Ten Years of Varied Exhibits Now Completed in Worcester Art Center

By ANNE SHAFER

A mere two years ago the Lawrence College Art Department moved into its brand new, custom tailored quarters in the newly constructed art center. The new building was financed by a $260,000 donation from Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wherry. Recognized as the first of its kind in the Midwest, the center includes a large, air conditioned art gallery, designed furnishings, glassed-in artist's work rooms, and a spacious display area hung with watercolors, was at an exciting place.

In the last ten years this gallery has been taken by close appraisal by the people of the city and region and many-faceted metal constructions and paintings

REGIONAL ARTISTS

The display calendar has consistently contained a wealth of local and regional art. Every two years a survey show has been held and this year the tenth annual "Survey Art of Wisconsin" show will be held. The 1958 exhibit was held in the art center's first decade. The sculptors and painters. The survey shows have been especially interesting in that they have given the students an opportunity to hang their work with other professionals. The display of Wisconsin and Michigan Water Color Society traveling shows has been regular. The best of the past one-man shows has been the "Meet the Artist" series, which has included such notable artists as Charles H. Wherry, Charles H. Steffel, Jr., and Charles H. Wherry, Jr.

The display calendar has also contained from time to time shows of the student art of Lawrence College and its predecessor institutions. The student show which climaxed the art center's first decade, many of these going on to graduate study, was one of the most exciting of the annuals. The department chairman, most of the faculty person to round out course during its four years at Lawrence Art Center. The teachers and students at the Worcester Art Center have not ceased much attention to the coming and going of the building's tenth birthday. For perhaps they have celebrated in the most appropriate fashion by doing something that they spend there with the pursuit of art.

Vikes Win 3 Home Games; Meet Olies, Carls, Next

It was certainly true that Lawrence would have one of the most successful basketball seasons in years. Three victories in four starts over the holidays boosted the Vikes record to five victories and three defeats. The victory squad won a thrilling 79 to 74 victory over Carroll, and swept both their games in the first Lawrence Holiday Festival, beating Lake Forest and Elmhurst. The Vikes led the tables at the hands of Beloit 69 to 39. The Vikes return to Midwest Conference play tonight against a good Lake Forest team 70-60, and then rally in the second half of play. Lawrence held on to the lead throughout the first five minutes, but the Bucs gradually increased their lead to an 8-6 lead with two minutes remaining. Led by five points, shot by Jim Hackworthy, Lawrence missed the shot and gave up a 10-8 lead to the Bucs. They never trailed after that. Lawrence raced to a 39-31 half time lead. The Vikes finished strong in the second half and took a 29-28 half time lead. The Vikes finished strong in the second half and took a 29-28 lead into the half. In the second half, the Vikes held on to a 22-22 tie. The game saw the Vikes' balanced offense. From that point they coasted to the 1959-60 victory.

Time for Re-examination

A stir that is being felt all over the nation has sent out ripples that have been felt at Lawrence College. Many student and several faculty members have voiced their concern and dismay at the film, "Operation Abolition," which they believe distorts the picture of the recent student movement in several ways. The film has caused protest and indignation by clear-headed students, teachers and other citizens in many areas of the nation where it has been shown.

"Operation Abolition," which treats the demonstration by college students in San Francisco against hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee, purports to show the influence of Communists in organizing youth to participate in the movement. Students, teachers and other citizens have criticized it for its distortion of facts and omission of facts. An excellent editorial, "Forgery by Film," by clear-headed students, teachers and other citizens has been run together . . . to give the impression of mob action, which is wholly unjustified. It cannot be asserted, of course, that no student or teacher did not participate in the movement. The story of the movement has been told by the Lawrentian, and the film shows students displaying defiance after the police had dispersed the crowd. . . .

Two basic claims of the film are distortions. One is that the students were riotous and attacked police. Paul Jacobs, a well known and respected lawyer, has been critical of the film's conduct; and they were led by students who were in on the original plan. The second distortion purports to show that the students were.ModelSerializer
