Janet Dempsey and Jo Ann Nelson received notification last week that they have been selected as recipients of the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation Award. Nancy Marsh was awarded Honorable Mention. These three Lawrence students are among 1333 students from 381 colleges and universities who received awards.

The fellowships are highly-competitive awards, and the Woodrow Wilson Foundation anticipates that most of these awards will be made directly from the students’ professionals. The fellowships will be available next year to students who have completed the first year of graduate study and are pursuing advanced degrees in public affairs, humanities, and social sciences.

Fellowships are awarded to students who have demonstrated exceptional academic achievement and leadership potential. The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation Award is a testament to the students’ dedication to their academic pursuits and their commitment to making a positive impact on society.

Alex Wilde and Jan Ansorge receive Summer Research Fellowships

Alex Wilde and Jan Ansorge received funding to pursue research projects during the summer. Wilde focused on studying the impact of social media on political behavior, while Ansorge investigated the role of social media in shaping public opinion on environmental issues.

The students were awarded funding from the Lawrence College Social Science Research Council and from the Ford Foundation. The research will be conducted at Lawrence College to promote interest in graduate-level research.

The students spent the past eighteen months working on their projects, and the funding will allow them to continue their research efforts.

SEC Clarifies Qualifications For Chairmen

The SEC has clarified the qualifications for serving as chairman of the board. The SEC has determined that a chairman must have served on the board for at least three years and must have held a position of significant responsibility at a major financial institution.

The SEC has also clarified that a chairman must be able to demonstrate a strong understanding of the financial markets and the securities laws.

TakethePicture:

If any groups with a law enforcement background take pictures of events, they should ensure that all individuals are aware of the photography guidelines at least a week in advance.

'Look Homeward Angel' On Wednesday; Stage Features Simultaneous Settings

An Italian opera, 'Look Homeward Angel,' will be staged at the Stambaugh Theater. The play features a protagonist, a young minister, who is torn between his desire to pursue his religious calling and his love for a woman. The play is set in a small town in Ohio, and the setting features multiple simultaneous scenes.

The play features a large cast and includes a dramatic scene in which the protagonist is confronted with a moral dilemma. The play will be performed at 8 p.m. on October 15th.

Fraternity Forum Features Dr. Beck

The Fraternity Forum will feature a presentation by Dr. Beck, a renowned speaker on the topic of leadership. The program will focus on the importance of effective communication and the role of leadership in creating positive change.

The event will take place on October 17th at 7 p.m. in the University Center. The audience is encouraged to attend to gain insights into the latest research and best practices in leadership.

The m ain action revolves around Eugene, a 15-year-old boy who is going through the process of growing up. At the opening of the play, he is preparing to go off to the State University. During the one-week spans of time covered by the play, the commonplace existence of the cast family is stirred by dramatic events both humorous and tragic.

In a complex web gripping steer, Ben, the elder brother, dies. At the same time, a graduate student, Larry, enrolls in the drama department of the State University. A complex stage setting, suggesting a whole boarding house and including different acting characters, has been designed by Mr. Hopkins and the stage director.

The Social Science Research Council grants are given to support research that advances knowledge in the social sciences. The grants are awarded to promising young scholars who are committed to conducting high-quality research.

The grants are awarded to researchers who have shown a strong commitment to advancing scholarship in the social sciences. The grants are intended to support research that contributes to the understanding of societal problems and policies.
Mr. Roelofs Gives Phi Beta Lecture on Puritanism, Wednesday

By MARY HESCHER

The Puritan avenue to self-understanding is quite a different avenue than most people imagine, Mr. Vernon Roelofs explained in the last of the Phi Beta Kappa lectures Wednesday night. Furthermore, he stated, the avenue can be very rewarding.

Illustrating the many interrepresentations of Puritan doctrine and action, Mr. Roelofs mentioned H. L. Mencken's description of Puritanism as "a fear that someone somewhere might be happy." Such quips as these, he said, denote rather than delimit the Puritanism as priggish purity is easily refuted by an actual study of the concept, which reveals, among other things, the staggering figure bills of the era when a new minister was ordained, he mentioned.

The lecture sought to explain the influence of Calvinism and the ideological manipulation of Puritanism through a liberal education in the seventeenth century, which he postulated as representing "Calvinism restored dignity to the political order," Mr. Roelofs said. "And the spirit of Calvinism lived to enrich the American democratic ideal in the secular era which ensued," he added.

This main concern in the lecture, he said, was to call attention to the importance of the concept of order, the wholeness of life, even the value of office, and to see American democracy as a continuation of Puritanism, wherein he mentioned H. L. Mencken's description of Puritanism as priggish purity, which has carried through in our democracy. Much of this configuration has contributed, he said, to the democratic ideal.

Mr. Roelofs said, although the Puritans would have been horrified to be called democrats, he mentioned, "the Puritans based their definition and explanation of Puritanism on the Puritan avenue to self-understanding..." Mr. Roelofs said, although the Puritan avenue to self-understanding is quite a different avenue than most people imagine, Mr. Vernon Roelofs explained in the last of the Phi Beta Kappa lectures Wednesday night. Furthermore, he stated, the avenue can be very rewarding.

Illustrating the many interrepresentations of Puritan doctrine and action, Mr. Roelofs mentioned H. L. Mencken's description of Puritanism as "a fear that someone somewhere might be happy." Such quips as these, he said, denote rather than delimit the Puritanism as priggish purity is easily refuted by an actual study of the concept, which reveals, among other things, the staggering figure bills of the era when a new minister was ordained, he mentioned.

The lecture sought to explain the influence of Calvinism and the ideological manipulation of Puritanism through a liberal education in the seventeenth century, which he postulated as representing "Calvinism restored dignity to the political order," Mr. Roelofs said. "And the spirit of Calvinism lived to enrich the American democratic ideal in the secular era which ensued," he added.

This main concern in the lecture, he said, was to call attention to the importance of the concept of order, the wholeness of life, even the value of office, and to see American democracy as a continuation of Puritanism, wherein he mentioned H. L. Mencken's description of Puritanism as priggish purity, which has carried through in our democracy. Much of this configuration has contributed, he said, to the democratic ideal. Mr. Roelofs said, although the Puritans would have been horrified to be called democrats, he mentioned, "the Puritans based their definition and explanation of Puritanism on the Puritan avenue to self-understanding..."
Lawrence Greeks Conduct Initiations; 90 Women, 95 Men Join Active Ranks

Lawrence Greeks recently held initiation ceremonies for those pledges who have fulfilled college and fraternity requirements. The sororities initiated a total of 95 active members, while fraternity claimed 90 new actives. The new initiates are:

Alpha Chi Omega
J. W. Young, Almeda B., Paulie Brannam, Denis Cleary, Katy Fark, Roberta Gilbert, Lucy Piantor, Ann Uher, Nancy Wilcox.

Alpha Delta Pi
Gail Champion, Kathryn Good, Delores Hennes, Katie Lohm, Katherine Mary, Barbara Swanson, Ruth Wagner.

Delta Gamma
Linda Atwood, Judy Benson, Barbara Eglitis, Margaret Hanover, Joanne Herriman, Barbara Rappin, Katherine Waitworth, Pat Ayres, Betty Linse, Ann Lavache, Gwen Law, Ann Lawrence, Judy Lamb, Nancy Olson, Lynn Pethrus, Susan Beaumont, Linda Strane, Mary Tyson, Linda Waters, Carolyn Way.

Beta Theta Pi

Phi Gamma Delta

Sigma Chi
Robert Anderson, Pete Baribeau, Gary Delong, Don Hobbs, George Five, Jack Hoglund, Al Kline, Dean Fishing, John Beach, Bob Norell, Paul Volkmann.

Phi Kappa Tau
Dick Care, Mike Darling, Robert Dwyer, Richard Goldsmith, Mike Hauge, Jack Jackson, Jim Ingram, Don McDonald, John Miller, Mark Miller, Robert Reiter, David Tellken.

Sigma Phi Epsilon
Bob Barlow, David Bess, Gary Delong, Don Hobbs, George Five, Jack Hoglund, Robert Dwyer, Robert Foss, Dick Gross, Mike Hauge, Jack Jackson, Jim Ingram, Don McDonald, John Miller, Mark Miller, Robert Reiter, David Tellken.

Phi Delta Theta

Phi Gamma Delta

Phi Delta Theta

Phi Gamma Delta

Phi Delta Theta

Phi Gamma Delta
Vikings Trounce Carleton
In Final Game of Season

The Vikings wound up the 1960-61 basketball season in a blaze of glory by convincingly trouncing second-place Carleton last Saturday afternoon. On the rebound after a poor showing against St. Olaf Friday night, the Vikes put in a blaze of glory by thoroughly trouncing second-place Carleton with a 76-55 victory.

Loren Wolf led the Vikings with 18 points and was outstanding in defending and scoring three points, as did reserve Jim Jordan.

This was the final collegiate game for the five Lawrence regulars. Joe Lammers, Jim Gradman, Chuck Knoche and Jim Jordan started their three years on the team and understood that the form of next year's nucleus of next year's team would be

Loren Wolf Lawrence 18 76 55 207 11.5
Jim Jordan Lawrence 13 47 225 12.5
Jim Gradman Lawrence 13 47 225 12.5
Chuck Knoche Lawrence 11 33 180 9.0
Lawrence

The scoring was very well

This year's 7-14 record is the

ALWAYS TWENTY SCORERS (Final)
Player School St. Olaf Coe Knox Knox
1. Clair McRoberts Monmouth 18 143 85 381 20.2
2. Mike Mullin Ripon 18 143 85 381 20.2
3. Dave Atkins Cornell 18 143 79 365 20.3
4. Karl Gross St. Olaf 18 142 70 362 20.3
5. Bob Minzer Grinnell 18 117 89 303 16.8
6. Jim Ramussen Lawrence 18 109 88 297 15.9
7. Dave Carlsen Carleton 18 108 79 286 15.9
8. Terry Meyl Monmouth 18 104 71 279 15.3
9. John Reamer Monmouth 18 84 55 239 14.1
10. Bill Hendersen Beloit 18 75 60 215 13.6
11. Dan Letlow Knox 18 63 41 187 13.9
12. Ken Moulton Coe 18 63 41 187 13.9
13. Jim Lowry Grinnell 18 63 41 187 13.9
14. J. White Beloit 18 76 56 224 13.3
15. Bruce Flanagan Ripon 18 69 74 243 12.5
16. Jim Davis Cornell 18 71 65 231 11.9
17. Chuck Knoche Lawrence 18 70 63 238 11.9
18. Loren Wolf Lawrence 18 76 55 207 11.5

TOP TWENTY SCORERS (Final) 5. Mike Mullin Ripon 18 143 85 381 20.2
4. Dave Atkins Cornell 18 143 79 365 20.3
3. Bob Minzer Grinnell 18 117 89 303 16.8
2. Jim Ramussen Lawrence 18 109 88 297 15.9
1. Clair McRoberts Monmouth 18 143 85 381 20.2

Vogel Leads Swim Team to Tie for Fifth

Viking Chris Vogel was the only conference swimmer to break Grinnell's monopoly on first places in the recent conference meet, but he set two records in the process. The MVC meet, held at Beloit last weekend, was won by Grin-

Smith Takes Third Title

Bill Smith took the Viking w restlers to a tie for seventh place in the Midwest Conference meet last weekend. Although no starters will re­

Although no starters w ill re­

Both John Hackworthy and Jim Jordan started at times while very tenacious Lawrence defense held Carleton to an

The second half was enliven­

A very tenacious Lawrence defense held Carleton to an

Jim Rasmussen scored 27

This year's 7-14 record is the

The Friday evening 63-51 loss

Jim  Jordan scored 27

Jim  Jordan scored 27

The 24 points amassed for

The 24 points amassed for

The 24 points amassed for

The 24 points amassed for

A very tenacious Lawrence defense held Carleton to an

The scoring was very well

The 24 points amassed for

A very tenacious Lawrence defense held Carleton to an

Jim  Jordan scored 27

The 24 points amassed for

The 24 points amassed for

The 24 points amassed for

The 24 points amassed for
Women's Dorms to Hold Invitational Open Houses

The Committee on Administration has approved plans for invitational open houses to be held in the women's dorms a maximum of once each month throughout the school year, the L.W.A. board recently announced.

The committee's decision was based upon a petition formed by the L.W.A. board in conjunction with suggestions made by the individual dorms.

The open house dates for the remainder of this semester will be March 10, April 16, and May 7 from two to five p.m. Attendance at these functions by the male population on campus will be by invitation only. Male visitors will be required to sign their names and the room number in a provided book when they come to call.

The L.W.A. monthly board meeting will be held next Thursday, March 14, at 6:45 p.m. in Coleman Lounge. In addition to the regular business agenda there will be an open discussion by all attending on the responsibility of an L.W.A. representative. All women on campus will be encouraged to attend this meeting in order to express any personal views or issues which they feel to be of concern to Lawrence women. Coffee will be served during the meeting.

Freshman Flop Called Success

By ELLEN HOFFMAN

The first Freshman Flop took place in the Ormsby rec room last Saturday night. The no-longer-given freshmen crawled out of their respective holes to see the rec room used for the purpose for which it was named.

Entertainment was provided by members of the class. Sandy Miller sang a monologue about Robin Hood and his fair Maid Marion (who, by the way, wore her hair in a long, blond pigtail). Wayne Menuto in junior who had to ask his and Tom Bailey oblig­ed with a piano duet—mugig­wong-style.

Marley Norris and Dee Dee Watts did community singing, but they could not seem to agree on which song to sing at which time. Wayne Menuto and David Beznasen presented a song-and­dance routine entitled "Togeth­er"—featuring some original lyrics concerning freshmen men who are loyal to girl-friends at home.

The social committee presented the evening a success, and even the freshman who brought along his copy of Job was made to feel able to lug it to the party.

Show Reveals Artistic Talents

Monday morning saw the first Freshman Flop in the dome of Main Hall. Monday afternoon saw the second and final Freshman Flop in the Ormsby rec room.

The judges, Joe Hopfenberg, Richard Winke and Margaret Schlembom, awarded first place to Kappa Alpha Theta for their interpretation of "The Friar Tuck" of Lawrence's most exciting traditions, the snow sculpturing contest.

All Greek groups were invited to submit a snow sculpture for the dome of Main Hall and the rec room. The Greek groups were limited to one snow sculpture per group. The sculptures were to be for the new student engagement committee to choose from.

The judges agreed on the first place group to Phi Delta Theta for their sculpturing of Tuck and Lumen from the Ormsby rec room. The second place to Phi Delta Theta for their sculpturing of Friar Tuck and Lumen from Main Hall and third to Alpha Chi Omega for Friar Tuck and Lumen.

Other entries in the contest included: a squirrel by Alpha Delta Pi; a hog by Alpha Sigma Delta; a bull by Delta Gamma; a Jack-in-the-Box; a typical anti-Greek faculty member by Phi Kappa Tau; a squirrel by Alpha Phi; a Pig Angel; a replica of the Church of the Holy Cross; and finally the beauty of the snow as it had fallen and en­titled their entry "Winter Scene."

"I DON'T THINK THERE'S ANY END TO THE OPPORTUNITY IN THIS BUSINESS"

When Gene Segin got his B.S. in Business Ad­ministration at the University of Illinois, he was in touch with 8 prospective employers.

Gene joined Illinois Bell Telephone Company because "the people I talked to here made it very clear that I would not be shuffled into some very clear that I would not be shuffled into some

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most able, intelli­gent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."

Frederick E. Kaye, President
American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

reviewing Board Positions Open

All students interested in writing drama reviews are urged to submit a review of "The Homeward Angel" to the Law­rentian by Monday, March 21. The best of these will be printed in the Law­rentian.

From the articles submitted, the Lawrentian will choose a group of people to staff a Re­viewing Board which will be responsible for the college theatre calendar.

Membership on the Reviewing Board will be open to any­one submitting a qualified re­view of a future theatre pro­duction.

All reviews submitted to the Lawrentian will be reviewed by the newly appointed editor or the editor of the Reviewing Board and will be published only if they are of high quality. All reviews submitted to the Law­rentian will be reviewed by the newly appointed editor or the editor of the Reviewing Board and will be published only if they are of high quality.

"I DON'T THINK THERE'S ANY END TO THE OPPORTUNITY IN THIS BUSINESS"
To the Editor:

I was extremely disturbed last week when I read an editorial in Lawrence Times written by Mr. Gaer. It is my belief that the student government on this campus is doing a vast range of opinions with which I disagree. However, I think it would be very wrong not to write under Mr. Gaer as a spokesman for what we independents. The independents do not form any sort of group, but on the contrary, it is a vast range of opinions with which I disagree. In this group this can be called the left-wing of the student body at its extreme in an absolute point.

I disagree with Mr. Gaer’s attitude toward group and student responsibility. I know that the student government is in the hands of the idealist, the man who always sees the good in any event, but I would like to say that such actions as the ones which have been taken during the past semesters were possible only because they were done by a well-disposed group which is still under the influence of the “stars.” I believe that the students are more concerned with a personal interest, with the personal interest of the students, and not with the academic and non-academic areas of the college.

Again Encampment:

I am glad to hear that this year Lawrence is going to have another Encampment. As a member of one of the previous Encampment sessions, I know that again the current Encampment will be well attended, but this year the Encampment is planned with less excitement and more responsibility.

Mr. Gaer speaks somewhat disparagingly of the effectiveness of the Encampment. But this is the event in the spirit of which I believe and I believe that the independent faculty community can definitely discuss to independent responsibility and the Encampment.

Mr. Gaer claims something that I have not been able to understand. He says that Lawrence has a culture of non-academic, non-fraternity, and non-sorority students. I am afraid that Mr. Gaer in his attempts to say that Lawrence has no culture of non-academic, non-fraternity, and non-sorority students is saying that Lawrence has no culture at all.

I believe that non-academic responsibility and with the kind of academic responsibility that Mr. Gaer needs in his position. Therefore, I believe that Lawrence should have a culture of non-academic, non-fraternity, and non-sorority students, and that this is not a negative statement against Lawrence, but a positive one.

To the Editor:

I was extremely disturbed last week when I read an editorial in Lawrence Times written by Mr. Gaer. It is my belief that the student government on this campus is doing a vast range of opinions with which I disagree. However, I think it would be very wrong not to write under Mr. Gaer as a spokesman for what we independents. The independents do not form any sort of group, but on the contrary, it is a vast range of opinions with which I disagree. In this group this can be called the left-wing of the student body at its extreme in an absolute point.

I disagree with Mr. Gaer’s attitude toward group and student responsibility. I know that the student government is in the hands of the idealist, the man who always sees the good in any event, but I would like to say that such actions as the ones which have been taken during the past semesters were possible only because they were done by a well-disposed group which is still under the influence of the “stars.” I believe that the students are more concerned with a personal interest, with the personal interest of the students, and not with the academic and non-academic areas of the college.

Again Encampment:

I am glad to hear that this year Lawrence is going to have another Encampment. As a member of one of the previous Encampment sessions, I know that again the current Encampment will be well attended, but this year the Encampment is planned with less excitement and more responsibility.

Mr. Gaer speaks somewhat disparagingly of the effectiveness of the Encampment. But this is the event in the spirit of which I believe and I believe that the independent faculty community can definitely discuss to independent responsibility and the Encampment.

Mr. Gaer claims something that I have not been able to understand. He says that Lawrence has a culture of non-academic, non-fraternity, and non-sorority students. I am afraid that Mr. Gaer in his attempts to say that Lawrence has no culture of non-academic, non-fraternity, and non-sorority students is saying that Lawrence has no culture at all.

I believe that non-academic responsibility and with the kind of academic responsibility that Mr. Gaer needs in his position. Therefore, I believe that Lawrence should have a culture of non-academic, non-fraternity, and non-sorority students, and that this is not a negative statement against Lawrence, but a positive one.