Lawrence Homecoming

By MAC WEST

Homecoming 1960—noggy but successful! Festivities began with the Homecoming Pep Friday noon. After introduction of the Queen candidates, students and professors presented a short skit. In the following ceremony, Coach Bernie Heaton introduced the 1960 Viking football team, and then gave a short talk about the season thus far and our prospects for the game with Ripon.

Master of ceremonies Dad Grevem introduced the Homecoming Queen and her court. Sheila Meier was crowned queen with Helen Edelhoff and Ginny McKee as her attendants. After all the introductions, the four freshman pajama groups went on stage to present their cheer. After careful deliberation, the court selected First.

The pep rally and burning of the raft behind the Union capped off Friday's activities. The cheerleaders whipped up more Homecoming spirit and Queen Sheila encouraged everyone to be sure to see the football game against Ripon.

The rest of the night was spent in festive preparations of the floats and house decorations. All were finished even before the Viking football team, and then gave a short talk about the season thus far and our prospects for the game with Ripon.

The Homecoming parade went off as scheduled at 9:00 a.m. and continued its progress down College Avenue and out to Viking Field. Bella Theta Phi was the float champion. The Viking Room from 9:00 to 12:00. Afternoon activities will be held ticket only. Tickets can be purchased at the football game Saturday afternoon.

Float winners were: Phi Delta Theta, third place; Delta Tau Delta, second place; Alpha Delta Pi, second place. The Homecoming parade went off as scheduled at 11:00 a.m. most of them due to the water-soaked floats trundling down College Avenue and out to Viking Field. Bella Theta Phi was the float champion. The Viking Room from 9:00 to 12:00. Afternoon activities will be held ticket only. Tickets can be purchased at the football game Saturday afternoon.

The water-soaked floats trundled into the Terrace Room. The victory banquet was held under a tent set up on the terrace.

Candidates for Homecoming queen display their charms before the approving eye of Bill Block's camera. She are seated from left to right, Helen Edelhoff, Pauley, Francel, Sue Williams, Jean Maloich, Ginny McKee, and Sheila Meier. Standing are Margane Ryan, Connie Menninger, and Judy McManus. The Viking football team, and then gave a short talk about the season thus far and our prospects for the game with Ripon.

The Homecoming parade went off as scheduled at 11:00 a.m. and continued its progress down College Avenue and out to Viking Field. Bella Theta Phi was the float champion. The Viking Room from 9:00 to 12:00. Afternoon activities will be held ticket only. Tickets can be purchased at the football game Saturday afternoon.

Float winners were: Phi Delta Theta, third place; Delta Tau Delta, second place; Alpha Delta Pi, second place. The Homecoming parade went off as scheduled at 11:00 a.m. most of them due to the water-soaked floats trundling down College Avenue and out to Viking Field. Bella Theta Phi was the float champion. The Viking Room from 9:00 to 12:00. Afternoon activities will be held ticket only. Tickets can be purchased at the football game Saturday afternoon.

The water-soaked floats trundled into the Terrace Room. The victory banquet was held under a tent set up on the terrace.

Candidates for Homecoming queen display their charms before the approving eye of Bill Block's camera. She are seated from left to right, Helen Edelhoff, Pauley, Francel, Sue Williams, Jean Maloich, Ginny McKee, and Sheila Meier. Standing are Margane Ryan, Connie Menninger, and Judy McManus. The Viking football team, and then gave a short talk about the season thus far and our prospects for the game with Ripon.

The Homecoming parade went off as scheduled at 11:00 a.m. and continued its progress down College Avenue and out to Viking Field. Bella Theta Phi was the float champion. The Viking Room from 9:00 to 12:00. Afternoon activities will be held ticket only. Tickets can be purchased at the football game Saturday afternoon.

Float winners were: Phi Delta Theta, third place; Delta Tau Delta, second place; Alpha Delta Pi, second place. The Homecoming parade went off as scheduled at 11:00 a.m. most of them due to the water-soaked floats trundling down College Avenue and out to Viking Field. Bella Theta Phi was the float champion. The Viking Room from 9:00 to 12:00. Afternoon activities will be held ticket only. Tickets can be purchased at the football game Saturday afternoon.

The water-soaked floats trundled into the Terrace Room. The victory banquet was held under a tent set up on the terrace.

Candidates for Homecoming queen display their charms before the approving eye of Bill Block's camera. She are seated from left to right, Helen Edelhoff, Pauley, Francel, Sue Williams, Jean Maloich, Ginny McKee, and Sheila Meier. Standing are Margane Ryan, Connie Menninger, and Judy McManus. The Viking football team, and then gave a short talk about the season thus far and our prospects for the game with Ripon.

The Homecoming parade went off as scheduled at 11:00 a.m. and continued its progress down College Avenue and out to Viking Field. Bella Theta Phi was the float champion. The Viking Room from 9:00 to 12:00. Afternoon activities will be held ticket only. Tickets can be purchased at the football game Saturday afternoon.

Float winners were: Phi Delta Theta, third place; Delta Tau Delta, second place; Alpha Delta Pi, second place. The Homecoming parade went off as scheduled at 11:00 a.m. most of them due to the water-soaked floats trundling down College Avenue and out to Viking Field. Bella Theta Phi was the float champion. The Viking Room from 9:00 to 12:00. Afternoon activities will be held ticket only. Tickets can be purchased at the football game Saturday afternoon.
Harriers Top Ripon, 20-41; Face Carleton Tomorrow

A rainy, Homecoming morning proved no barrier to the Lawrence Cross Country Harriers as they rolled over Ripon. Five minutes after the meet started, a cold, steady rain enveloped Reid Golf Course. By this time, however, it was too late. The Harriers had taken the first half mile, the Viking grasshoppers pulled away from the pack, but Ripon's second string had caught the Harriers and by the time the rains were over, Ripon were in third, and Kappa Alpha were in second. The meet was won by Lawrence. The final score of the 1960 Inter-Sorority Conference was: Lawrence, 20; Ripon, 41.

Bill Stout won his fourth dual meet victory in the cross country. Stout, clocked after the first mile at 5:59, with Reid Williams. Stout's time of 18:48 was a big win. As far as the meet was concerned, they ran past Monmouth and the Independence were chosen to co-operate. Basketball practice begins Tuesday night and will be held each night at 7:00 until the football season ends at which time it will continue in the winter. All players who competed on the varsity or the freshman teams last year are at the moment placed on the varsity roster. They are not eligible for interfraternity basketball until they are removed from the roster. Invitations have been sent to all prospective invitations to practice. Final cuts, if they are needed, will be made before the interfraternity season opens. This enables all players who perhaps had planned to play with their fraternity a chance to see if they can help the varsity or the non. If a player decides after the first few practices that he cannot help the team, he is still eligible for frat ball.

The plan is a good one. Players of varsity caliber should not be playing in the inter-fraternity league. The purpose of the league is to give those not of varsity caliber a chance to play. I hope that all those men involved will at least give the team a try. You owe much to the school.

Thanks to Jack Smecker for the headline. This is not supposed to be a carping column, but after last week's predictions were made with the consultation of a board of experts and their own personal electronic computer, I have simply presented the decisions. Honestly, I really think Lawrence will win, but I say this way I can't lose.

A New Plan

Lack of depth has hurt Lawrence in many sports, but nowhere has the loss been as great as in basketball. Playing with a team of seven or eight players, as has been done frequently in the past, is like entering a football game with 10 men. So many times Lawrence has lost basketball games because the starting five just ran out of steam and there were no adequate substitutes to relieve them. This may be particularly appalling here because good ball players have played inter-fraternity or inter-league league ball while the varsity has been terribly undermanned. Coach Bora has come up with a good plan that may stop this to some extent if all the eligible ball players co-operate. Basketball practice begins Tuesday night and will be held each night at 7:00 until the football season ends at which time it will continue in the winter. All players who competed on the varsity or the freshman teams last year are at the moment placed on the varsity roster. They are not eligible for interfraternity basketball until they are removed from the roster. Invitations have been sent to all prospective invitations to practice. Final cuts, if they are needed, will be made before the interfraternity season opens. This enables all players who perhaps had planned to play with their fraternity a chance to see if they can help the varsity or the non. If a player decides after the first few practices that he cannot help the team, he is still eligible for frat ball.

This plan is a good one. Players of varsity caliber should not be playing in the inter-fraternity league. The purpose of the league is to give those not of varsity caliber a chance to play. I hope that all those men involved will at least give the team a try. You owe much to the school.

Thanks to Jack Smecker for the headline. This is not supposed to be a carping column, but after last week's predictions were made with the consultation of a board of experts and their own personal electronic computer, I have simply presented the decisions. Honestly, I really think Lawrence will win, but I say this way I can't lose.

A New Plan

Lack of depth has hurt Lawrence in many sports, but nowhere has the loss been as great as in basketball. Playing with a team of seven or eight players, as has been done frequently in the past, is like entering a football game with 10 men. So many times Lawrence has lost basketball games because the starting five just ran out of steam and there were no adequate substitutes to relieve them. This may be particularly appalling here because good ball players have played inter-fraternity or inter-league league ball while the varsity has been terribly undermanned. Coach Bora has come up with a good plan that may stop this to some extent if all the eligible ball players co-operate. Basketball practice begins Tuesday night and will be held each night at 7:00 until the football season ends at which time it will continue in the winter. All players who competed on the varsity or the freshman teams last year are at the moment placed on the varsity roster. They are not eligible for interfraternity basketball until they are removed from the roster. Invitations have been sent to all prospective invitations to practice. Final cuts, if they are needed, will be made before the interfraternity season opens. This enables all players who perhaps had planned to play with their fraternity a chance to see if they can help the varsity or the non. If a player decides after the first few practices that he cannot help the team, he is still eligible for frat ball.

This plan is a good one. Players of varsity caliber should not be playing in the inter-fraternity league. The purpose of the league is to give those not of varsity caliber a chance to play. I hope that all those men involved will at least give the team a try. You owe much to the school.

Thanks to Jack Smecker for the headline. This is not supposed to be a carping column, but after last week's predictions were made with the consultation of a board of experts and their own personal electronic computer, I have simply presented the decisions. Honestly, I really think Lawrence will win, but I say this way I can't lose.
Frustrated Political Science Major Teaches Psychology at Lawrence
BY HAL QUINLEY

“I’m just a frustrated political science major who was discovered by the enigmatic method under which things were being learned.” This is the way Mr. David Foulkes, a 1960 alumnus of the Lawrence faculty, describes his presence in the field of psychology.

Starting in his first freshman assignment, Mr. Foulkes takes physics, psychology, social psychology, and experimental design. His main interests lie in the field of social psychology, including cognition, thinking, problem solving, learning, and more complex activities of the human mind.

A 1963 graduate of Northwestern College, Southfield, Pa., where he received his B.S., Mr. Foulkes received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago this December.

“I spend practically all my time trying to keep a day ahead of my students and finishing my thesis.” Mr. Foulkes commented. “About all that’s left to do on the paper now is to get it in proper form.”

The actual writing of his 150-page thesis took two months, but for much of the time he was compiling an experimental evidence which he says is the most important part of his regular courses—since the number of 150 pages in the paper was just as good in technical detail even Mr. Foulkes could not remember it.

His thesis concerns the study of periods of dreaming and not dreaming. "By attaching electrodes to the brain, electrical waves can be recorded which will give an indication as to whether or not the person is dreaming. He’ll usually spend an hour and a half in a dreamless sleep, after which the period between dreams becomes shorter as he dreams themselves longer."

According to Mr. Foulkes, a person tends to lose his eyes in the same manner as if he were actually experiencing the situation. "Thus, if a person is dreaming about a tennis match, his eyes may move back and forth in accordance with the movement of the ball. Or if he dreams of a tall building, they will move up and down in actual perception."

Doing original experimental work, Mr. Foulkes also attempts to show the idea that a person can dream at 7:00 A.M. even during deep sleep.

Washington House Holds Open House
A timely Halloween motif will greet guests coming to the Washington House Open House on Sunday, Oct. 30 — 3:30 to 5:00.

Mr. Foulkes said of the event, "Mr. Foulkes also attempts to show that a person can dream at 7:00 A.M. even during deep sleep."

The actual writing of his 150-page thesis took two months, but for much of the time he was compiling an experimental evidence which he says is the most important part of his regular courses—since the number of 150 pages in the paper was just as good in technical detail even Mr. Foulkes could not remember it.

His thesis concerns the study of periods of dreaming and not dreaming. "By attaching electrodes to the brain, electrical waves can be recorded which will give an indication as to whether or not the person is dreaming. He’ll usually spend an hour and a half in a dreamless sleep, after which the period between dreams becomes shorter as he dreams themselves longer."

According to Mr. Foulkes, a person tends to lose his eyes in the same manner as if he were actually experiencing the situation. "Thus, if a person is dreaming about a tennis match, his eyes may move back and forth in accordance with the movement of the ball. Or if he dreams of a tall building, they will move up and down in actual perception."

Doing original experimental work, Mr. Foulkes also attempts to show the idea that a person can dream at 7:00 A.M. even during deep sleep.

While Jack Trabert was in college he had some definite career ideas. He knew what he wanted—a job with a payoff for good judgment and hard work.

With a B.S. in Business Administration from the University of Nebraska, Jack knew he could look in many directions. And he did. He talked to 20 companies. And then in August, 1957, joined Northwestern Bell, in Omaha, Nebraska.

His chance to show what he could do was not long in coming. On his first assignment Jack came up with answers that made it possible to handle long distance calls made at night in the Omaha area with less force and equipment that was needed under the old system. This resulted in a $10,000 annual saving.

Next, Jack worked on a training and development program for "mark sensing"—a new method for mechanized processing of long distance charges.

Today, Jack has an important role in planning and developing telephone facilities to keep pace with Omaha's ever-increasing need for long distance services.

Jack puts it this way—"If a guy can keep his average up, there are places to go in this field. A man doesn't have to wait around for opportunity to knock—he has all he can handle right from the start."

"If you want a job in which you're given a chance to show your stuff, and held strictly accountable for your decisions, right from the start—then you'll want to visit your nearest Office for literature and additional information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men available for such work,"—Frederick K. Eames, President, American Telephone & Telegraph Co.
The Lawrence Story

By STEPHEN HALL

The only building of the second decade of Lawrence College, Main Hall, contained all recitation rooms, dormitories, the chapel, and later President Shute's "Room Number One." The recitation rooms were le-cated on the top floor and it was here that the famous literary societies, Phoenix and Philalacean, were founded in 1883. The meetings of these rival societies were attended by the "top of the coming," and there was a serious beginning with prayer and the college song, with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
and with prayer and the college song,
We're for Kennedy

After much serious thought, after considering both sides of the upcoming national election, The Lawrenceian Editorial Board has decided that John F. Kennedy is the man most qualified to lead the United States in the opening year of the 60's. The following discussion is divided into two parts, one on domestic policy and the other on foreign policy.

DOMESTIC POLICY

Past Congressional actions have demonstrated that the confidence of the American people no longer lies in the Republican party and its policies. The years of stagnation and inaction in these critical times is a burden that the United States, even in its wealth, cannot afford. Executing executive and legislative branches would issue a unity of direction and a forthrightness of policy.

The federal government in the hands of one party is not enough. A strong leader is essential. It is accepted that the Democratic party has been the one party that has not only issued a program but has also shown the capability of executing it. This capability means that this party is not in a disadventagous position. Economically, Russia is in a position of weakness and isolation that augments the advantage of the United States. The reason for this has been the lack of planning and direction from the top. The policies of Kennedy and his party are designed to speed up the progress of the United States as compared with that of Russia is ever-increasingly put forward. Economically, Russia is ill-suited for the contemporary world of foreign affairs and constructive diplomacy.

A strong leader is essential. It is accepted that the Democratic party has been the one party that has not only issued a program but has also shown the capability of executing it. This capability means that this party is not in a disadventagous position. Economically, Russia is in a position of weakness and isolation that augments the advantage of the United States. The reason for this has been the lack of planning and direction from the top. The policies of Kennedy and his party are designed to speed up the progress of the United States as compared with that of Russia is ever-increasingly put forward. Economically, Russia is ill-suited for the contemporary world of foreign affairs and constructive diplomacy.

The Democratic party has brought about the greatest increases in human rights legislation and the greatest social programs. It has given us the greatest freedom in all of our foreign policies.

We feel that this is a time for action in all fields of endeavor. With more governmental action, we can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money. We can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money.

With more governmental action, we can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money. We can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money.

FOREIGN POLICY

America's prestige has been steadily declining in the past eight years. The shattering of hopes of months has shown the unfor-tunateness of the Republican administration in foreign affairs. America's size, its wealth, its power, must play a dominant role in the world. We must be a positive force. The policy of the present administration has been a defeat for America, as we have been too often too weak for its own good. The Democratic party has always been active in the world. We must be a positive force. We have been too often too weak for its own good. The Democratic party has always been active in the world. We must be a positive force. The policy of the present administration has been a defeat for America, as we have been too often too weak for its own good. The Democratic party has always been active in the world. We must be a positive force.

The Democratic party has brought about the greatest increases in human rights legislation and the greatest social programs. It has given us the greatest freedom in all of our foreign policies. The Democratic party has brought about the greatest increases in human rights legislation and the greatest social programs. It has given us the greatest freedom in all of our foreign policies.

We feel that this is a time for action in all fields of endeavor. With more governmental action, we can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money. We can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money.

With more governmental action, we can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money. We can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money.

The Democratic party has brought about the greatest increases in human rights legislation and the greatest social programs. It has given us the greatest freedom in all of our foreign policies. The Democratic party has brought about the greatest increases in human rights legislation and the greatest social programs. It has given us the greatest freedom in all of our foreign policies.

We feel that this is a time for action in all fields of endeavor. With more governmental action, we can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money. We can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money.

The Democratic party has brought about the greatest increases in human rights legislation and the greatest social programs. It has given us the greatest freedom in all of our foreign policies. The Democratic party has brought about the greatest increases in human rights legislation and the greatest social programs. It has given us the greatest freedom in all of our foreign policies.

We feel that this is a time for action in all fields of endeavor. With more governmental action, we can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money. We can expect increased taxation, which is necessary to raise money.